OFFICIAL CHRONICLE. MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE. MAYOR OF BOSTON

LOUISE DAY HICKS
PRESIDENT, CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 69

MONDAY, JANUARY 3, 1977

NO. 1

Mayor's Objective: Reduce Energy Consumption

In a move expected to save the city $3.4 million annually, Mayor Kevin H. White has directed all city departments to reduce energy consumption by 20 percent as of January 1.

In a letter sent to all department heads on December 17, Mayor White said: "... the energy crisis is very real and the solutions are very limited. Reduced consumption is the only effective means of off-setting energy costs for the City of Boston."

Use of electricity, gasoline, diesel fuels, and heating oil cost the city $17 million in Fiscal Year 1976.

The largest energy consumers are the School Department, the Public Works Department, Health and Hospitals, Library Department, Parks and Recreation, and Traffic and Parking.

"The need for a sound energy conservation policy is obvious," Mayor White said. "Oil that sold for 23 cents a gallon in 1973 now costs 45 cents; the price of electricity has doubled and gasoline prices have jumped 53 percent during the same period.

"Moreover, the recent increase ordered by the OPEC nations in the price of foreign oil, on which we so heavily depend in this region of the country, will impact our energy budget severely in the coming months."

The Mayor left determination of specific methods of obtaining the 20 percent reduction in energy consumption up to the individual department heads; but offered the technical expertise of the Energy Office of the Boston Consumers' Council to assess consumption patterns and make recommendations for cuts.

Vice Mayor Edward Sullivan will oversee implementation of the order and will monitor energy consumption monthly, department by department.

Within City Hall, a "de-lamping" program is already underway which will result in the removal of all but essential lighting fixtures in work

CITY RECORD ANNIVERSARY

The City Record, the present official chronicle of municipal affairs, will be celebrating the seventy-ninth anniversary of its publication on January 6, 1977. On January 6, in 1898, when it was first published, it was known as the Official Gazette of the Executive Departments of the City of Boston.

The paper was edited under the direction of the Board of Municipal Statistics, Edward M. Hartwell, Secretary, in the old City Hall on School Street, and was printed (as excellently as it is today) by the City of Boston Printing Department. In the old days (1898) a single copy of the paper was only 5 cents and a yearly subscription $2. If one would compare the present-day cost (15 cents per single copy or $5 per year) he would realize the city has been quite fair to its subscribers by not increasing the cost of the publication again, nor does it intend to at this time.

and common areas. This move is expected to save $15,000 to $20,000 in City Hall alone over the next year.

"All department heads will be held personally accountable for energy costs reductions," Mayor White said. "This is an extremely serious effort and the goals outlined are realistic.

"The Library Department has already shown what can be accomplished when sound conservation methods are employed," Mayor White added.

From 1973 to 1975, the main office and branches of the Boston Public Library reduced steam consumption by 46 percent and electricity consumption by 30 percent.

Departments will be expected to cut vehicle use, reduce temperatures in heated areas, and review use of lighting and business machines.

"I am calling for the full cooperation of every department, especially the School Department, to help us meet our objective," Mayor White added.

"Early press reports of our plan have resulted in a tremendous response from the public," said Richard A. Borten, executive director of the Boston Consumers' Council. "Many citizens have called to point out additional means of cutting back on energy use in public parks and municipal buildings.

"We want to encourage their continued participation and ask that they continue to make note of wasteful energy use and call us at 725-3324," Mr. Borten said.

THE EXECUTIVE

"An executive has practically nothing to do except decide what is to be done; to tell someone to do it; to listen to reasons why it should not be done; or should be done by someone else, or done in a different way; to follow up to see if the thing has been done; to discover that it has not; to ask why; to listen to excuses from the persons who should have done it; to follow up to see if the work has been done properly at last, only to discover that it was done incorrectly; to point out how it should have been done; to conclude that as long as the work has been done to let it stay as it is; to wonder if there is not time to get rid of a person who cannot do a thing right, but also to reflect that he probably has a wife and 10 children, and that anyway someone else would be just as bad if not worse; to consider how much simpler and better the work would have been done if one had done it himself in the first place; to reflect sadly that one could have done it right in 20 minutes and that, as things turned out, one has had to spend two days to find out why it has taken three weeks for someone else to do the work the wrong way."

METRO HEALTH COUNCIL ELECTIONS

Citizens who wish to take part in a program which allows consumers to play a role in shaping decisions about regional health services have until 5 P.M. on Thursday, January 6 to become candidates for the Central Metro Health Council.

Application forms must be filed by that time with the Health Planning Council for Greater Boston in Brighton. Candidate application forms are available from the Council at 46 Leo M. Birmingham Parkway, Brighton, or by phoning 787-5800.

A total of 25 seats for both consumers of health care and health "providers" (such as doctors, nurses, and administrators) are open in the January election which will take place on January 19.

All candidates will have the opportunity to make a brief presentation about their interests in health and what changes they would like to see made in the health system prior to the Metro Health Council elections.

Consumers may apply for seats in the categories of: below median income, French-speaking, black, over age 65, or "unrestricted."

RENOVATION STARTED ON FORMER STATLER HILTON

*Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White
December 21, 1976.*

Recently, the closing of the Statler Hilton Hotel hit Boston like the death of an old friend.

Those with fond memories of this great hotel mourned its passing and many of us, quite honestly, worried about the psychological and economic impact of its demise on our great city.

Today, I am pleased to announce that our old friend has been revived... and by still older friends... the Saunders Family of Boston.

The Saunderses have purchased the Statler Hilton and the Statler Office Building. Renovation of the hotel will begin immediately and service, on a limited basis, should be restored within three months.

The purchase is particularly gratifying for two reasons:

Health professionals may apply in these categories: professional school; physician; mental health; mental retardation; nurse; nursing home; and home health agency.

Purpose of the Central Metro Council is to provide consumers an opportunity to meet with local providers of health care and public officials to determine the distribution of health manpower, funds, and resources in this area.

Any resident of Boston, Brookline, Chelsea, Revere, or Winthrop may apply for election.

Elections will be conducted by the Board Nominating and Elections Committee of the Health Planning Council for Greater Boston which is chaired by Robert Morgan of the Dimock Community Health Center in Roxbury.

The Health Planning Council for Greater Boston has also announced that it will hold a public hearing on Wednesday, January 12, at 8 P.M. at Aquinas Junior College in Newton. Purpose of the hearing is to allow all interested citizens to comment on the Council's application for continuation as the federally designated Health Systems Agency for the Greater Boston area.

First, because of the new owners... the Saunders Family. This is the second generation of a Boston family to have made a significant financial commitment to the city.

Well-known for their restoration and management of two other Boston hotels... the Lenox and the Copley Square... they have a record of providing quality hotel service to a city which expects nothing less.

Their involvement in this project guarantees that the new Statler will be a first-class hotel, an asset to our convention and tourist business and a productive, tax-producing business for Boston.

Second, the purchase of the Statler comes at a time of economic uncertainty for Boston and is a vote of confidence by the business community in Boston's future.

It shows that there are Bostonians who continue to have faith in the city, and it attests to our inherent economic vitality and essential stability.

A NEW YEARS' MESSAGE FROM ROBERT A. PANORA, REGISTRAR OF MOTOR VEHICLES

I am pleased to report that through midnight, December 14, 1976 there were 90 less lives lost in motor vehicle accidents than during 1975 on the same date. Your observance of the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit has had much to do with this gratifying situation.

I ask that each of you act in a manner befitting the spirit of safety in all your driving. Only in this way can we continue to prevent the tragedy of the loss of life on Massachusetts highways and keep 1977 the year of joy and not sorrow.

Only sober and alert drivers using reasonable speeds can cope with bad weather, snowy and icy roads. Therefore, I ask you to be courteous and considerate of other drivers and pedestrians, to refrain from driving after drinking, and to use seat belts and other restraints.

Together, let's make this a happy year for all highway users and their families!

DELINQUENT TAXPAYERS RESPOND

$216,000 in real estate taxes owed to the city has been paid to Boston's collecting division since the city started its campaign to collect $50 million in unpaid real estate taxes.

Kathryn Frazer, coordinator of the delinquent tax collection unit, speaking optimistically said that the amount received to date could be an indicator that other delinquent taxpayers who were not notified by the initial mailing would now realize that the city is serious about collecting back taxes.

A FEW DAYS LEFT

Stuck for gifts? Crafts Caravan is bursting with handmade items and ideas for giving. A project of Boston Community Schools, the Crafts Caravan is parked at City Hall Plaza — now until January 7 and is open from 9:30 A.M. to 5:30 P.M., Tuesday through Friday. Stop by to browse or find that special but elusive gift!

HUB RECEIVES FUNDS FOR SCHOOL AID

Boston got another advance on state aid December 22 — $11.2 million in school funds.

The money was not due to be paid until December 31, when all the cities and towns will get their share.

Governor Dukakis approved the advance payment which was authorized December 22 by the Executive Council.

The state has been periodically making local aid payments to Boston earlier than the scheduled dates, according to the governor's office. The advances total about $20 million.

REGISTRY ADDS NEW FOREIGN LANGUAGE EXAM

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Robert A. Panora has announced that the written examination for a Learner's Permit to drive has been prepared in the Chinese language and is now available at all Registry offices upon request.

This makes a total of nine (9) foreign language written examinations offered by the Registry of Motor Vehicles. The other foreign language written examinations available are: French, Spanish, Portuguese, Italian, Greek, Polish, Armenian, and Finnish.

Colligan, M.D., for consultation and treatment services, during the period September 9, 1976, through at least November 5, 1976, at a cost not to exceed $8,820. If contract runs beyond November 5, 1976, consultant agrees to give two weeks notice before termination.

The contractor shall:

1. Provide consultation to core evaluation teams regarding children with behavior disorders for design of education and therapy programs.

5. Provide liaison with psychiatric services of mental health centers, clinics, and hospitals as well as Massachusetts Department of Mental Health and Massachusetts Department of Special Education.

6. Collaborate with school personnel on programs that will aid and foster primary prevention of behavioral disorders.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be provided under this contract and the expertise of the contractor in providing such services, it is the determination of the School Committee that public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD J. WINTER,
Secretary.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston and upon the recommendation of its Board of Superintendents, I request your authorization for the award of a contract, without public advertising, to School Volunteers for Boston, Inc., during the period October 1, 1976, through June, 1977, at a cost not to exceed $57,850.

The contractor shall upon the basis of his training and experience enter upon the elementary and/or secondary level of the Boston public school system to train middle- and low-achieving high school students to tutor students in the middle and elementary schools in reading. The tutorial manual, "Two-Way Tutoring," by Barbara Hoffman, will be made available to the four target high schools. The program will be part of a research project using standardized testing conducted by the program director.

Because of its experienced personnel, staff, and unique resources in recruiting, training, orienting, supporting, and supervising volunteers in the Boston schools, it is the determination of the School Committee that the public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

This agreement is to be executed, without an appropriation, under the provisions of G.L. ch. 44, s. 53A and is subject to the receipt of funds under grant from Emergency School Act, Special Project Grant No. G000-76-054063.

ALTERATIONS AND REPAIRS

DEAR SIR:

Under date of September 30, 1976, Judge Arthur W. Garrity ordered the following:

"To prevent use of unsuitable space for classrooms at Dorchester High School, it is ordered that the city defendants reopen the Whittier School as soon as feasible for use as an annex for Dorchester High School; and that until the reopening of the Whittier building an extended daily school session be put into effect at Dorchester High School."

The court further ordered that no classes shall be conducted in auditoriums, basements, etc., and that the work necessary for the reopening of the John Greenleaf Whittier School be started as quickly as possible.

I did feel that this was an extreme emergency and I, therefore, solicited invitation bids for plumbing work and heating and ventilating work. Bids were received in my office on October 5, at 12 o'clock noon, and were publicly opened and read. The bids that were received were as follows:

Plumbing: Consolidated, Inc., $14,876; George Robbins & Co., Inc., $17,490; William H. Chellman Co., Inc., $17,940; Patrick F. Russo Co., Inc., $18,780; Edward H. Marchant Co., Inc., $18,900; D & F Plumbing & Heating Co., Inc., $19,340.

Heating and Ventilating: J. A. Marino Automatic Heating Company, $2,534; Sellers Oil Burner Service, Inc., $3,900; Kelco Company, $4,360; Enterprise Equipment Co., Inc., $4,890.

I, therefore, seek your permission to award the contracts, without public advertising, to the lowest responsible bidders, namely:

Plumbing — Consolidated, Inc., in the amount of $14,876.

Heating and Ventilating — J. A. Marino Automatic Heating Company, in the amount of $2,534.

Thank you for your consideration of these matters.

Very truly yours,
ANTHONY L. GALEOTA,
Chief Structural Engineer.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I request your approval of my action in awarding a contract, without publicly advertising, for repairing severe damage to the boys' and girls' toilet rooms in the Solomon Lewenberg School. This vandalism occurred on Saturday morning, September 18, 1976.

Whereas time was of the essence to have this school in operation for Monday, September 20, 1976, I did deem this an extreme emergency.

Approval has been secured by the Department of Labor and Industries that this is an extreme emergency.

I did solicit three bids from responsible bidders, without publicly advertising, and they were received as follows:

L. H. and J. J. Jacobs Company, 153 Lamartine Street, Jamaica Plain, no bid; William H. Chellman Co., Inc., 755 Boylston Street, Boston, no bid; D and F Plumbing Company, 375 Centre Street, Jamaica Plain, not to exceed $5,800.

I, therefore, am awarding a contract to the D and F Plumbing Company, the only company to submit a bid, in the amount not to exceed $5,800.

Respectfully submitted,

ANTHONY L. GALEOTA,
Chief Structural Engineer.

COMMUNICATIONS SPECIALIST

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston and upon the recommendation of its Board of Superintendents, I request your authorization of the award of a contract, without public advertising, to Othello Mahome for the implementation of the public information and communication specialist position during the period of September 23, 1976, through June 29, 1977, at a cost not to exceed $16,000.

The enclosed job description reflects work to be performed by contractor to E.S.A.A.

Because of the need to implement the program during the present academic year and because of the unique experience of this consultant, it is the determination of the School Committee that the public interest would not be served by public advertising for bids.

This agreement is to be executed, without an appropriation, under the provision of G.L. c. 44, s. 53A and is to be made subject to the receipt of funds under grant from the Emergency School Aid Act Grant No. 310-1-76-005.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD J. WINTER,
Secretary.

COORDINATOR SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston and upon the recommendation of its Board of Superintendents, I request your authorization for the award of a contract, without public advertising, to Sister Elizabeth Carroll for the position of ESAA coordinator for the Archdiocese of Boston, during the period of October 4, 1976, through June 29, 1977, at a cost of $12,000.

The contractor shall represent the interests of the ESAA project in the pertinent parochial schools of the Archdiocese of Boston. She will work closely with ESAA component directors to ensure that provision is made for the distribution of program services to the appropriate Catholic schools in accordance with needs. The contractor will exercise overall responsibility for Catholic school participation: disseminate information; conduct informal evaluations of programs; expedite resolution of program problems; compile relevant statistics; develop appropriate needs assessment report related to Catholic schools. She will also comply with requirements directed by the project director of ESAA and inform the Archdiocesan superintendent of schools about the status of Catholic school participation.

Because of the need to initiate the program during the present academic year and because of the prior work experience in both public and parochial school educational programs and comparable with the duties outlined above of this consultant, it is the determination of the School Committee that the public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

This agreement is to be executed, without an appropriation, under the provisions of G.L. c. 44 s. 53A and is to be made subject to the receipt of funds under grant from Emergency School Aid Act Grant No. G 310-1-76-005.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD J. WINTER,
Secretary.

EDIBLE COMMODITIES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

It is the practice of the School Committee to purchase perishable foods and other edible commodities on the basis of bids submitted weekly or monthly because of the perishable nature of these goods and the fluctuation in their prices and the quantities required.

It is required by law that contracts be executed with various companies covering said purchases. Because these purchasing procedures, which accrue considerable savings to the city, do not lend themselves to formal public advertising, authority is requested to award contracts, without public advertisement, to the companies listed below for the period from November 1, 1976, to June 30, 1977, inclusive. The prices, however are based on formal quotation forms received from several suppliers:

Boston Banana Company, 68 Northeast Produce Center, Chelsea 02150; Boston Frozen Foods, Inc., 450 E Street, South Boston 02127; Cheese Corporation, 70 Bay State Road, Lawrence 01841; Dole and Bailey, Inc., 10 Newmarket Square, Roxbury 02118; E. L. Cooney Co., 48 Oval Road, Wollaston, Mass. 02170.

MUSIC PROGRAM

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston, and upon the recommendation of its Board of Superintendents, I request your authorization for the award of a contract, without public advertising, to the Kodaly Musical Training Institute of Wellesley, Mass., for an elementary music program in Boston public schools to be conducted at the Henry Grew School in Hyde Park and the Manning School in Jamaica Plain, between September 20, 1976, and June 17, 1977, at a cost not to exceed $12,500.

The contractor agrees to supply music teaching at least twice weekly in both of these schools covering all children in kindergarten through fifth grade.

Because of the special training and unique expertise of the institute's teaching staff, and because the institute has been providing this service to the school children of Boston for five years, it is the determination of the School Committee that the public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

THEATER PROGRAM

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston and upon the recommendation of its Board of Superintendents, I request your authorization for the award of a contract, without public advertising, to the Theater Workshop Boston for services during the period of October 1, 1976, through May 31, 1977, at a cost not to exceed $9,338.

The contractor shall, in collaboration with the Edison and Taft Schools, conduct a program for forty students. This theater program works with special needs students, helping them to develop a more positive self-image. Physical awareness exercises (e.g., balance work, relaxation techniques, freeze games); perceptual awareness exercises (e.g., listening games, tactile exploration); and other theater techniques such as role-playing and improvisation, are used to build a wide range of competence in expression. This type of learning environment calls forth and rewards the effort and enthusiasm of students. Planning and review sessions for parents, teachers, and theater workshop staff will be held regularly.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be provided under this contract and the unique staff skills available from the Theater Workshop Boston, and because the institution is working in conjunction with the schools in their desegregation plans, it is the determination of the School Committee that the public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

This agreement is to be executed, without an appropriation, under the provisions of G.L. c. 44 s. 53A, and is to be subject to the receipt of funds under grant from chapter 636, section 1, Project No. 77-1S-401.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD J. WINTER,

Very truly yours,

LEO J. BURKE,
Business Manager.

Her duties will include the development of statistical school profiles of enrollment and attendance trends; assistance in the analysis of budget input worksheets; assistance in the review of staffing patterns and reports; and the preparation and organization of various reports and analyses pertaining to budgetary matters.

Because of her unique combination of experience in academics, data compilation, and clerical skills, it is the determination of the School Committee that the public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

Secretary.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston and upon the recommendation of its Board of Superintendents, I request your authorization for the award of a contract, without public advertising, to Boston University, during the period from January 19, 1976, through June 24, 1976, at a cost not to exceed $5,800.

All students, grades one through five, will participate in a physical education program consisting of movement, dance, and sport activities at the Jackson-Mann School. The contractor will provide instructors who represent expertise in different types of activities with emphasis on teaching, coaching, counseling, and tutoring of children with special needs.

Activities will be conducted during the period January 19, through June 24, 1976.

The contractor shall provide administration and supervision of the program components and methods of teaching. Evaluation of the program will be done by the consultants with assistance from the teaching assistants.

Drs. Magoan and Gillis, currently on the faculty of Boston University, will serve as consultants for the program.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be provided under this contract and the expertise of the contractor in providing such services, it is the determination of the School Committee that the public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

This agreement is to be executed, without an appropriation, under the provisions of G.L. ch. 44, s. 53A and is to be made subject to the receipt of funds under grant from chapter 636, state-approved Project No. IS-120.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD J. WINTER,
Secretary.

BILINGUAL INSTRUCTION

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston and upon the recommendation of its Board of Superintendents, I request your authorization for the award of a contract, without public advertising, to Mrs. Anne Marie Hernandez, during the period from October 7, 1976, through June 30, 1977, at a cost not to exceed $3,135.

She has recently completed a M.A. in Spanish from Boston University. Mrs. Hernandez has taught Spanish at Boston University and served as social worker in the greater Boston area.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be provided under this contract and the expertise of the contractor in providing such services, it is the determination of the School Committee that the public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

This agreement is to be executed, without an appropriation, under the provisions of G.L. ch. 44, s. 53A and is to be made subject to the receipt of funds under grant from chapter 636, state-approved Project No. 77-2S-27.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston and upon the recommendation of its Board of Superintendents, I request your authorization for the award of a contract, without public advertising, to Mass. Because M.C.A. is especially capable of delivering the services noted above, it is the determination of the School Committee that the public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

This agreement is to be executed, without an appropriation, under the provisions of G.L. ch. 44, s. 53A and is to be made subject to the receipt of funds under grant from ch. 636, state-approved Project No. 77-SS-334.

This agreement is to be executed, without an appropriation, under the provisions of G.L. ch. 44, s. 53A, and is to be made subject to the receipt of funds under grant from chapter 636, state-approved Project No. 77-9S-378.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD J. WINTER,
Secretary.

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE. MAYOR OF BOSTON

PRESIDENT, CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 69

MONDAY, JANUARY 10, 1977

NO. 2

Mayor's Goal: Total Charter Reform

Remarks of Mayor Kevin H. White in State of the City Address, given in Boston's City Council Chamber, January 3, 1977.

Madame President, distinguished members of the City Council, honored guests, fellow citizens of Boston:

It is my privilege today to speak with you about the progress of our city. We meet at a propitious moment; the Nation's Bicentennial — in which we played a prominent part — has concluded.

A new year is beginning, and with it, my opportunity to address this body for the tenth time.

At no time since I entered office have the challenges facing us been larger or the problems more severe.

At no time, however, has my confidence (that we will meet those challenges and overcome those problems) been greater.

I derive that assurance not from idle and unrealistic optimism, but from a basic knowledge of the character and resilience of this city.

The changes of the past decade have been dramatic and far-reaching. Our population has grown, our skyline has been transformed, and the market outside, and the waterfront beyond, testify to economic revival.

Through it all, we have persevered because of a sense of not only who we are, but of what we can be.

Today I am certain of our potential and of our collective ability to realize it.

To do so, we must return again to the elemental strengths and special virtues of Boston.

That premise has governed every major initiative of this administration since 1968.

We inherited a government distant from our people and neglectful of our neighborhoods. We were committed to reduce that distance — to reverse the decline — and to attack the alienation that was its consequence.

We opened channels to the neighborhoods, improved service delivery, and involved our people in the decisions affecting them.

We fought for the well-being of the elderly, decentralized planning, and made culture accessible.

And ultimately, we invested. We spent enormous sums on a building program that put new police stations, firehouses, libraries, and schools in every corner of the city.

No Mayor or City Council has ever done as much in the history of the city.

What we did was meet the demands of that era — and they were met. The needs of the present will ask no less of us.

Within the last three years, this city has been the victim of unprecedented adversity. In effect, we have suffered a series of seismic shocks.

Some were administered in a federal court, others by the collapse of the national economy, and still others by our own citizens.

School desegregation has brought the confusion, fear, and turmoil endemic to wholesale social change. Internal antagonisms have torn the fabric of our community — and at times turned us against one another.

Inflation and recession have erased economic advance and have created unemployment, deprivation, and hardship among many of our people.

Finally, the largest property tax increase in our history has added to the already intolerable burden and has placed our financial survival in question.

It has not been unusual at such times to hear that Boston is mortally wounded; that we are a city in eclipse; that we are on a path of inevitable and irreversible decline.

But those who suggest that are divorced from fact, ignorant of our character, and are underestimating our capacities.

The truth is that Boston is on the threshold of a period of massive reform — reform that will sweep away outdated structures, revolutionize our government, and rejuvenate our civic and communal life.

Decisive proof of that fact was furnished by this Council, acting in this chamber, less than one week ago.

To the astonishment of critics and detractors, this body has passed the most significant legislation for this city in a century. The Charter Reform Act of 1977, enacted in the closing days of this Bicentennial Year, will open a historic chapter in this city's evolution.

This reform will create a new process by which we communicate with one another and with the neighborhoods we serve.

But as important, in my view, is the signal it sends of a city's vitality, of an ability to regenerate, of our willingness to change when change is required.

Reforms of this size and importance are seldom, and rarer still, so soon after traumatic events. It is a tribute to this Council and this city. If its significance is not immediately acknowledged or admitted because of parochial politics, it will be, I'm convinced, a decade from now.

It is only a beginning, but it can serve as an example and inspiration to us all. A statesman in another century once said that suffering is the necessary first step toward reform. And the seeds of charter change were sown in a time of crisis.

Last spring an outbreak of vicious street violence led to a citizens' march against violence and the formation of a citizens' committee. The idea of reform, spawned by the march, and nurtured by the sustained commitment of a neighborhood-based committee, was ultimately born in the City Council chamber last week . . .

I fully expect the state Legislature will continue this historic undertaking.

The lesson of this effort is simple — the imperative clear. If there is to be a hallmark — a watchword descriptive of our work in the next twelve months — let it be "Reform."

The political reform embodied in the Charter Act is the first step:

- the restoration of neighborhood representation in our School Committee and City Council;

- the imposition of financial control of our schools;

- the resurrection of a strong two-party system, which will inject combative vitality into this city's political life.

All of them are interrelated and indispensable.

The second act in this historic drama will unfold this year. Its aim will be to continue reform; its object, to reshape the fiscal conditions of this city and extend tax relief to homeowners and rent-payers alike.

This second campaign will be as arduous — and will depend equally on our determination and will — but its ultimate success is as certain. It will be achieved before you and I ever leave our service in this hall.

It is a fight against odds. But we gain confidence from the sure conviction that justice, equity, and above all, common sense are on our side.

The property tax increase in Boston this year is but the final evidence in support of a verdict returned long ago: the property tax is dead — finished as the sole source of revenue for cities and towns.

The case against the property tax is well established. It penalizes homeowners, constricts growth, depresses property values, and retards economic development.

Forced reliance on it places every locality in the Commonwealth on a starvation diet. The inevitable result is malnutrition.

This is not a Boston problem. Ask the citizens of Springfield, Worcester, Chicopee, Salem, or Lynn.

Nor will it be cured by cliché calls for budget cuts and "houses in order."

The answer is the fiscal reform the state cannot ignore — and the city will do battle for it.

Our fiscal reform campaign will seek:

- 1. the creation of alternative revenues for cities and towns;

- 2. relief from state imposed costs; and

- 3. the financial support of city services by all who benefit from them.

This reform will remove the artificial barriers to progress, liberate resources trapped by archaic structures, and bring our tax system into the twentieth century.

The next year will not be easy. There will be sacrifice and considerable pain. But our goals are clear. They are two: political reform and fiscal reform. The first is well on the way to realization, and the second lies before us.

We will not rest until these objectives are met, and let them be the standards by which our ability and competence are judged.

The doubters and doomsayers will have their day, but I tell you this is our agenda. The battle not only can be won, but it will be won. Mark my words.

Thanks.

RENT CUT FOR ELIGIBLE ELDERLY TENANTS

Acting on the recommendation of Mayor Kevin White, the Boston Rent Control Administration has instituted an Elderly Exemption Program. The purpose of the program is to give eligible elderly tenants a 50 percent exemption from the recently passed general adjustment of rents in Boston's rent-controlled units.

The program is expected to provide an estimated annual savings of $2 million for the approximately 16,000 elderly living in rent-controlled units in Boston.

"Last month I urged the Rent Board that elderly tenants be given special consideration. As a result, elderly tenants who live in rent-controlled apartments will be eligible for a 50 percent exemption from the cost of the new rent increase," Mayor White said.

"The facts are clear. The city's elderly residents, especially those who live on fixed incomes, are far less able to meet rising costs than the rest of us, and this service will help reduce the pressures they have to bear," Mayor White said.

"For this reason, I have made this service a high priority within my administration to be sure that every elderly tenant knows about the program and takes advantage of it. I have made specially trained staff available in the Little City Halls, on the Elderly Hotline, and at the Rent Control Administration," the Mayor concluded.

Beginning January 3, 1977, elderly tenants may apply at any Little City Hall or at the Boston Rent Control Administration. To be eligible the elderly tenant must be a head-of-household living in a rent-controlled unit. The tenant must be sixty-five years of age or older. The total gross annual income for the entire household must be:

- $7,200 or less for 1 person;
- $8,750 or less for 2 people;
- $8,750 or less plus $300 for each additional person.

Each elderly tenant living in a rent-controlled apartment is urged to apply early in January so that the exemption, if approved by the Rent Board, will be retroactive to January 1, 1977. Although applications will be taken after January 31, 1977, those exemptions will be effective on the first rental period following the Rent Board's decision.

When applying, tenants should bring the following information:

A. Proof of Age

Any one of the following types of identification are adequate:

1. Birth certificate
2. Naturalization papers
3. Driver's license
4. Baptismal certificate
5. Other types of identification which state date of birth and require verification of age.

B. Proof of Income

Any of the following types of identification are adequate:

1. A copy of a Federal Income Tax 1040, 1040A, W2, or other tax forms showing income.
2. If the applicant is unable to show tax forms, an appropriate combination of the following will be required:
 - a. Social Security or SSI check or copy of check
 - b. Five consecutive pay stubs for working individuals
 - c. Copy of pension check or check stub
 - d. Interest, dividends, or annuities statements
 - e. Receipts from sale of real estate or personal property
 - f. Other statements of income.

NEW APPOINTMENT

Richard Hogan, director of Mayor White's Neighborhood Business Program has announced the appointment of Mark Faverman as visual design consultant to the city-wide project.

The Neighborhood Business Program is an improvement plan to economically and physically revitalize the commercial areas of Boston's neighborhoods. Developed by the Mayor, the program represents a commitment by the City of Boston to preserve and improve the local shopping areas through physical improvements and greater incentives for private investment. Funding comes from federal revenue-sharing monies.

Mr. Faverman will coordinate a city-wide effort to involve painters, sculptors, and graphic designers in a community-oriented program to create a positive cityscape. Storefront murals, sculpture, and new signs will be developed. Mark Faverman said, "Rarely is one allowed to work on a project which has so much benefit and can involve not only artists and merchants, but also neighborhood residents as well. The sensitivity of the Neighborhood Business Program staff to the visual environment underscores the real connection between visual environment and economic vitality."

Mr. Hogan commented that "Mark Faverman is the best person in the Boston area to develop this program. He is a valuable resource to the city. His ability to talk to and work with all types of people — artists, merchants, city officials, and neighborhood residents — makes him a unique commodity. This program stresses physical improvements as a key to increased economic development, and Mark and his work will help us improve the competitive capabilities of the neighborhood business districts."

Mr. Faverman, twenty-nine, was the secretary general of the Boston Visual Artist Union for four years — 1972-1976. He was formerly the director of visual and environmental arts for the Office of Cultural Affairs in 1975. He also was a fellow at the Center for Advanced Visual Studies at M.I.T.

Recently he served as a consultant to the Visual Arts Program of the National Endowment of the Arts. He has recently been named sculptor in residence to East Somerville Community School, a program of the Massachusetts Arts and Humanities Foundation funded by the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities and the National Endowment for the Arts. Next October, his work will be exhibited at the Museum of Science.

The Neighborhood Business District Program, Visual Improvement Project developed out of a very successful prototype project in South Boston in 1975. The project includes eleven storefront murals created by nine artists. Over 400 persons voted on the murals. The artists were paid a fee and materials were supplied to them.

Artists interested in being involved in the Neighborhood Business District Program should send their name, address, and telephone number to Mark Faverman, c/o Neighborhood Business Program, Room 401, Boston City Hall, Boston, Mass. 02201.

PARKING PROBLEM EASED

Thirteen more parking garages have been added to the list of facilities offering low-cost, overnight parking to Boston residents to ease the burden during declared snow emergencies.

In addition to the Government Center Garage, the Massachusetts Parking Authority announced that overnight parking would be available at the Under Common Garage from 8 P.M. to 8 A.M., for 50 cents.

The New England Parking Association spearheaded an effort among its members resulting in twelve other garages in the downtown area which will voluntarily offer the same service.

The rate at all participating garages, except Prudential Center Garage, will be 50 cents for the twelve-hour period. At Prudential, the charge will be $1.

Mayor Kevin White praised all participants for agreeing to offer this reduced rate for a second year.

"The participating garages will provide a desperately needed service at a time when parking spaces in the downtown, North End, and Back Bay are forced into particularly short supply," Mayor White said.

In order to qualify for the reduced overnight rate, all vehicles must display a resident parking sticker (available at local Little City Halls) and be removed by 8 A.M. each morning.

The following garages will participate in the program:

Somerset Garage, 425 Newbury Street, 50¢, Pilgrim Parking.

Eliot Street Garage, 7 Eliot Street, 50¢, System Auto Parks.

Motor Mart Garage, 65 Eliot Street, 50¢, Richard Levinson Associates.

Hancock Place Garage, 100 Clarendon Street, 50¢, Richard Levinson Associates.

BOSTON SELLS SHORT-TERM NOTES

The City of Boston sold $25 million in short-term tax anticipation notes on December 29, to the First National Bank of Boston. The bank, bidding jointly with Smith-Barney, Inc., of New York City was the lowest of seven bidders on the competitively sold issue which will be used to cover Boston's operating expenses. The average interest rate over four months is 4.86 percent.

The other bidders were: State Street Bank, Shawmut, New England Merchants, United States Trust Company, City Bank and Trust Company, all of Boston, and Erlich-Bober of New York City.

City Treasurer James Young said the sale showed that "once the financial institutions did their homework" it was clear that Boston's financial situation was not as dire as negative comments in the press had indicated.

Although Mr. Young said the note sale indicated the city has less of a short-term financial problem than had been predicted, there is still a longer-term budget problem that will require some tax assistance from the state if it is to be overcome.

The $25 million will cover expenses through the first weeks of January, then Boston will have to borrow again. Mr. Young expects the city to borrow a total of $100 million between now and May to cover operating expenses. The routine borrowing will be paid off by property taxes collected in May.

PUBLIC HEARING

The Commission on Postal Service has announced plans to hold a public hearing in Boston in order to hear comments from mail users and recipients.

The hearing will be held on January 19 and will be one of a series of hearings held by the Commission in eighteen cities across the country. Site of the Boston hearing will be Room 208, John W. McCormack Post Office and Courthouse, Boston, MA 02109.

The Commission on Postal Service was established by Congress last fall to study postal problems and report to Congress and the President with recommendations by March 15, 1977. The legislation establishing the Commission directed it to look into five specific areas: rates and ratemaking, federal subsidies, current and future levels of service, future costs and revenues, and electronic mail.

Persons wishing to testify at the Boston hearing should notify the Commission as soon as possible at the following address:

Commission on Postal Service,
Suite 801, 1750 K Street, N.W.,
Washington, D.C. 20006.

1977 RESOLUTIONS

A little less impatient with those we deem too slow;
A little less arrogance because of all we know;
A little more humility, seeing our worth is slight;
We are such trivial candles compared to the stars at night!
A little more forgiving and swifter to be kind;
A little more desirous the word of praise to find;
The word of praise to utter and make a heart rejoice —
A little bit more careful to speak with gentle voice.
A little more true eagerness to understand each other;
A little more real striving to help a shipwrecked brother;
A little more high courage from that which must be done;
These be our resolutions — and God help us every one!

MBTA OPERATING BUDGET APPROVED

The Advisory Board to the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority has approved the Authority's 1977 operating budget in the amount of $238,511,267. An itemized reduction in the amount of $6,153,210 was voted specifically for cost-of-living adjustments due Authority personnel on a quarterly basis starting January 1, 1977, as called for in the arbitration award of last May.

The Advisory Board stated that this reduction was a challenge to the funding of cost-of-living provisions established through collective bargaining agreements and/or arbitration awards.

Mr. Robert R. Kiley, chairman of the MBTA, stated that he was compelled by contractual obligation to pay the cost-of-living adjustments beginning the first week in January.

Mr. Saart will discuss plans for "Pollutants Standard Index" for the Greater Boston Metropolitan area. The plan includes a daily appraisal of air quality to be made available to the public. This will be particularly important to persons suffering from lung disease.

Adults with lung disease, as well as family members, are invited to attend these monthly meetings.

Payment for this contract will be made from the Community Development Block Grant, and the period of performance will be from July 1, 1976, to June 30, 1977.

Under the terms of the contract the BRA will continue to supervise and carry out activities previously approved for urban renewal funding under the Housing and Development Act of 1949.

Due to the unique nature of the tasks to be performed and the legal status of the BRA to carry out these tasks, no useful purpose would be served by public advertisement and bidding.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT J. VEY,
Deputy Mayor.

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

Payment for this contract will be made from the Urgent Needs Grant (B-76-UR-25-002) Amendment to the Community Development Block Grant recently awarded to the city. The period of performance will be from September 8, 1976, until December 31, 1977.

Under the terms of the contract the BRA will carry out activities previously approved for urban renewal funding under the Housing and Development Act of 1949.

Due to the unique nature of the tasks to be performed and the legal status of the BRA to carry out these tasks, no useful purpose would be served by public advertisement and bidding.

MANPOWER ADMINISTRATION CETA PROGRAM SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with inviting proposals by public advertising in the City Record, and to award a contract to Accudata, Inc., for the operation of Boston's CETA Title I Automated Management Information System, at a cost not to exceed $35,000. Funds for this contract will be provided from a federal government grant to the City of Boston through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973, P.L. 203. The effective dates of operation for this contract will be from October 1, 1976, through September 30, 1977, inclusive.

Under the terms of the proposed contract, Accudata, Inc. will be responsible for maintaining the computer system for the automated MIS, doing such programming and systems testing as is necessary, and producing management reports on weekly, monthly, and quarterly bases from keypunched data.

Due to the experience and success of this firm in the operation of the CETA Title I automated MIS, it is my opinion that no useful purpose will be served by public advertising for bids.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH R. DUGGAN,
Manpower Administrator.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 (CETA), previously uncoordinated federal manpower activities were consolidated under one legislative umbrella and decentralized to state and local levels. The City of Boston qualified to become a "prime sponsor" of manpower services under this legislation, eligible for direct grants of federal manpower funds and the responsibility for planning, designing, and administering local manpower programs.

Title I of CETA permits prime sponsors to establish programs of comprehensive manpower services, including recruitment, orientation, counseling, testing, placement, classroom instruction, institutional and on-the-job training, allowances for persons in training, supportive services, and transitional public employment jobs.

To accomplish this comprehensive approach to providing manpower programs, the Manpower Administration of the Office of Commerce and Manpower has contracted with sixteen agencies providing services through seventeen neighborhood employment centers, four assessment centers, and approximately fifty training program activities.

To operate, coordinate, and evaluate this diverse system, the Manpower Administration, in conjunction with the Mayor's Office of Program Management and Evaluation, has designed an automated, cost-integrated management information system (MIS) to provide management planning, tracking, and reporting information. The programming of the system has been completed and the system is operational.

Specific details and instructions for keypunching the input forms for the automated MIS were included in a request for proposal sent to sixteen well-known service bureaus.

Six firms replied with a formal proposal, which were evaluated thoroughly for technical and cost elements.

The firm of Key Entry, Inc. (formerly Dynamic Operations, Inc.) has been selected for the project. It will be responsible for the keypunching of all input data to the system contracted at a cost not to exceed $7,240, for the period of October 1, 1976, through September 30, 1977. The five other bidders and their respective costs were:

Advanced Automation Associates, $14,424;
Data Input Service Corporation, $16,008;

Programs and Analysis, $16,788; Accudata, Inc., $16,848; Pillim Data Service, Inc., $19,260.

The bid of Key Entry, Inc. was the lowest, and their quality of work, responsiveness to time requirements, and reputation were judged equal or superior to those of the other five bidders. Accordingly, Key Entry, Inc. was selected to keypunch the data for the automated MIS.

I, therefore, request that this contract be issued without public advertising. Funds for the keypunching of the CETA Title I management information system will be paid out of the CETA Title I administrative budget and will not impact on the City of Boston budget.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH R. DUGGAN,
Manpower Administrator.

TAX TITLE MANAGEMENT SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Permission is respectfully requested to dispense with the usual form of advertising and to award a contract to Drake International Company, Inc. of 636 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass. The amount of this contract will not exceed $7,500 for the period from October 1, 1976, through November 1, 1976.

The work to be performed under the proposed contract will involve processing of coding sheets and key punching of information with verification for the Tax Title Management Information System (TAXI). The data entry procedures are needed to convert from manual files to computer files, some 8,500 individual parcel records. Drake will design the procedures and implement with approximately 10 percent of the files. If the process is successful, I would expect Drake to complete the project on a subsequent contract.

The implementation of the computerized TAXI system will result in the acceleration of the tax taking process, and will free personnel to work on active collection efforts.

I have discussed this issue with numerous experts and potential vendors in the field of data processing and systems analysis, and have concluded, both in terms of cost and capability, that the public interest would be served by the award of this contract.

Respectfully,
JAMES V. YOUNG,
Collector-Treasurer.

MAILGRAMS SERVICE

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Permission is respectfully requested to dispense with the usual form of advertising and to award a contract to Western Union Telegraph Company, of 230 Congress Street, Boston, Mass. The amount of this contract will not exceed $10,000, for the period from November 1, 1976, through June 30, 1977.

The work to be performed under the proposed contract will involve the processing of Mailgrams on all delinquent taxes.

We have been dealing with Western Union over the last few months and we have found that the service they provide is very effective in contacting delinquent taxpayers, therefore I feel that the public interest would be served by the award of this contract.

Respectfully,
JAMES V. YOUNG,
Collector-Treasurer.

PRINTING OF BONDS, ETC.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I request your permission to award a contract, without advertising for bids, to American Bank Note Company of 131 Beverly Street, Boston, Mass. The contract is for the printing by lithography of 7,000 bonds in connection with the $35,000,000 bond issue to be dated October 1, 1976. The cost of the contract would not exceed $5,000.

Bids were sought from the only two firms considered capable of producing work to the city's specifications, and American Bank Note Company's quotation was about 20 percent less than the competition.

For this reason, I believe that further advertising for bids would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully,
JAMES V. YOUNG,
Collector-Treasurer.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

LEGAL SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I request your permission to award a contract for legal services to the firm of Palmer & Dodge, One Beacon Street, Boston, Mass., and to dispense with public advertisements for bids in connection with the contract. The term of the contract would run from July 1, 1976, to June 30, 1977, and the contract price would not exceed $65,000.

Palmer & Dodge would serve as the city's bond counsel under the contract, and would provide advice and prepare documents in connection with financial matters, and particularly in connection with the issuance of bonds, notes, and certificates of indebtedness of the city.

Because Palmer & Dodge is especially qualified in the area of municipal finance, and because that firm has previous experience with the financial affairs of the City of Boston, it is evident that advertising for bids would be inappropriate.

Respectfully,

JAMES V. YOUNG,
Collector-Treasurer.

Peace becomes more possible each time an individual roots out discord and hatred from his own heart, home, and community.

CONTRACTS AMENDED

AFFAIRS OF THE ELDERLY

VEHICLE REPAIRS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I am writing in reference to a letter dated December 12, 1975, from then Commissioner Taylor B. Wagenseil requesting your permission to award a contract, without advertising, to International Harvester Company, for engine repairs and the installation of a new transmission in the Elderly Mobile Market, in an amount not to exceed $2,500, and approved by you on January 2, 1976. Due to an underestimation of the cost of the transmission your permission is hereby requested to amend the contract price to read not to exceed $2,600.

Sincerely,
MAUREEN SCHAFFNER,
Commissioner.

HEALTH AND HOSPITALS DEPARTMENT

MAINTENANCE SERVICES

DEAR SIR:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals at its meeting of April 27, 1976, I requested on June 29, 1976, your Honor's permission to renew, without advertising, the city's existing contract with the Mosler Safe Company, Bear Hill Industrial Park, 61 Hickory Drive, Waltham, Mass. 02154, for service and preventive maintenance of the previously installed Mosler Telelift System utilized by the Medical Records Department at Boston City Hospital, for the period July 1, 1976, through June 30, 1977, at a cost not to exceed $3,000.

This figure represents an amount of $1,600 less than the amount paid for the same contract during the preceding fiscal year and was made possible because of an understanding that the Medical Records Department would be moving into the adjacent new outpatient department which offers such improved facilities as would permit a substantial reduction in the maintenance cost. Due to a change in date relative to the occupancy of the aforementioned facilities however, it will not be possible to realize the anticipated savings.

Therefore, pursuant to the authority delegated to me as Commissioner which on June 22, 1976, was merged with the authority previously held by the Executive Director, I respectfully request to amend this letter of award which was approved by your Honor on July 20, 1976, and to renew without advertising, the city's existing contract with said Mosler Safe Company, for the period July 1, 1976, through June 30, 1977, in a sum not to exceed $5,014.

Mosler Safe Company is the manufacturer and patent holder of the system equipment owned by Boston City Hospital and the only firm capable of properly servicing and maintaining it. Accordingly, no benefit would inure to the city by publicly advertising for bids.

Very truly yours,
DAVID L. ROSENBLUM,
Commissioner.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

FARRIER SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

Enclosed is a copy of your original approval of award of a contract to James G. Lovett, 47 Prince Street, Jamaica Plain, Mass. 02130, for farrier services.

During the latter part of the 1976 fiscal year the Police Department obtained seven more horses for the mounted unit. This required more farrier services than specified in the original contract amount of $4,800. The increased work load caused an additional expenditure of $1,880.

Therefore, I respectfully request that you approve an amendment to the contract for farrier services by increasing the contract price from $4,800 to $6,680. All other terms of the contract remain unchanged.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT J. DI GRAZIA,
Police Commissioner.

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT

ARCHITECTURAL SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on September 22, 1976, I hereby request your Honor's written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, and to enter into an agreement with Marcel Breuer and Associates, architects, a partnership, of 635 Madison Avenue, New York, New York, amending a contract between the City of Boston and Marcel Breuer and Associates dated May 26, 1970, approved by the Mayor June 30, 1970 (as previously amended on March 19, 1971, September 10, 1974, and September 26, 1975, as it will be amended pursuant to a letter of award dated July 9, 1976, and approved by the Mayor September 9, 1976), for the preparation of schematic designs, design development, working drawings, detailed specifications, construction cost estimates, and for construction supervision of the first phase of a new Campus High School in the City of Boston, so as to increase the amount authorized for expenditure for supplementary services under the said contract by an additional $30,000, from a total of $815,000 to $845,000.

This amendment provides for furnishings design and specifications services, and payment therefor.

Due to the provisions of the law to the effect that executed and existing city contracts may only be altered by a writing signed by all parties thereto, including the Mayor and contract surety on the performance bonds, it would appear that public advertising in this case could not best serve the public interest.

Respectfully,
VICTOR E. HAGAN,
Acting Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on September 22, 1976, I hereby request your Honor's written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, in entering into an agreement with Metcalf & Eddy, Incorporated, a Delaware corporation registered to do business in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, engineers, with local offices in the Statler Office Building, 20 Province Street, Boston, Mass., amending a contract between the city and Metcalf & Eddy, Incorporated, dated November 14, 1975, for preliminary designs, design development drawings, basic outline specifications, construction cost estimates, working drawings, detailed specifications, and supervision of construction of improvements to recreation facilities (passive and play areas) at four sites, so as to increase the amount authorized for expenditure under the contract by $10,329.

The original fee of $16,148 was based on a construction cost of $220,000 times the applicable 1967 A.I.A. "A" rate of 7.34 percent. Subsequent to award of the contract, it was decided that the amount to be spent on the project should be increased to $370,000, which, times the applicable 1967 A.I.A. "A" rate of 7.156 percent, results in a new fee of $26,477, an increase of $10,329.

Due to the provisions of the law to the effect that executed and existing city contracts may only be altered by a writing signed by all the parties thereto, including the Mayor and contract surety, it would appear that public advertising in this case could not best serve the public interest.

Respectfully,
VICTOR E. HAGAN,
Acting Director.

Boston 200 Programs Will Continue

As the Bicentennial years end, a look at Boston 200 programs reveals not merely a grand public celebration or a series of splashy, one-time-only events. Rather, many of Boston's Bicentennial programs will continue under the auspices of other public and private agencies.

"Our plans were drawn up with the future beyond the Bicentennial in mind," said Katharine D. Kane, deputy mayor of Boston and president of the Boston 200 Corporation. "We're proud that almost all our projects are being continued in one form or another. This great tribute to Boston 200's projects reflects the positive response the Bicentennial has had since its inception."

No doubt the memories of such major Bicentennial events as the visit of Queen Elizabeth, Operation Sail, and the July Fourth concert are foremost in the minds of Bostonians. "Above all, the Bicentennial in Boston has been a celebration of the spirit," says Kevin H. White, Mayor of Boston. "It has inspired a renewed pride in our city's heritage and restored our hope in its future."

Equally important in Boston 200's success is the city-wide participation its programs attracted. The city's major corporations donated over $6 million to projects ranging from major Bicentennial exhibitions to neighborhood history books to operating funds. This corporate involvement far exceeded that of any other major Bicentennial celebration in the country.

"Broadly based, private support was the key element in creating a Bicentennial program in Boston that evolved as a national model," says Thomas A. Sampson, chairman of the Boston 200 Corporation. "Our goal of a continuous, city-wide celebration could not have been realized without enthusiastic backing from the business community."

Also, Boston residents took part in the city's celebration by helping plan exhibits for their own neighborhoods, being subjects for interviews in the oral history series, as well as enjoying the exhibits and major public spectacles. Many ethnic groups also had their own special Bicentennial task forces and events commemorating their heroes of American history.

"From the beginning we encouraged participation from every segment of the community," says Harron Ellenson, director of Boston 200. "Our Bicentennial program truly reflected the city's rich diversity."

Finally, government agencies assisted by underwriting Boston 200 projects and providing their own ideas. For example, the Massachusetts Bicentennial Commission sponsored numerous neighborhood, ethnic, and downtown programs, and the National Park Service, under Boston 200's urging, opened the Boston National Historic Park to provide maintenance and interpretation along the historic Freedom Trail.

So many of these programs proved popular and successful that over 300 will be continued, some by public agencies and others by private sponsors. Some major examples are three special exhibitions erected for the Bicentennial: "Where's Boston?", a view of today's Boston in sight and quadraphonic sound still open at the Prudential Center Bicentennial Pavilion; the Boston Tea Party Ship and Museum, the nation's first Bicentennial exhibit, at the Congress Street Bridge; and "Whites of Their Eyes," a multimedia reenactment of the Battle of Bunker Hill at the pavilion next to the U.S.S. Constitution in Charlestown.

Many Bicentennial theme exhibits, covering specific areas of Boston history, also will remain open. At the Museum of Science, an exhibit on medicine and health care relates the story of the development of medicine dating back to the inoculation controversy in the days of the Puritans. The Radcliffe Institute in Cambridge houses "Boston Women," a look at the changing roles of women in the city.

On a different level, Boston 200's programs to attract and help visitors will also keep on operating, again with the aid of both the public and private sectors. The Greater Boston Convention and Tourist Bureau will once again provide information from the booth on Boston Common; also, the bureau will publish and distribute much of Boston 200's most popular literature, such as the Boston Byweek events calendar, and answer the telephone information line, 338-1976.

City government will also pick up some of the augmented visitor services. The Mayor's Office of Cultural Affairs now assists tourists at the new City Hall Visitor Hospitality Center as well as operating the Foreign Visitor and City Hall Tour Guide Programs; the Department of Parks and Recreation will maintain the large rest and play area at City Hall during the warm months.

Finally, the John Hancock Life Insurance Company will be responsible for the New England Regional Information Center at the new John Hancock Tower. This facility, Boston's major information center, orients visitors with an electronically lighted map and also serves as entrance to the new sixtieth floor observatory.

The increased level in visitor services in Boston proved necessary under the crush of nearly twelve million tourists during 1975 and 1976, double the pre-Bicentennial rate of three million per year. Attendance at the city's information centers in both 1975 and 1976 increased by more than 90 percent, compared to 1974.

Other indicators showed the benefits of Bicentennial tourism to Boston businesses and institutions. According to statistics from the Greater Boston Convention and Tourist Bureau, visitor-spending in Boston totaled $250 million in 1976, an increase of 40 percent over the previous year. Summer hotel occupancy jumped 10 percent over 1975, the Sheraton Boston leading the way with a 50 percent increase.

"The spirit and enthusiasm for this city engendered by Boston 200," says Robert E. Cumings, president of the Convention and Tourist Bureau, "is a legacy we intend to maintain. The Bicentennial demonstrated how such a program can be beneficial to the entire city."

The increased visibility of the Bicentennial during 1976 also aided attendance at historical exhibitions. For example, the Tea Party Ship saw an attendance increase of 31 percent this past year over 1975, on top of the 84 percent increase in visitation last year over 1974.

Attendance at the other major Bicentennial exhibitions also showed marked increases: at Victorian Boston, now closed, attendance jumped 152 percent in the summer of 1976; and "Where's Boston?" showed an increase of 46 percent during the same period over 1975.

Even more than just with exhibits, Boston 200 changed much of the face of the city with environmental improvement programs in all of Boston's neighborhoods. Major renovations at Rachel Revere Park in the North End, across the street from her famous husband Paul's house; improved signs and information kiosks throughout the downtown and Back Bay; historical markers, 285 in all, giving background on important sites in the city's neighborhoods; and new small parks and greenery were all part of this major Bicentennial program area.

Other programs involving the city's communities were Boston 200 ethnic programs. The Black Heritage Task Force subsidized open-air markets, an exhibition of historic photographs of the black community, and a history research project and book. The entire city's ethnic groups were featured monthly in the Office of Cultural Affairs' "Festival Bostonian" program, presenting free public events and exhibits.

The Bicentennial also gave Boston a chance to try out innovative ideas that proved popular and successful. In visitor services, Boston 200 trained over 1,200 city hosts at 135 commercial and nonprofit establishments to aid tourists and residents asking questions about the city and its resources. Neighborhood residents decided for themselves on small-scale improvements with the help of the Boston 200 Birthday Book, plus matching funds and professional planning help from Boston 200 staff.

Finally, Boston 200 published numerous books, brochures, and maps to give information, education, and fun to both tourists and residents. Prominent among these are the Broadside series, covering specific topics pertinent to the city's life and history, and the Boston 200 Guidebook, a comprehensive tool for finding the city's services and history.

So while the Boston 200 office closes, and leaves a legacy benefiting Boston, the many ideas that emanated from it will be a constant reminder of the excitement of the three years since the two-hundredth anniversary of the Boston Tea Party in December, 1773. For a copy of Boston's official final report, documenting in words and pictures the story of Boston's Bicentennial celebration, contact Deputy Mayor Katharine D. Kane, City Hall, Boston, Massachusetts 02201, or call 725-4447.

During the Great Depression, five Sacramento post office employees decided to start a credit union, but only four had the requisite $5 membership fee. The fifth employee borrowed $5 to join. Where from? The new credit union, of course.

BRA STUDIES TRAFFIC CHANGES

A major traffic pattern change which would reverse the flow of vehicles on Boylston Street from Park Square to Massachusetts Avenue is under consideration by the Boston Redevelopment Authority.

BRA Deputy Director C. Stewart Forbes said recently the reversal plan is one of several alternatives being studied in an effort to resolve differences over the traffic pattern planned for the Park Plaza renewal project in the Park Square area.

Mr. Forbes emphasized that no decision has been made on the reversal plan or any other alternatives, pending further study and the compilation of more data on the traffic situation.

In his status report on the traffic study to members of the Park Plaza Civic Advisory Committee (CAC), Mr. Forbes explained that the reversal plan, if carried out, would mean traffic on Boylston Street would flow in a westerly direction. It now flows eastward.

Mr. Forbes, who is in charge of the Park Plaza project, said the reversal would constitute "a major change requiring hearings and discussions with Boylston Street businessmen and residents of Chinatown who might be affected.

"The problem would be mainly community, rather than technical," he said.

MAYOR URGES ENACTMENT OF CHARTER REFORM LEGISLATION

Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White, January 5, 1977

In a few moments I will sign home rule legislation entitled, the Boston Charter Reform Act of 1977, passed by the City Council last week.

It is not my custom to sign legislation in public ceremony, but the importance of this act more than warrants it in this case.

As I said in my State of the City message, it is the most significant legislation for this city in more than a century.

Its passage will open a new era in Boston—an era in which our political life will be more vigorous, our government more representative, and our public institutions more accountable.

Even more critically, charter reform signifies a recovery of spirit and purpose in this city and, I sincerely hope, the waning of a period of grim and bitter conflict.

The seeds of reform were sown last spring, in the midst of great turmoil and occasional outbreaks of violence.

Our collective determination and will led to the march against violence and later the Committee on Violence, and its successor, the Committee for Boston.

Both committees were comprised of concerned citizens whose tireless effort to relieve neighborhood tensions provided the foundations for this new charter. This city will always be grateful to these men and women for their historic labor, and I am honored that the members of both committees are here with me today.

I should make clear that I am not in complete accord with all of the provisions of this petition. Nor, in all probability, is anyone in this room.

The process has been long and involved; the content of this legislation altered at many points.

—by the experiences of the Committee Against Violence and the Committee for Boston;

—by the insights of their academic advisors;

—by the convictions of the community leaders who testified;

—by my beliefs as Mayor of the city; and finally,

—by the revisions introduced by the City Council.

All played a part in the final achievement, which must be seen as a product of these views and of compromise among them.

It must be seen not in part but in total.

Those of us responsible for public policy must judge whether this proposal, in its entirety, advances the development of the city.

I am convinced that the enactment of this Charter Plan will bring enormous and unquestionable benefit to our city and our people.

I am further convinced that consensus can be found behind its central provisions, and that it is time to speak with one voice in behalf of reform.

It is not perfection, but it is significant progress: a city casting off the bounds that confined it, and stepping confidently into the future.

I have but one request of the state Legislature and the Governor—that they act as expeditiously as we have at the city level, so that this historic reform can be enacted as soon as possible.

FUND-RAISING CAMPAIGN

The 1976 fiscal year of the Boston Evening Clinic ended on September 30, and our Golden Year began on October 1. We raised $120,000 during 1976. Our goal for 1977 is $130,000. This will not be an easy task. A few major grants received this past year will not be forthcoming in 1977. In honor of our fiftieth year, we are also beginning a capital campaign to raise $180,000 over three years. This money will be used for rewiring, renovating the plumbing system, new X-ray and laboratory equipment.

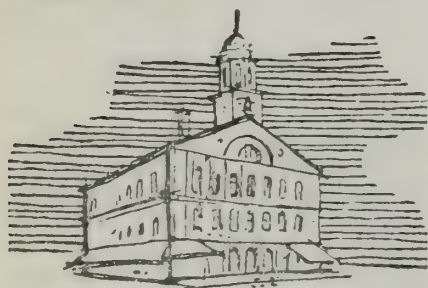

The clinic administrators have been interviewed on several TV and radio programs during the past year. The Boston Ledger recently did an article on the clinic and its services. Radio stations and newspapers have been generous in giving us space for our public service announcements. Through these efforts, more and more people know about the clinic, and they are coming to us with their medical problems.

MUSICAL PERFORMANCES AT THE BPL

In conjunction with its NEH Learning Library Program course, "From the Psalm Book to the Symphony," the Boston Public Library announces the following free musical performances open to the public. Both performances will be from 5:30 to 7:30 P.M. in the Lecture Hall of the Central Library and will be introduced with a lecture by Dr. John Swan, of Tufts University, the teacher of the course.

On Thursday, January 20, 1977, Emily Romney, mezzo-soprano, accompanied by Michael Mason on the piano, will sing a selection of "parlor songs" indicative of middle-class taste in nineteenth-century Boston.

On Thursday, January 27, 1977, Dr. Swan will conclude his course with a lecture, accompanied by recorded examples, on the founding of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and the Boston Opera Company.

FANEUIL HALL

Faneuil Hall, "Cradle of Liberty," Faneuil Hall Square at Merchants Row, was built and given to the city by Peter Faneuil in 1742. It burned in 1761, was rebuilt in 1763 and enlarged in 1803. The first story was used as a market while the upper story served as a town hall and was the scene of many stirring meetings during the revolutionary movement. British officers used the building as a theater during the occupation of the city. It now contains historical paintings depicting famous battles from early to present times, a library, and military museum. Open Monday through Friday, 9 to 5; Saturday, to noon; Sunday, 1 to 5; library, armory, and museum open Monday through Friday, 10 to 4. Free.

"T" INTRODUCES NEW STREETCARS

A new generation of United States-built streetcars was pressed into service last December 30, a week early, by the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority because so many of the twenty-five-to thirty-five-year-old streetcars had been disabled by a severe snowstorm on December 28.

The 71-foot vehicles have undergone extensive testing and a number of modifications since they began arriving in Boston in mid September. The latest modification was made December 20 and two of the cars had been scheduled for an inaugural ceremony on Wednesday, January 5. Two other cars were scheduled to go into service January 10. However, at 10:45 P.M., December 30, faced with a shortage of forty trolley cars on the Green Line of the MBTA, Operations Director David L. Gunn ordered the cars pressed into duty the next morning.

When the Light Rail Vehicles moved out of Riverside Carhouse in Newton on December 30, each of the vehicles had been operated between 1,000 and 1,400 miles.

"For a brand new vehicle, it weathered an acid test. It was cold, windy, snow was blowing, and the crowds were heavy. Each LRV that went through the subway at the rush was packed to its capacity of 219 persons," said Kenneth D. Campbell, Director of Public Information.

MBTA Chairman Robert R. Kiley commented: "We're very happy with their performance today. There was briefly a problem with the doors closing, but this was solved after about a half hour."

The cars were run from Riverside to Park Street and then were used to accommodate the MBTA's heaviest traffic in the central subway.

The cars weigh 67,000 pounds and can accelerate smoothly to a top speed of fifty-two miles per hour. The LRV cuts off about seven minutes from the thirty-nine-minute schedule of the old trolley cars from Riverside to Park Street (nineteen stops).

The LRV program began in 1972, when the United States Department of Transportation's Urban Mass Transportation Administration sponsored the development of specifications for a new streetcar to be used on the "light rail" which trolleys use. Rapid transit subway cars use heavier rails than trolleys.

In 1973, the Boeing-Vertol Company was selected through competitive bidding to design and manufacture the vehicles for Boston and San Francisco. Boston has ordered 175 vehicles, which will be delivered over the next fifteen months, and San Francisco has ordered 100 LRVs.

The MBTA anticipates putting two more LRVs into service in the month of January. Operations Director David Gunn said they would be used to move the crowds in the central subway during the week and on Riverside on the weekends.

THE CITY SEAL

As it appeared prior to 1827

The City Seal was adopted by "An Ordinance to Establish the City Seal," passed January 2, 1823, which provides "That the design hereto annexed, as sketched by John R. Penniman, giving a view of the City, be the device of the City Seal; that the motto be as follows, to wit: 'Sicut patribus sit Deus nobis'; and that the inscription be as follows:—'Bostonia condita, A.D. 1630. Civitatis regimine donata, A.D. 1822,'" The motto is taken from 1 Kings, viii, 57: "God be with us as He was with our fathers."

The seal as it first appeared is shown above.

The seal as it was afterwards changed, and has ever since continued to be used, was first shown on page 221 of the volume of laws and ordinances commonly known as the "First Revision," published in 1827, and is established as the City Seal at the present time by Revised Ordinances of 1914, Chapter 1, Section 5, which provides that "The seal of the City shall be circular in form; shall bear a view of the City; the motto 'SICUT PATRIBUS SIT DEUS NOBIS,' and the inscription, 'BOSTONIA CONDITA, A.D. 1630. CIVITATI; REGIMINE DONATA A.D. 1822.'"

A tourist on his way to Europe was experiencing seasickness for the first time. Calling his wife to his bedside, he said in a weak voice: "Jennie, my will is in the National Bank. Everything is left to you, dear. My various stocks you will find in my safe-deposit box." Then he said fervently: "And Jennie, bury me on the other side. I can't stand this trip again dead or alive."

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT

Purchasing Division FUEL OILS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Recently, the federal government decontrolled certain middle distillate fuel oils. During the period when fuel oil contracts expired and new bids were received and contracts awarded, it was necessary to supply the various city departments with No. 2 and No. 6 fuel oil.

Permission is requested to dispense with publicly advertising for bids and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Metropolitan Petroleum Company of Massachusetts, Division of the Pittston Company, for furnishing approximately 22,000 gallons of No. 2 fuel oil and 1,700 barrels of No. 6 fuel oil to the various city departments, from July 1, 1976, to September 28, 1976, inclusive.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $30,000, net.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK F. CHIN,
Purchasing Agent.

VARIOUS FOODS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On May 5, 1976, your Honor approved a letter of award for contracts to several companies for furnishing perishable foods and other edible foods to the various city departments, from July 1, 1976, to June 30, 1977.

Authority is requested at this time to award a contract, without public advertisement, to Davey Bros. Inc., Littlefield Street, Avon, Massachusetts, for furnishing perishable foods and other edible foods to the various city departments, from January 1, 1977, to June 30, 1977, inclusive.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK F. CHIN,
Purchasing Agent.

VARIOUS COPY MACHINES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On October 7, 1976, your Honor approved a permission to award a contract to Xerox Corporation for the rental and/or services of approximately eighty various types of copy machines, in an amount not to exceed $470,000.

For many years, this company has had a policy of leasing or renting only. Recently, the federal government instructed Xerox Corporation to become actively engaged in the sale of its equipment. The present contract with this company, 1, 01-43-1487, provides for the purchase of new equipment to replace some of the leased or rented equipment with a percentage credit for the amounts already paid or due on the present equipment.

This office has made an extensive analysis of the use of Xerox equipment in approximately fifty different departments or divisions of the city. Based on the usage or volume of the equipment in the various locations, it has been determined that by purchasing thirty-nine of the approximate eighty units at a total price of $685,574.04, net, including credit allowances of $83,925 and free service for ninety days, there would be a net savings to the city of approximately $108,814 over a three-year period.

It is requested that permission be granted me to exercise the option to purchase thirty-nine of the approximate eighty copy machines from Xerox Corporation, at a total amount not to exceed $685,574.04, net, and issue a contract for the period from December 1, 1976, to June 30, 1977, inclusive, in an amount not to exceed $185,399.73, net, with an option to renew the contract from July 1, 1977, to June 30, 1978, inclusive, in an amount not to exceed $206,968.68, net, with a further option to renew the renewal contract from July 1, 1978, to June 30, 1979, in an amount not to exceed $206,868.68, net, and with a further option to renew the renewal contract from July 1, 1979, to November 30, 1979, in an amount not to exceed $86,236.95, net. At that time, title will pass to the city. All options to renew will be subject to appropriations being made available for each fiscal year.

Since all indications are that the city will be leasing the Xerox machines for the thirty-six-months period indicated, if we do not purchase them, and since purchasing the machines in the manner set forth will show a savings to the city of approximately $108,814 during that period, it is my opinion that the best interests will be served if the option to purchase the equipment is exercised. It is my further opinion that publicly advertising for bids will serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK F. CHIN,
Purchasing Agent.

LEASING OF TRUCKS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

During the period between the expiration of a contract for leasing of trucks with Hertz Equipment Rental Corporation and the advertising for bids publicly opened on August 25, 1976, for leasing of four five-ton dump trucks, the Parks and Recreation Department continued the use of the leased vehicles during the months of July and August.

Hertz Equipment Rental Corporation has agreed to accept payment of $580 per truck per month, which was the price in the expired contract. The new public bid price is $120 per truck per month higher.

Since the city has had the use of the four trucks for the months of July and August, and since it is necessary to issue a contract before payment can be made for the use of the trucks, and since the Hertz Equipment Rental Corporation was the only bidder on the publicly opened bid of August 25, 1976, and since publicly advertising would serve no useful purpose, permission is requested to dispense with publicly advertising for bids and award a contract, without public advertising for bids and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Hertz Equipment Rental Corporation for the leasing of four five-ton dump trucks to the Parks and Recreation Department, from July 1, 1976, to August 31, 1976, in an amount not to exceed $4,640, net.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK F. CHIN,
Purchasing Agent.

HOME CARE SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Your permission is hereby requested to award a contract, without advertising, to Area Two Home Care for Senior Citizens, Inc., for the implementation and administration of home care services for the elderly in that area of the City of Boston designated Area II, in an amount not to exceed $5,000.

This contract will provide compensation for the staff of Area Two Home Care for Senior Citizens, Inc. involved in the planning, implementation, and administration of the delivery of homemaker, chore, transportation, and home health-aid services to the elderly.

It is therefore requested that the Commission be allowed to dispense with public advertising in awarding this contract.

Sincerely,

MAUREEN SCHAFFNER,
Commissioner.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

General Order No. 57

ENERGY AND FUEL CONSERVATION PROGRAM

Every effort must be made to conserve energy, and for that purpose, all personnel shall exercise restraint in operations that entail the use of these critical items. There are a lot of wasteful procedures that can be eliminated, and the cooperation of all members is necessary for the success of this program.

1. Thermostats in all department buildings must be under the supervision of a responsible person who shall maintain the temperature as close to 68 degrees as possible.

2. All buildings must be surveyed for unused areas, and these sections should be closed off.

3. Develop the practice of only using the lights necessary to perform your duties. It isn't necessary to have all lights in a large area or office on when the tasks within the area are confined to a work bench or desk that is illuminated by another lamp.

4. Develop the practice of shutting off unnecessary lights, especially when leaving work areas.

5. Division and district cars should be shut down, secured, and members shall operate on portable radios at alarms including working and multiple alarm fires.

6. For alarms in the high pressure area, the Fire Alarm Office must be notified immediately by first arriving unit as to conditions prevailing, e.g., "fire" or "smoke showing" so as to activate the operation of the high-pressure system.

7. Chief officers in charge of operations in the high-pressure area must make every effort to have high-pressure system shut down as soon as conditions allow.

8. All outdoor floodlights and illumination shall be curtailed.

9. Maintain close supervision of fuel and gas supplies and make certain tank supplies are kept at safe levels.

10. No department vehicles, other than fire fighting apparatus during cold weather, shall be allowed to stand by with idling motors for extended periods.

11. Inspect tires for under inflation as this increases gas consumption.

12. Use of hot water must be supervised and not used for washing garage floors, apparatus, etc.

13. No additional items of an electrical nature shall be authorized for use on department property, unless it is of an essential nature.

14. Company commanders will be responsible for the enforcement of all procedures that can conserve energy. This includes reporting of inefficient operation of house heaters, and/or apparatus to Headquarters for correction.

The "Constitution"
Affectionately called "Old Ironsides"

The U.S.S. Constitution lies in dock at the United States Naval Shipyard, across the Charles River at Wapping and Chelsea Streets, Charlestown. She was launched in 1797 at Hartt's Shipyard, a short distance from her present resting place. In the next year she helped clear the coast and the West Indies of French privateers. Later engagements with the British in the War of 1812 brought her undying fame and her nickname Old Ironsides. The 44-gun frigate was constructed of well-seasoned live oak and red cedar timbers secured by bolts and copper sheathing made by Paul Revere. Now restored and seaworthy, the historic craft may be boarded daily, 9:30 to 4, free. Uniforms, cannon, and newspaper accounts of the War of 1812 are displayed.

The attention of all bidders is specifically directed to the equal employment opportunity section of the specifications and the obligation of the contractor and all subcontractors to take affirmative action in connection with employment practices throughout the work.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

Specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority.

A performance bond, and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 percent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all general bids, if it be in the public interest so to do.

Boston Urban Wilds: Conservation Program

The natural areas of Boston's famed park system are one of the city's greatest resources, offering its residents the opportunity to enjoy woodlands, beaches, and marshland in the midst of a busy urban setting.

These public green spaces are an irreplaceable part of Boston's natural heritage. Unfortunately, however, our open space has diminished as the city has grown. The time has come to protect the natural areas that are privately held, so that they can also contribute to the quality and diversity of the city's open space inventory, now and in the future.

The Boston Urban Wilds study addresses natural area conservation creatively and thoroughly. It is an important first step toward ensuring that Boston will continue to meet the open space needs of its citizens and to maintain a pleasant environment in which to live.

KEVIN H. WHITE, Mayor,
City of Boston.

"The land that is still to be saved will have to be saved in the next few years. We have no luxury of choice. We must make our commitment now and look to this landscape as the last one. For us, it will be."

William H. Whyte,
"The Last Landscape."

Within Boston's boundaries are over 2,000 acres of natural land that lie outside the city's park system. These "Urban Wilds" are a valuable, even irreplaceable resource for the city and its residents; they afford great beauty, provide environmental and recreational amenities, and often are critical to the ecological balance of their surroundings.

The Urban Wilds have an uncertain future, however, because they are held by a variety of private owners and are unprotected by any land-use regulations that specifically recognize their value as natural areas.

The Boston Urban Wilds study, undertaken by the Boston Redevelopment Authority under a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts, has a twofold purpose: first, to inventory all of Boston's unprotected natural areas in order to analyze their use and importance and develop a strategy for their protection; and second, to increase public awareness of the nature of Boston in order to generate support for Urban Wilds preservation efforts. (To achieve the latter, the BRA has published a poster/guide to nearly fifty natural areas within the city's park system.)

This report presents the background, findings, and recommendations of the Urban Wilds study. It sets forth a program of policies and actions to be pursued by the City of Boston, through the various departments and agencies that make land-use decisions, which will preserve the Urban Wilds sites.

RESIDENTS: PLEASE COOPERATE

Slips and falls on snow and ice are not fun to anyone, especially to letter carriers.

In past years, more than 1,500 carrier accidents, due to falls on ice and snow, have been reported annually to the Postal Service. These injuries are not only painful, but usually result in loss of work and heavy medical expenses.

Postmaster Philip L. Sullivan of the Boston Postal District is appealing to all residents to remove ice and snow from porches, steps, and sidewalks, if possible, during the winter season to reduce the dangers to mail carriers and other delivery personnel.

Customers are responsible for keeping approaches to their mailboxes clear of any obstructions that make delivery difficult or impossible. Failure to do so promptly after a heavy storm temporarily prevents carriers from making deliveries.

Rural and suburban customers who receive their mail in curbside boxes delivered by vehicles also are being asked to keep approaches to mailboxes clear of ice and snow.

Highway officials are responsible for keeping public roads passable and in good repair. However, in areas where mail service is provided over roads not maintained by road authorities, the owner of the road is responsible.

Rural and star route carriers make every reasonable effort to serve the greatest possible number of cus-

Unless we begin to act now, many of these scenic natural areas may indeed be our "last landscape." And we and future generations of Bostonians will be much the poorer without them.

ROBERT T. KENNEY, Former Director,
Boston Redevelopment Authority.

Introduction

When people outside of Boston think of that city, they conjure up images of an old and historic place, where among the newer developments one can still trace the origins of the American Revolution. For Bostonians, however, while Boston is all this, it is also much more. It is, for them, the neighborhoods in which they live, where they know the people, the streets, the houses, the shops and the parks. Yet, it is also those unprotected natural areas of remarkable beauty remaining hidden amongst the development — Boston's Urban Wilds — areas which represent a historical picture of Boston much older than the Revolution.

For developers, the Urban Wilds are "undeveloped or vacant lands," places still awaiting the inevitable bulldozer. In fact, the number of these sites diminishes each year as more and more of them become developed. For Boston residents, however, these sites represent the memory of where one played as a child, where one's children play today, and where one looks for beauty, fresh air, and green spaces.

In many instances, these areas have remained in their natural state not out of appreciation for their special characteristics, but because these very attributes — such as wetlands and rock outcroppings — have made the sites less desirable for development. Yet, as demands become greater, more of the sites are lost to development each year. Clearly, if any of these beautiful bits of Boston's natural landscape are to remain, the laissez-faire policies of the past must be changed. In order to guarantee a natural heritage for future generations, a more concerted effort at natural area protection must be made.

The Boston Urban Wilds study provides a program for just such an effort on the part of the City of Boston. The following is a summary of the information contained in this study.

As a result of its geological history and topography, Boston has a wide variety of Urban Wilds, ranging from distinctive hilltops to salt-marshes, from rock outcroppings to inland wetlands, from glacial ponds to woodlands. These Urban Wilds frequently perform important functions in the environment: for instance, the wetlands store storm water to help prevent flooding in low areas and also provide feeding and breeding grounds for fish and wildlife. Yet, many sites are valuable quite simply because they are scenic and can help create pleasant surroundings for residents and visitors, and also because they have potential for recreational uses such as hiking, picnicking, or birdwatching.

Many sections of Boston are fortunate to have a diversity of Urban Wilds areas; these neighborhoods include East Boston, Charlestown, Dorchester and Mattapan, Allston-Brighton, Mission Hill/Jamaica Plain, Roxbury, and the area of historic Roxbury that now encompasses West Roxbury, Hyde Park, Roslindale, and southern Jamaica Plain.

In these neighborhoods, 143 Urban Wilds sites — totaling 2,000 acres — have been identified, described in detail, and ranked as to their environmental significance and in relation to the open space needs that have been determined for each neighborhood. This, the first step in the Urban Wilds study, has been done in order to establish a priority system for protecting and preserving them. The likelihood of a site's development is also figured into the priority system, indicating a need for immediate action in some instances.

Next, tools that are available or could be created either to protect the Urban Wilds sites from destruction, or to find ways to minimize the impact of development on the natural area were catalogued. These include the transfer of local and state-owned land to the appropriate conservation or land management body (such as the Boston Conservation Commission or the Metropolitan District Commission); conservation restrictions agreed to by the private owners of natural areas, with an accompanying tax incentive; various land-use regulations now available under the Boston Zoning Code and Massachusetts General Laws; gifts of land by private owners to the city; purchase of land by the city; and the use of eminent domain powers where appropriate.

JAMES T. GENTILE

Members of the City of Boston Printing Section were saddened when informed of the sudden death on January 8 of their fellow worker James (Jim) Gentile.

Mr. Gentile, sixty-three, was head job pressman at the printing plant for the past twenty-eight years. A native of Boston, he was born and brought up in the North End.

He was a veteran of World War II. He was the beloved husband of Margaret (Gallo) Gentile, and father of Janet. He is survived by one grandson, David; a brother, Samuel; and sisters Mrs. Connie Beraldi of Somerville, and Mrs. Lucy Spal-lone of Malden.

A funeral Mass was celebrated in St. Leonard's Church, Boston, on Wednesday morning, January 12. Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

LUNG ASSOCIATION SEEKS CLEAN AIR NOMINEES

For the third consecutive year, the American Lung Association of Massachusetts is seeking nominations for its Clean Air Awards to recognize outstanding efforts to control air contamination.

The 1976 Clean Air Awards will be presented for "responsible and conscientious efforts to keep the atmosphere in Massachusetts clear of harmful contaminants." According to the Lung Association's President, Chaplain Walter E. Kloss of New England Memorial Hospital, "this program shows that many facilities in the Commonwealth are doing something to promote clean air. With all the negative news surrounding air pollution, we want to give 'equal time' to the positive sides of clean air efforts."

Anyone in the Commonwealth may nominate a facility for the Clean Air Award. To be eligible the facility must be a factory, plant, incinerator, or otherwise qualify as an air contamination source as defined by chapter 836 of the Acts of 1969. Nominations should be submitted in writing during the month of January to the American Lung Association of Massachusetts, P. O. Box 427, Newton Upper Falls, MA 02164.

All nominations will be individually reviewed and, if possible, visited by Lung Association selection officials. The information needed for a nominee is: name of source; source's main office address; contact person; brief description of the efforts; number of employees; and other data about the source size and history of the cleaner air effort.

The Awards Selection Committee includes: Chairman, Peter Fairchild, New England Consortium on Environmental Protection; Melvin W. First, Sc.D., Harvard School of Public Health; Benjamin G. Ferris, Jr., M.D., Harvard School of Public Health; John C. Collins, retired director of the Division of Environmental Health, Massachusetts Department of Public Health; Gilbert T. Joly, Department of Environmental Quality Engineering; William A. McPherson, retired combustion engineer; Mark W. Mulligan and James D. Saart of the American Lung Association.

Last year's four award winners were the Rodney Hunt Company of Orange for its installation of anti-pollution control systems "to provide safe and healthy working conditions for its employees and the public;" General Electric Company of Ashland for its carpooling efforts; Quincy Steel Casting Company, Inc., of North Quincy, for providing a 99.5 percent air pollution control system for its steel melting furnace; and East Bridge-water Associates of New England for its pollution controls on the elimination of solid waste.

A LAUGH OR TWO

The 1971 issue of the "Farm and Home Almanac" was a popular number, especially the article which featured newspaper headlines inverted by misplaced words or an omitted letter in a word, resulting in comic interpretations. Readers asked for more and after a little research and with special thanks to Simon and Schuster's "Treasury of Laughter" (edited by Louis Untermeyer back in 1946) we are pleased to offer a few more bunglers and howlers, twisted words, faulty punctuation, and mixed metaphors which have become comic classics:

"Most people know the position assumed by the present recumbent. But where will he stand when he takes a seat?"

"It is with real regret that we learn of Mr. Wayne's recovery from an automobile accident."

"At the Ladies' Aid Society meeting many interesting articles were raffled off. Every member had brought something they no longer needed. Many members brought their husbands."

"Frank Cope is at the Massachusetts General Hospital. He is suffering from head injuries and shock caused by coming into contact with a live wife."

"Having broken both ankles in a collision, Mrs. McKnight is recovering under the car of her physician."

A fish story from the "Northwest Organizer" ended with this startling statement: "That's a lot of fish in any language — thirty-nine pounds — and all in one piece. Still, as Fred Simmons says, 'For sheer tricks, fight, and stamina, give me a small mouthed lass at sundown, any time.'"

"Fifty guests assembled at the Domestic Forum, and thirty have been married to the same man for more than twenty years."

"The fatal accident occurred at the corner of Broadway and Fourth Street just as the dead man attempted to cross."

"After ten years of marriage, two happy parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay V. Door, announce the birth of their first child, a son. Remember, Champlain County Want Ads Bring Results."

And then there was the newspaper which said that "Mr. X was a defective in the police force." When asked for a retraction, the paper apologized and said it should have stated "Mr. X is a detective in the police force."

Another newspaper called a war casualty a "bottle-scarred" veteran. Their retraction said: "We meant to say 'battle-scarred' veteran."

IMPORTANT LIFEGUARD INFORMATION

Boston Parks and Recreation Commissioner Peter G. Meade has announced that a course in Cardio-pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) will continue to be given at the Draper Pool, Washington and Stimson Streets, West Roxbury. The course started January 17, and is held from 7 to 9 P.M.

The successful completion of the CPR course is mandatory for any individual interested in employment as a lifeguard.

John Landry, aquatics coordinator for the Parks and Recreation Department, reminds all present and potential lifeguards that the "First Responder Law," passed by the Massachusetts Legislature, goes into effect on July 1, 1977.

On that date, any person already employed, or seeking a position as a lifeguard, must have satisfactorily fulfilled the following requirements:

1. completion of the advanced lifesaving water safety course;
2. completion of the CPR course, meeting the standards of the American Heart Association; and
3. completion of an advanced first aid course. Among the acceptable courses are the Red Cross Advanced First Aid and Emergency Care Course; the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT) Crash Injury Management Course; and the basic DOT EMT course.

Present lifeguards may find it necessary to update their first aid training as the American Red Cross course in Standard First Aid and Personal Safety is no longer sufficient to meet the new criteria.

New advanced lifesaving courses have started at the following pools:

Paris Street Pool, 112 Paris Street, East Boston, Tuesdays, 5 to 7 P.M.

Healy Pool, Washington Street, Roslindale, Thursdays, 5 to 7 P.M.

For more information about the First Responder Law and requirements for lifeguards, contact John Landry, 725-4995.

WANT TO IMPROVE YOUR GARDENING?

Interested in learning more about growing roses or vegetables? Want to know more about soils, fertilizers, and backyard gardening?

Beginning mid-February, the Boston Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring a ten-week "Greenthumb" Gardening Course for Boston residents at the city greenhouses in Franklin Park.

The ten-week course, taught by trained city horticulturists, will cover a wide range of gardening techniques, including plant propagation, seedage, soils, fertilizers, trees and shrubs, annuals, bulbs, roses, and vegetables.

Two classes will be held — one on Tuesdays and one on Wednesdays, from 1 P.M. to 3 P.M. for the ten-week period. A one-time $10 fee will be charged students to cover the cost of seedlings, soil, and other gardening supplies used during the course.

"Students will have the opportunity to work within the greenhouse environment raising seedlings and grooming plants," explained Mike Connors, the city's Superintendent of Horticulture. "In addition, all plants and seedlings grown by the students become the property of the students at the end of the course."

To register, interested Boston residents should mail their names, addresses, and choice of day preference (Tuesday or Wednesday) to:

Greenthumb Course, Boston Parks and Recreation, Room 802, Boston City Hall, Boston, Mass. 02201.

Class sizes are limited and students will be selected based on the earliest postmark date and notified of acceptance by return mail. Applicants are reminded not to enclose the $10 with the application.

To ensure a place in "Greenthumb" mail your name, address and day preference now.

Boston Urban Wilds: Conservation Program

(Part 2)

The most important single action that can be taken is to make both city administrators and Boston residents aware of the opportunities and resources provided by Urban Wilds sites and of the need to take steps to guarantee their future.

Based on the tools available and the current ownership patterns of the Urban Wilds sites, the following recommendations are made in the study:

- The city should acquire the eight natural areas designated as "Most Significant" and in high open-space-need neighborhoods.

- The Boston Redevelopment Authority in its capacity as planning commission for the city should recommend Planned Development Area (PDA) designation for the seventeen Urban Wilds sites threatened by development.

- The thirty-three Urban Wilds sites now owned by city agencies and departments such as the Boston Redevelopment Authority and the Real Property Department should be transferred immediately to the Boston Conservation Commission in perpetuity for conservation and recreation purposes.

- The city should begin to negotiate conservation restrictions with the private owners of Urban Wilds sites, which comprise nearly half the total 143 sites.

- Gifts of land to the city through the Boston Conservation Commission should be encouraged.

- Boston should consider adopting "Special Natural Area" zoning, similar to that in effect in New York City, which requires the review of private development proposals for their impact on natural areas before a building permit is issued.

The most important single action that can be taken, however, is to make both city administrators and Boston residents aware of the opportunities and resources provided by Urban Wilds sites and of the need to take steps to guarantee their future.

The nature of Boston

Boston is built on the broad plain, or lowland, which lies within a bowl-like rim of hills that curves from the North Shore, inland to Framingham, and around to the South Shore. Because of its shape, geologists refer to this area as the Boston Basin. Particularly to the north and south, this rim can be seen from some of Boston's numerous hilltops, which rise from the floor of the basin, some to a height as much as 360 feet above sea level. Three rivers—the Mystic, the Charles, and the Neponset—originate outside the basin but flow through it and empty into Boston Harbor.

The geological and hydrological conditions of both the Urban Wilds sites and the other natural and man-made features found in Boston can best be understood by looking at the geological history of the Boston Basin. This history is, in fact, a composite of interacting forces that have brought changes to the land, the waters in and around it, and the vegetation that grows there.

The Land — The origins of the Boston Basin can be traced back 600 million years. From the earliest time until about one million years ago, the earth's crust underwent a series of dramatic changes: the land rose and was eroded down repeatedly; the sea invaded several times to cover the lowland and then receded as the land began to rise; the earth's surface was folded and compressed into valleys and hills. Earthquakes occurred, generating faults throughout the area, and volcanic activity intruded molten material which hardened within the surrounding rock. Evidence of this variety of geologic activities can be seen today in Boston's rock outcroppings. For example, the granite outcroppings found in Brighton were formed from molten material intruded within the earth's crust, while the sedimentary rock of Dorchester is composed of eroded material which was redeposited and compacted to form new rock.

Boston's current topography is primarily the result of the Ice Age which spread glaciers across New England 50,000 years ago. At the beginning of the Ice Age, the advancing ice scraped and broke the bedrock beneath, creating smoothly polished hills, boulders, and much smaller rock fragments under its massive weight.

As temperatures rose and the glacier receded, it left in its wake

a landscape dominated by ice and water-deposited materials; hills such as Beacon Hill were formed from rock fragments and sand which were gathered up by the swiftly moving melting water and deposited when the water's velocity decreased.

The melting glacier revealed the land form beneath. The most dramatic feature was the streamlined hills or "drumlins" which were formed when the mounds of sand and gravel that had accumulated under the glacier were smoothed into oblong hills by its weight alone. Drumlins are found throughout the city and in Boston Harbor, although wave action has eroded some of those in the harbor.

Although millions of years of geologic processes laid the foundation for the structure of the Boston area, human activity over the last three centuries has reworked the landscape greatly. Indeed, no other city has extended and changed its land form as frequently as Boston in order to create more land for an expanding population and economy.

By far the most significant change has been the transformation of the Boston Harbor coastline. At one time, three narrow-necked peninsulas — the Shawmut (downtown Boston), Charlestown, and South Boston — and the five islands that now form East Boston, dominated the harbor. But wharves and causeways were built into and across the water for shipping purposes and to provide access among settled areas. Later, fill was deposited on coastal wetlands and in the harbor to enlarge and connect the peninsulas and islands.

To accomplish these changes, sand and gravel have been taken from many drumlins, moraines, and kames in the Boston area, thereby altering its topography still more severely. Fort Hill, located on the Boston peninsula near the present South Station, was completely leveled and used as fill to create land in Boston Harbor, while the streets of Back Bay rest on gravel brought by railroad from Needham. In many instances throughout the city, additional land was created through infill of inland wetlands and ponds.

WASHINGTON COMMITS $300 MILLION TO MBTA

MBTA Chairman Robert R. Kiley commented on January 18 on Washington's announcement of a $300-million commitment to the MBTA's Orange Line Southwest and the Red Line Northwest.

"We are happy that UMTA has reserved the initial $300-million funding for these projects at this time. The total cost of these projects is estimated at more than $680 million," Mr. Kiley said.

UMTA Administrator Robert E. Patricelli told us: "Assuming satisfaction of remaining requirements and positive Congressional action, therefore, up to $300 million will be available to you over the next twenty months to commence engineering and construction on the Orange Line and the Red Line projects."

Mr. Kiley said, "It is primarily a commitment that will assist us in continuing the engineering effort on both these projects. Critical elements such as soil testing, relocation of railroad tracks and signals, can be pursued with confidence that UMTA approves of the general nature of these projects.

"It is particularly gratifying to get this commitment in principle of Massachusetts interstate transfer funds for the Red Line Northwest, where the MBTA has yet to file a final application.

"In the Southwest Corridor, this can be developed with confidence that the Orange Line will be relocated in that corridor.

"Many details and issues still remain to be worked out. We look forward to working with the communities on these issues," Mr. Kiley said.

NEW APPOINTMENTS

Mayor Kevin H. White has made two top-level appointments, one filling a vacancy and one for a created position. Albert Mark, fifty, is the new director of communications for the Mayor's office, filling a vacated position.

Mr. Mark was the former news director for the Democratic National Committee in 1965. He holds degrees from the University of Wisconsin and Columbia University, and in 1968 moved to the Small Business Administration as assistant administrator for Congressional relations and public information, where he directed a staff of thirty-one.

John E. Drew, thirty-three, former chief of staff for United States Representative Michael Harrington, will head a new office whose goal will be to obtain added federal funds for Boston.

Mr. Drew, a native of Boston, graduated with honors from Stonehill College and received a master's degree from Boston University. Mayor White said Mr. Drew's main job will be "to keep our programs and formulas in the pipeline while those grants and funds are still in committee.

"We want everything we can get, more than our fair share, and that's John's job."

The new directors will reside in Boston.

HUMANITIES EDUCATION PROGRAM AT BPL

The Boston Public Library is presenting an ongoing program of courses that seek to make the Library a center of formal humanities education for the Boston metropolitan community. The program focuses on Boston in its infinite variety — politics, culture, economy, literature, architecture, to name but a few. Its purpose is to establish a living relationship between our city's past and its present.

The program's activities include sequences of lectures and discussions, field trips, individual study guidance, individual projects on the community, special events — films, guest speakers, performances.

The Library's staff, facilities, and collections are used to the fullest possible extent by the learners and teachers in the program. Most special events are open to the general public as well as the learners in the program. Teachers for the activities come from Boston area colleges, universities, and other community institutions. A trained person will be available to work closely with learners in small-group and individual projects, by arrangement.

The program is free of charge, and anyone in the community who wishes to participate in the program and is willing to commit the necessary time to it is invited to apply. Books and instructional materials will be available at the Library.

COURSES FOR FEBRUARY–MARCH, 1977

1. "The Way We Really Live: Social Change in Metropolitan Boston, Since 1920." Sam Bass Warner, Jr., Professor of History and Social Science, Boston University, Thursdays, 5:30–7:30 P.M., February 3, through March 24, 1977.

This course will be an exploration into the strangeness of modern life in metropolitan America. The case to be examined will be the tristate Boston metropolis. Everyone knows at least one "Boston": the places he or she works, shops, and visits in. But, as this course attempts to demonstrate, each "Boston" is governed by the other Bostons which make up the metropolis. Unlike any humans before us, we live according to the disciplines and opportunities of giant urban systems. The family, the job situation, the natural environment, and the symbolic climate of the media will be explored as indicators of the "real" Boston lurking behind the screen of our familiar city.

2. "From Common School to Magnet School: A History of Schooling in Boston from the Revolution to the Present." James Fraser, Ph.D., Church of the Covenant and Radcliffe Institute in cooperation with Sam Barnes and Henry Allen of the Boston Community School. Tuesdays, 5:30–7:30 P.M., February 8, through March 29, 1977.

A historical survey of Boston's schools from the common school movement associated with Horace Mann and other reformers in the first half of the nineteenth century, through the various experiments of progressive educators at the turn of the century, to the bureaucratic organization of the twentieth century. The course will deal with various strategies for making schooling effective in an increasingly complex, urban society, concluding with a discussion of magnet schools, special programs, and other alternatives in operation in the 1970s.

Also Available: "Directed Study on the Boston Urban Community." Paul M. Wright, Director, NEH Learning Library Program. Hours by arrangement.

An opportunity for individuals or small groups interested in serious pursuit of a specific topic in Boston's cultural and social history to receive direction in study and research. A written paper, report, or project will be required and will be critiqued by the instructor. Please contact Mr. Wright at the Library for further information and an interview. Enrollment limited to ten.

For further information call 536-5400.

Slow me down, Lord,

Ease the pounding of my heart
by the quieting of my mind.

Steady my hurried pace with a vision of the eternal reach of time.

Give me, amid the confusion of the day, the calmness of the everlasting hills.

Break the tensions of my nerves and muscles with the soothing music of the singing streams that live in my memory. Help me to know the magical, restoring power of sleep.

Teach me the art of taking minute vacations — of slowing down to look at a flower, to chat with a friend, to pat a dog, to read a few lines from a good book.

Slow me down, Lord, and inspire me to send my roots deep into the soil of life's enduring values that I may grow toward the stars of my greater destiny.

MARGARET C. CARLSON HEADS GREATER BOSTON REAL ESTATE BOARD

Margaret C. Carlson, the new president of the Greater Boston
Real Estate Board, has urged her fellow suburban realtors to become actively concerned with the inner city problems of Boston.

Noting that the board embraces a region of highly dense urban centers, suburban towns, and even exurban communities, Mrs. Carlson said that those conducting business in the suburbs "of golden opportunity are not sufficiently distressed or concerned with the problems that face our inner city.

"However, we are all interdependent, and those of us in the suburbs cannot divorce ourselves from Boston's problems," she told a gathering of more than 100 attending her installation ceremony at the Parker House.

Mrs. Carlson, a realtor from Natick and the first woman to attain the presidency of the Real Estate Board, added:

"If we do not work to maintain Boston as the vital city it is, our suburbs will become ghost towns.
You and I must contribute our strengths, energies, and talents wherever they are needed to keep Boston alive to celebrate her tri-centennial."

The real estate leader commented that while the board and society will be confronted with a multitude of problems this year, property tax reform "will be the overriding issue of 1977.

"I don't have to tell you our present excruciating real estate taxes are depriving many families of homeownership as well as having a detrimental effect on property values," she said. "I can think of no better service we could perform for the public we serve than to ease this burden."

Mrs. Carlson was installed by John F. Dator of Fall River, president of the Massachusetts Association of Realtors.

AFFAIRS OF THE ELDERLY

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Your permission is hereby requested to award a contract without advertising to Senior Home Care Services: Boston III, Inc., for the implementation and administration of home care services to the elderly in that area of the City of Boston designated Area III, in an amount not to exceed $5,000.

Senior Home Care Services: Boston III, Inc. is one of three officially recognized home care corporations in the City of Boston set up specifically to provide home care services to the elderly. This corporation has been awarded $98,000 by the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare through the Massachusetts Department of Elder Affairs. This contract will satisfy the required cash match by the City of Boston. The funds to be used to cover this contract have been appropriated by the City of Boston and passed by the Boston City Council specifically for this purpose.

This contract will provide compensation for the staff of Senior Home Care Services: Boston III, Inc. involved in the planning, implementation, and administration of the delivery of homemaker, chore, transportation, and home health-aid services to the elderly.

It is therefore requested that the Commission be allowed to dispense with public advertising in awarding this contract

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT

CONSULTANT SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

In order to revise and improve the procedures and efficiency of the Assessing Department, particularly in the light of the unusually large number of applications for abatement of property taxes that have been recently filed, I wish to engage the services of Arthur Anderson & Co., a partnership, doing business at 100 Federal Street, Boston, Mass.

The objectives of the proposed contract are to (1) improve the efficiency of the abatement procedures; (2) to simplify and expedite the provisions of abatement applications; (3) to establish a backlog status reporting system for abatement applications.

This effort will be carried out by experienced senior consultants from Arthur Anderson & Co., who will be working together with staff members of the Assessing Department. Arthur Anderson & Co. will, under the contract, prepare and file written reports as to their recommendations for simplification and improvement of the processing of the abatement applications.

This contract would commence within thirty days of approval and will be completed within ninety days of commencement.

I, therefore, respectfully request your written authority to dispense with the inviting of proposals by advertisement in the City Record, and to award to Arthur Anderson a contract for the above purposes in an aggregate amount not to exceed $15,000, payable in accordance with the rates and provisions set forth in the agreement.

In the light of the professional nature of the services to be rendered, I believe that publicly advertising for proposals in this matter would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

BARBARA G. CAMERON,
Acting Commissioner.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

LEASING CERTAIN PREMISES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I hereby request your permission to dispense with bidding, and to award a contract in an amount not to exceed $3,042, to Saul Weinstein, d/b/a Mel's Realty Trust, located at 2401 Washington Street, Boston, Mass. Payment for this contract shall be made from the Community Development Block Grant.

Under the terms of the agreement, Saul Weinstein will lease, to the city, the so-called "Murray Building" in Roxbury, Mass., for use as the Mahoney Family Life Center of the Model Cities program. The proposed lease shall cover the month of July, 1974, only.

The city, through the former Model Cities Administration, has awarded previous contracts to Saul Weinstein, d/b/a Mel's Realty Trust for the leasing of the Murray Building. In the interest of continuity, I recommend that the contractual relationship between the city and Saul Weinstein, d/b/a Mel's Realty Trust be maintained.

Therefore, for the reason cited above, it is my view that public advertising would not serve any useful or practical purpose.

Sincerely,

E. OWEN DONNELLY,
Director.

FOOD DELIVERY SERVICE

DEAR SIR:

An invitation for bids for furnishing a centralized food delivery service system to Boston City Hospital, for the period July 1, 1976, through June 30, 1977, was advertised in the City Record on May 17, 1976, and readvertised on June 7, 1976, and bids were publicly opened and read aloud on June 18, 1976.

The following bids were submitted:

Therma Tray Corporation, P. O. Box 334, Springfield, New Jersey, $38,308.40; Aladdin Synergetics, Inc., One Vantage

Way, P. O. Box 10888, Nashville, Tennessee, $41,199.60.

The term "centralized food delivery service" relates to the concept of having food for patients prepared and delivered from one central source rather than from small kitchens located on individual floors. Such a system is very complex and imposes special demands on managerial competence and efficiency of equipment. This is particularly true in an institution the size of Boston City Hospital with its multifarious patient services. Since Therma Tray Corporation, the low bidder, is not yet widely represented in the Boston metropolitan area it became necessary to conduct tests in order to determine its compatibility with the existing system and to protect the justified expectations of those it would serve. For this reason and also in order to allow for sufficient time to make training adjustments for the involved personnel it was necessary to delay the awarding of this contract.

Now, therefore, in accordance with the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals at its meeting of June 22, 1976, and having been satisfied with the results of all tests aforementioned, I hereby respectfully request your Honor's permission to reject both bids, and award, without advertising, the contract for furnishing a centralized food delivery service system to Therma Tray Corporation, P. O. Box 334, Springfield, New Jersey, for the period September 1, 1976, through June 30, 1977, at a cost to the city not to exceed $31,923.70.

Very truly yours,

DAVID L. ROSENBLOOM,
Commissioner.

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Board of Trustees in charge of the Library Department of the City of Boston respectfully requests that you approve the signing of a lease, without public advertising, with the Town of Andover, Mass., for the rental of premises located at 9/11 Essex Street, Andover, Mass. These premises will serve as quarters for a bookmobile center for the Eastern Regional Library System in the Andover area. The lease will be for the period July 1, 1976, through June 30, 1977. The annual rate will be in the sum of $9,000. It is not possible to obtain competitive bidding by public advertising for this purpose.

Inasmuch as the total rental will exceed $2,000, there is respectfully requested permission of your Honor to enter into this lease without publicly advertising for bids. Funds for the payment of this rental are made available to the City of Boston as reimbursement from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts through the state aid act for support to public libraries.

Respectfully,

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES IN CHARGE OF
THE LIBRARY DEPARTMENT OF THE CITY
OF BOSTON

PHILIP J. McNIFF,
Director and Librarian.

LIBRARY MATERIALS STORAGE

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Board of Trustees in charge of the Library Department of the City of Boston respectfully requests that you approve the signing of an agreement with the New England Deposit Library for the storage of books and other library materials, for the period July 1, 1976, through June 30, 1977.

The New England Deposit Library building is located at 135 Western Avenue, Allston. The institution was created by action of the General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under terms of chapter 240 of the Statutes of 1941. The act names the Boston Public Library as a "Participating Institution" together with the Massachusetts State College, the Boston Athenaeum, Boston College, Boston University, Simmons College, The Massachusetts Historical Society, and other libraries, for the purpose of providing storage space for books and other library materials for which there is only occasional use and for which storage space is not available in intensively used library buildings. The participating institutions share cooperatively in the low-cost housing arrangements provided by the New England Deposit Library in accordance with a schedule of rates standard for all participating institutions.

The Trustees have set a limit of $9,145.50 on the amount to be expended for storage space for the period of the agreement and have taken the following action:

Voted, That there be entered into with the New England Deposit Library, 135 Western Avenue, Allston, Mass., an agreement for the rental during the period July 1, 1976, through June 30, 1977, of storage space therein for books and other library materials belonging to the Boston Public Library, in accordance with the rates for storage space formally adopted by the governing board of said New England Deposit Library.

Inasmuch as the total cost of the storage space will exceed $2,000, there is respectfully requested permission of your Honor to enter into this agreement without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES IN CHARGE OF
OF BOSTON

By PHILIP J. MCNIFF,
Director.

LICENSING BOARD

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your written permission to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, and to award a contract to Patricia A. Casey to be the Licensing Board for the City of Boston's shorthand reporter, for the period beginning September 1, 1976, through June 30, 1977, the total cost shall not exceed $7,500.

In view of the nature of the service to be engaged, it is my opinion that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
CHARLES L. BYRNE,
Chairman.

MANPOWER ADMINISTRATION CONSULTANT SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with advertising in the City Record, and to award a contract to Jannie L. John, 25 Fottler Road, Mattapan, Mass. 02126. The contract will be in an amount not to exceed $2,800.

Under the terms of the contract, Ms. John, a communications consultant, will be responsible for assisting the Manpower Administration's women's program specialist in the development of a newsletter published by the Women's Program Office and to perform various administrative tasks associated with the functions of that office.

The period of performance will be from October 14, 1976, through December 31, 1976. The rate of pay will not exceed $2,800, at a per diem rate of $50. The entire cost of Ms. John's services will be paid out of administrative funds allocated to the city under Title I of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

Due to the experience and success of Ms. John in the communications consulting field, it is my opinion that no useful purpose will be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Sincerely,
JOSEPH R. DUGGAN,
Administrator.

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT

ICE TIME

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with inviting proposals by public advertising in the City Record, and to award a contract to the Trustees of Boston University, 147 Bay State Road, Boston, Mass. 02115 for providing ice time at the Walter A. Brown Memorial Skating Pavilion for our Boston Neighborhood Hockey League, from December 1, 1976, through March 22, 1977, at a total cost not to exceed $5,850, which is to be charged to the Parks and Recreation Department budget 1-11-41 (29), Miscellaneous Contractual Services.

Under the terms of this proposed contract, Boston University will make available to this department 117 hours of scheduled ice time for the benefit of the teams and players of our Boston Neighborhood Hockey League. The cost per hour for this ice time is $50. This pays for the use of the entire skating pavilion, which includes locker rooms, showers, scoring machinery, and free seating for the parents and fans of the boys and their teams involved with this program.

We are asking for approximately 50 percent of the time scheduled in previous years because the Boston Arena is supplying this department, at no cost, the remaining time we need to complete the program.

Due to the fact that we have successfully made use of this centralized facility in past years for this program and because of the highly competitive price Boston University asks for this service, it is my opinion that no useful purpose would be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Very truly yours,
PETER G. MEADE,
Commissioner.

DIRECTOR OF HOCKEY

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with inviting proposals by public advertising in the City Record, and to award a contract to Mr. John A. Whelan, 50 Monument Avenue, Charlestown, Mass. 02129, as director of the Boston Neighborhood Hockey League, for the period from November 1, 1976, to April 30, 1977, at a total cost not to exceed $4,908.48. Mr. Whelan will be paid at a monthly rate of $818.08 for a period of six months which is to be charged to the Parks and Recreation Department budget 1-11-41 (29), Miscellaneous Contractual Services.

The services to be provided by Mr. Whelan will include organization of a complete city-wide hockey program for approximately 1,500 boys, ages eight through fifteen. It will be his responsibility to obtain ice time, keep all records, schedule all games, settle all disputes, and enforce all regulations concerning this program.

Due to the professional nature of the service to be rendered by Mr. Whelan, it is my opinion that no useful purpose would be served by advertising publicly for bids.

Very truly yours,
PETER G. MEADE,
Commissioner.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

IN-SERVICE TRAINING COURSES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your Honor's written authorization to dispense with public bidding in the award of a contract to the Center for Criminal Justice, Boston University, 209 Bay State Road, Boston, in an amount not to exceed $4,800.

The purpose of the contract is: (1) to develop recruit training course outlines in criminal law, including basic legal definitions, constitutional issues, and legal procedures; (2) to adapt for recruit training purposes the in-service training materials on investigative procedures developed under a National Institute on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice Grant; (3) to provide other recruit program design assistance as required by the Police Academy.

The department's Division of Training and Education wishes that the Center for

Criminal Justice be awarded this contract as it is the only institution having the materials we desire to adopt. During the past year, under a grant from the National Institute on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice, and the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, the center has designed and implemented a highly successful set of guidelines and related training programs for in-service training of police officers. This project and its training program is unique in the United States. The training has been highly successful and beneficial to officers of this department at the in-service level. We desire to adopt these materials to the Recruit Training Program to minimize the classroom time required to teach criminal law. We expect that by adopting these materials to the Recruit Training Program the recruits will be available for street assignments at an earlier time.

Therefore, because of the unique requirements of this contract, and in light of the previous work, experience, and expertise of the Center for Criminal Justice, and because of the probable expenditure of approximately $100,000 to design from scratch a recruit training course embodying the desired materials if another organization is chosen, it is believed that public bidding would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT J. DI GRAZIA,
Police Commissioner.

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your Honor's written authorization to dispense with public bidding in the award of a contract to Dr. Stanley Grabowski, 1356 Commonwealth Avenue, West Newton, Mass., in an amount not to exceed $3,375.

The purpose of this contract is: (1) to provide a forty-hour course of instruction in basic instructional skills for police officers who will be instructing in the Police Academy; (2) to design and provide an intermediate level course of instruction for previously trained instructors to provide them with skills in developing behavioral objectives, criterion tests, and the design and implementation of criterion-referenced instruction; (3) provide advice and assistance to the staff of the Division of Training and Education in the area of instructional materials preparation, instructional quality assessment and auditing, and course evaluation.

Dr. Grabowski has had direct experience (both practical and teaching) in the development of behavioral objectives and the design of criterion tests. He has also had past experience with police training matters.

On June 24, 1976, an invitation for proposals was released to twelve prospective bidders. Dr. Grabowski submitted his proposal on the basis of that letter.

The award of the contract is being made upon the recommendation of the department's Division of Training and Education. Dr. Grabowski's proposal meets the requirements of the division.

Therefore, because of the unique requirements of this contract, and in light of the qualifications of Dr. Grabowski, and the fact that an invitation bidding procedure was undertaken by this department, it is believed that public bidding would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT J. DI GRAZIA,
Police Commissioner.

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your Honor's written authorization to dispense with public bidding in the award of a contract to Ms. Margaret Skarrow, 40 Melville Avenue, Dorchester, Mass., in an amount not to exceed $2,775. The contract period is from November 1, 1976, to June 30, 1977.

The purpose of the contract is the design and teaching of a recruit training program to orient recruit police officers to the neighborhoods of Boston. The goals of the program are as follows: (1) to sensitize recruits to the uniqueness and positive qualities of Boston's neighborhoods; (2) to develop a working knowledge of community resources and the ability to use them effectively; (3) to develop a conceptual base that brings about a deeper understanding of the city; (4) to develop an appreciation of the ethnic/racial heritage of Boston's neighborhoods; (5) to understand the community power structure and to develop the recruit's ability to utilize this structure; (6) to be able to provide good police services to any neighborhood in the city.

Ms. Skarrow has had broad experience in the area, having previously worked in many programs related to community affairs. Ms. Skarrow also possesses a master's degree with a concentration in urban sociology.

In August, 1976, an invitation for proposal for an environmental studies program design was released to thirteen bidders whose names were obtained after contacting various public agencies throughout the Commonwealth. Ms. Skarrow submitted her proposal on the basis of that letter. The award of the contract is being made upon the recommendation of the department's Division of Training and Education. Ms. Skarrow's proposal meets the requirements of the division.

Therefore, because of the unique requirements of this contract, and in light of the qualifications of Ms. Skarrow, and the fact that an invitation bidding procedure was undertaken by the department, it is believed that public bidding would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT J. DI GRAZIA,
Police Commissioner.

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT

EMERGENCY DEMOLITION

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

As a result of numerous fires and extensive vandalism to the annex of the Spanish Multi-Service Center, 411 Dudley Street, Roxbury, the remaining structure in its present condition creates an extreme danger to persons and property. The Building and Fire Departments have issued citations for the hazardous conditions to be removed.

Because of the exigency of the situation, I requested and received written approval from the Massachusetts Department of Labor and Industries to dispense with public advertising, providing we obtain prices from at least three contractors normally engaged in this type of work. Having invited reputable contractors to submit bids for this demolition work, I received contract proposals from three contractors as follows:

Mystic Building Wrecking Company, $9,785; Ups and Downs Wrecking Corporation, $9,999; and James G. Grant Company, $10,350.

Your Honor's written approval, therefore, is respectfully requested, in recognition of the fact that an emergency situation exists, and to authorize the dispensing with public advertising for bids and to award a contract, without advertising, to Mystic Building Wrecking Company, 265 Carter Street, Chelsea, Mass., for an amount not to exceed $9,785.

VICTOR E. HAGAN,
Acting Director.

In view of the professional and technical nature of the services to be performed, it is believed that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully,
VICTOR E. HAGAN,
Acting Director.

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

Under a delegation of its power from the Public Facilities Commission to the Director of Public Facilities, I hereby respectfully request your Honor's written authority to dispense with public advertising in leasing certain premises deemed necessary and convenient by the Director for School Department purposes. The demised premises consist of the physical education facilities of the YMCA branch at 316 Huntington Avenue, Boston; 776 Washington Street, Dorchester; 205 Martin Luther King Boulevard, Roxbury; and 1137 Hyde Park Avenue, Hyde Park, by high school students participating in the physical education program of the Boston School Department.

The term of the lease will be approximately ten months, from September 8, 1976, through June 24, 1977.

The total cost will be $30,042, payable in ten equal monthly installments of $3,004.20.

Since these facilities are both adequate and convenient, it is not felt by the writer that public advertising would be useful in this instance.

Very truly yours,

VICTOR E. HAGAN,
Acting Director.

REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT ENGINEERING SERVICES

YOUR HONOR:

A recent inspection revealed a very serious problem that exists at the Lincoln-Essex parking facility. Several girders are in a state of failure, concrete beams are damaged, and the structural integrity of the facility is questionable.

In view of the above, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to retain the services of Engineers Design Group, Inc., 48 Inman Street, Cambridge, Mass., a highly respected and experienced firm to provide engineering and consultation services to study the emergency conditions existing at the facility and recommend corrective measures to protect the general public.

Sincerely yours,

JOANNE A. PREVOST,
Commissioner of Real Property, Chairman, Real Property Board.

DEAR SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of Health and Hospitals held on September 11, 1975, it was voted to enter into a contract, without advertising, with Digital Equipment Corporation, 146 Main Street, Maynard, Mass., for the maintenance of a DECsystem-10 clinical/laboratory data acquisition and processing system used by the major laboratories and clinical areas of the Department of Health and Hospitals. This maintenance contract was approved by your Honor on October 14, 1975.

In December, 1975, Digital notified the Department of Health and Hospitals of the availability of a significantly improved system, the DECsystem-20, to replace, without additional cost to the department, the DECsystem-10 for which the above-mentioned maintenance agreement was required. On June 16, 1976, your Honor approved an amendment of the lease agreement to authorize this change.

Accordingly, because of the change in the equipment being leased, it is also necessary to effect a change in the maintenance agreement. Therefore, by the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals at its meeting of June 22, 1976, I respectfully request your Honor's approval to amend the letter of award, which was approved by your Honor on October 14, 1975, for the maintenance of a DECsystem-10, to read

"DECsystem-20" wherever it appears in said letter.

Very truly yours,
DAVID L. ROSENBLUM,
Commissioner.

ARCHITECTURAL SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on September 22, 1976, I hereby request your Honor's written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, in entering into an agreement with Hugh Stubbins/Rex Allen Partnership and Samuel Glaser and Partners, a joint venture with offices at 1033 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, Massachusetts, amending a contract between the city of Boston, and Hugh Stubbins/Rex Allen Partnership and Samuel Glaser and Partners, providing for the preparation of working drawings, detailed specifications, final construction cost estimates for the supervision of construction of an Out-Patient Building at Boston City Hospital, Boston, Massachusetts, dated November 30, 1970, and approved by the Mayor of Boston on January 18, 1971, as amended August 10, 1971, and approved by the Mayor of Boston on September 24, 1971 as amended June 6, 1975, as amended May 3, 1976, in order to increase the amount authorized for expenditure under the contract for supplementary services from its present $789,600 to $795,100.

This increase in supplementary services is to cover the cost of extra design services necessary for the installation of line isolation transformers and related circuits for rooms 4E23, 4W58, 5E07, and 5E10, as requested by the Boston City Hospital administration. These rooms will be designated as anesthetizing locations, requiring this work.

Due to the provisions of the law to the effect that executed and existing city contracts may only be altered by a writing signed by all the parties thereto, including the Mayor and contract surety on the performance bonds, it would appear that public advertising in this case could best serve the public interest.

Respectfully,
VICTOR E. HAGAN,
Acting Director.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

RADIO REPAIRS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

At the present time, the City of Boston has a contract for miscellaneous repairs to two-way radios in Public Works Department vehicles and base stations, with the following contractor:

Electrocom Corporation — 1100 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

The contract amount is $7,650.

Due to our moving the various divisions of the department from Albany Street into the new Central Maintenance Facility, 400 Frontage Road, it was necessary to make extensive modification to our radio communication systems to put it into operation at this location.

Your approval is respectfully requested to amend this contract with an additional amount not to exceed $3,500.

Respectfully,
JOSEPH F. CASAZZA,
Commissioner.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

CONTRACT SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR:

I am writing to further explain the contract for services between the School Committee and Mr. Robert Stanley Sterling-Smith. The original terms of this contract approved by the School Committee October 19, 1976, provided for payment of $19,296, plus an additional $540 for travel expenses (see attached contract) a total payment of $19,836. However, the letter to you regarding this contract dated October 21, 1976 (see attached letter) incorrectly listed payment as only $19,296, or a lesser difference of $540.

This letter is submitted to correct the error made in the original award letter to you and to restore payment to Mr. Robert Stanley Sterling-Smith of the amount in the contract approved by the Boston School Committee.

Funds for this payment are included within the present ESAA federal grant.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD J. WINTER,
Secretary.

LEGAL SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston, I request your written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement and to award to Francis J. DiMento and James J. Sullivan, Attorneys-at-Law, 100 State St., Boston, Massachusetts the following amendment to a contract for legal representation in matters relating to civil proceedings involving racial imbalance and desegregation.

1. Change amount from $275,000 to $300,000.

Since the services to be provided under the proposed contract are to be both professional and confidential in nature, and due to the experience and past performance of Messrs. DiMento and Sullivan in matters relating to civil proceedings involving racial imbalance and desegregation, it is the view of the Boston School Committee that publicly inviting proposals would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD J. WINTER,
Secretary.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston, I request your written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement and to award to Suffolk University the following amendments to a contract for participation in the development of educational programs at Horace Mann Middle School:

(1) Change termination date from October 31, 1976, to December 31, 1976.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be provided under this contract and the expertise of the contractor in providing such services, it is the determination of the Board of Superintendents, and has been approved by the School Committee, that the public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

Yours truly,
EDWARD J. WINTER,
Secretary.

The "Constitution"
Affectionately called "Old Ironsides"

The U.S.S. Constitution lies in dock at the United States Naval Shipyard, across the Charles River at Wapping and Chelsea Streets, Charlestown. She was launched in 1797 at Hartt's Shipyard, a short distance from her present resting place. In the next year she helped clear the coast and the West Indies of French privateers. Later engagements with the British in the War of 1812 brought her undying fame and her nickname Old Ironsides. The 44-gun frigate was constructed of well-seasoned live oak and red cedar timbers secured by bolts and copper sheathing made by Paul Revere. Now restored and seaworthy, the historic craft may be boarded daily, 9:30 to 4, free. Uniforms, cannon, and newspaper accounts of the War of 1812 are displayed.

Boston Creates an Excellent Partnership

Boston University and National Park Service, Mayor Kevin H. White, and B. U. President John R. Silber join in New Educational Program at ceremonies held on January 25, in Charlestown Navy Yard.

The National Park Service and Boston University, on January 25, signed an agreement to establish an innovative program in urban environmental education at the Boston National Historical Park, formerly the Charlestown Navy Yard. The Park Service pledged to spend $2,020,000 by next September 30 to rehabilitate the twenty-nine-acre park area in the former navy yard and to have a study of Boston's historic buildings prepared by the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities.

The program in urban environmental education, known as Historic and Urban Environment Studies (HUES), will be conducted in the City of Boston by Boston University's Human Environment Institute. The program will offer instruction about both the natural and urban environment of the city. The National Historical Park site was chosen in part because of its nearness to Boston's natural, historical, architectural, and human resources which will form the subject matter of HUES.

This is the first time that the United States Department of Interior's National Park Service has joined with an urban university to establish such a program. The program is aimed at youths, community organizations, and individuals. Its goals are to provide a better understanding of Boston's history, to encourage the conservation of natural and cultural resources, and to increase understanding of Boston's human environment.

The agreement was signed on January 25, in the presence of Boston Mayor Kevin H. White, by Boston University President John R. Silber and Jack E. Stark, North Atlantic regional director of the National Park Service.

Also representing the university were Vice-Presidents Gerald J. Gross and Daniel J. Finn, and James C. Gillis, director of the Boston University Human Environment Institute. Hugh S. Gurney, superintendent of Boston National Historical Park also participated in the ceremonies.

"Solving the problems of the cities must become one of this nation's top priorities," Mayor Kevin White commented, "so I am pleased to have this program in Boston. It will help us in two ways: the renovation of the Charlestown Navy Yard will bring our city federal funds and the jobs that those funds generate; and the Historic and Urban Environment Studies programs will help us to become more fully aware of Boston's many historic, natural, and human resources." Mayor White praised the National Park Service on its inauguration of the new program.

The agreement provides that the Human Environment Institute, established by Boston University as a center where scholars and teachers from many disciplines can work together to study the relationship of man and the environment, will locate in a renovated marine barracks at the former navy yard. The former navy yard is only one of seven historic sites included in the newly authorized park. Other sites are Faneuil Hall, Old North Church, the Paul Revere House, Old South Meeting House, the Old State House, and Bunker Hill.

The institute will develop curriculum, workshops, seminars, tours, and other activities for HUES. It will also provide faculty, manage the program, and operate the facilities in cooperation with the National Park Service.

Programs will be developed for youngsters from the first grade through high school, college students, teachers and interns, government employees, and the general public.

The center will serve as a base from which Bostonians can study the city's varied resources, including marine life, architecture, energy use, history, and others. It is expected that faculties of several Boston University schools and colleges will be involved in the program, which may become a prototype for other cities.

Dr. Silber said, "Boston University is one of this country's largest urban universities. It has long been committed to working with the City of Boston in the important job of saving our city. I am pleased to add this program, aimed at helping all of us to understand the urban environment more fully, to the many other programs in which Boston University and the City of Boston work together to our mutual benefit."

Regional Director Stark praised the joint effort with Boston University in the City of Boston. He said that "The Park Service has become increasingly involved in environmental education, and environmental education is especially important in an urban setting. Here in Boston we have some of America's most historically interesting sites. They should be viewed, interpreted, and understood. Through this co-operative program thousands of young people will become more aware, not only of Boston's heritage, but also of its development and natural features."

Institute Director Gillis explained that 80 percent of the population of the United States lives in urban areas and that both the Human Environment Institute and the National Park Service share a concern for these people. "They have real problems and cannot be ignored," he said.

The institute, now in its third year of operation, conducts a wide range of programs in environmental education in Boston and at Boston University's Sargent Camp in Peterborough, New Hampshire.

Financial support for the center will be provided partially by the National Park Service. Grants from other agencies and foundations are anticipated so that the center will eventually become self-sustaining. No funds from Boston taxpayers have been used in this project.

A FEW LAUGHS

Three men were repairing telephone wires. As Betty drove along in her car she saw all three men climbing poles.

She said, "Look at those nuts! You'd think I had never driven a car before."

"Do you sing and play much?" a young man asked the pretty girl who was carelessly strumming the keys of the piano.

"Only to kill time," she replied.

"You've got a fine weapon, I must admit," ventured the young man.

"Just once, I'd like to see a waitress with enough courage to lay a check on the table face up."

The social worker, visiting the inmates of the local jail, asked a variety of questions as she went from cell to cell. Finally, of one prisoner who was enjoying a long stay in the workhouse, she asked: "Was it your love of liquor that brought you here?"

"Gosh, no, lady," he replied. "You can't get nothin' in here."

The weekly poker group, made up of inveterate poker players, was in the midst of an exciting hand when one of the members suffered a heart attack. He was carried to a couch, where he breathed his last.

"What do we do now?" asked one of the members.

The oldest player thought for a moment and then:

"Out of respect for the departed I suggest we finish the hand standing up."

MUSEUM VISITS SPONSORED

As a result of a $20,000 supplemental appropriation from the Massachusetts Department of Education, all organized community groups throughout the Commonwealth are now eligible for free visits to the Boston Children's Museum. Groups wishing to take advantage of the sponsored visits must call the Museum (522-4800), in advance to reserve a day and time for their visit.

Last year, funds from the Metropolitan District Commission supported free Museum admission for over 30,000 children in schools and community groups in the Metropolitan Boston area.

For the 1977 fiscal year, the state Legislature shifted the Museum's admissions-support funding to the budgets of the Department of Education. Eligibility for sponsorship was redefined to include school groups statewide, but not community groups. The Museum requested additional funding for community group admissions, which was approved last December.

THIN ICE: HAZARDOUS!

The Metropolitan District Commission has urged that all persons terminate using any body of water under MDC control for any ice-related recreation or walking.

MDC Commissioner John F. Snedeker said, "While present thickness of ice-covered areas in most cases is adequate for such activity, our examination reveals danger areas continue to exist, such as at springs, under bridges, and in bodies of water where draining of water takes place." He added, "There is no safeguard we can employ, following a thaw, to communicate with all the citizenry on a daily basis concerning hazardous areas." The safe and supervised alternative, he concluded, "would be to use one of the MDC's twenty-six artificial skating rinks."

Laurence J. Carpenter, superintendent of the MDC Police, said, "After receiving reports from our field staff, I have ordered 'Keep off the Ice' signs erected along the Charles River."

MARINE INDUSTRIAL PARK: PROGRESS

Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White, January 26, 1977.

When I created the Office of Economic Development eight years ago, I gave it a specific mandate: improve the economic climate of this city; create jobs, especially blue-collar jobs for Boston residents; and find new uses for our industrial potential so that it again generates revenue for Boston.

Today, we can honestly say we are doing that. The navy abandoned this property four years ago. We took it over a little over a year ago, and since then we've come a long way.

This place is real. It is not some planner's dream.

There are men working here.

The ship that came in yesterday ("Vandenberg") will be here for several weeks. One hundred men will work on her and that means money in their pockets and money for the city's economy.

That's what the Boston Marine Industrial Park is all about.

In the past fourteen months, we have created the equivalent of 400 jobs here. By 1980, if we are only 80 percent successful, we will have created 2,000.

Remember, those are jobs here — jobs for Boston's people. In the past fourteen months, we have brought twenty-three acres of land back into productive use. By 1980, if we are only 80 percent successful, that total will be eighty acres.

The buildings that you see around here are valuable assets. We can't just tear them down and use them or fill. They need some work, and we have the funds to do that work.

Five million dollars will be spent this year to modernize these buildings and drydocks.

The "Vandenberg" that docked here yesterday is the fourteenth ship that has been repaired here in the past fourteen months. That's one a month, and I think that is an excellent track record for any new business.

The Boston Marine Industrial Park is a new business. It's more than that. It's a growth industry.

Fourteen months ago, we were generating no revenue here. Now we are generating more than three-quarters of a million dollars.

Considering that we don't even own the land yet, that's to our credit.

POLLUTION HOT LINE

The Metropolitan District Commission has established a twenty-four-hour "Pollution Hot Line" for the use of concerned individuals who spot anything that contaminates or pollutes MDC beaches, recreational areas, and harbor waters.

Anyone noticing such problem areas is urged to telephone the Pollution Hot Line, where MDC personnel are on duty at all hours and ready to offer immediate response in an attempt to correct such unfavorable situations, according to MDC Commissioner John F. Snedeker. "The intent of this public alert system is to utilize the observations of those members of the citizenry who may note problems our own personnel don't happen to spot firsthand. The faster we can learn of any situation that may jeopardize or contaminate public waters the faster we can take action," Commissioner Snedeker added.

The Pollution Hot Line numbers are as follows; from Monday through Friday, between the hours of 9 A.M. and 5 P.M., the number to call at MDC Sewerage Division Headquarters is 727-5253; on weekends, nights, and holidays the phone number is 727-5220, MDC Police Headquarters.

COUNCIL ENDORSEMENT

Memo from Councillors John J. Kerrigan and Frederick Langone.

The Boston City Council has endorsed a call by member John J. Kerrigan that a part of limited-use dredging equipment be sold by the Park Department and proceeds go to restore austerity cuts in "people services."

Funds could be applied toward engagement of referees and umpires to officiate at Park League sports schedules and ensure a fuller slate of activities this summer, the Council agreed.

Councillor Kerrigan, chairman of the Council's Ways and Means Committee, won approval of his order asking the Mayor to bring the matter to the attention of Parks and Recreation Commissioner Peter G. Meade.

A former park commissioner ordered the dredging equipment in the summer of 1974, paying $71,802, plus $3,005 freight charges from Minneapolis, Councillor Kerrigan noted.

He said the portable dredging barge has been employed only two seasons on the Muddy Brook watercourse in the Fens area. There is some departmental feeling, he said, that the piece of equipment cannot adequately handle the scope of work entailed in the Muddy Brook project.

"The machinery is presently in winter storage. This would be an ideal time to begin the process of selling it for what it can bring," Councillor Kerrigan said.

"Perhaps some community or agency could better utilize this piece of specialized, limited-use apparatus.

"I would prefer to see proceeds go into direct services for those who use the playgrounds and parks," he added. "This should be the first priority, especially when we have a tight budget."

Councillor Kerrigan said the Park Department last year sharply cut officiating in Park League sports schedules and has slated cuts again this summer in the current budget.

"We have time to restore the officiating this year. We have time to sell a piece of low-priority equipment and channel some funds into services of city-wide appeal," he said.

REMEMBER THIS ADDRESS?

The Gettysburg Address was delivered by President Abraham Lincoln at the dedication of the National Cemetery on Gettysburg Battlefield, November 19, 1863. It is a masterpiece of literature. President Lincoln, our sixteenth president, was born February 12, 1809, and died April 15, 1865.

Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting-place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work they have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honoured dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they here gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that the dead shall not have died in vain, that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

EMERGENCY SHELTERS AVAILABLE FOR BOSTON'S ELDERLY

Mayor Kevin White announced on January 31, that the city will open and staff six emergency shelters for the elderly on a twenty-four-hour basis for as long as needed during the emergency caused by prolonged, severe-weather conditions.

The action is a response to increasing requests for emergency aid from Boston's senior citizens.

"Many of our elderly have been isolated in their homes by the severe cold, have run out of food or fuel, or no longer have money to buy either," Mayor White said.

"To meet this very real need, we have opened six shelters across the city where they can be temporarily housed, fed, and cared for until the crisis has past. I urge all seniors without food or fuel to call 725-4580, and we will provide transportation for them to the emergency shelter nearest their homes.

"Cots, blankets, and food will be provided, and a public health nurse will be on hand in each center on a twenty-four-hour basis," the Mayor added.

The six emergency elderly shelters are:

— Paris Street Recreation Building, 112 Paris Street, East Boston — serving: East Boston, North End, Charlestown, and Chinatown.

— Roslindale Municipal Building, 6 Cummins Highway, Roslindale — serving: Roslindale, West Roxbury, Jamaica Plain, and Hyde Park.

— Brighton Municipal Building, 20 Chestnut Hill Avenue, Brighton — serving: Brighton and Allston, Back Bay, Beacon Hill, and the Fenway.

— Shelburne Recreation Center, 2730 Washington Street, Roxbury — serving: Roxbury, Uphams Corner, Franklin Field, North Dorchester, and the South End.

— St. Ambrose School Hall, 23 Leonard Street, Dorchester — serving: Neponset, Cedar Grove, Lower Mills, and Fields Corner.

— L Street Recreation Center, 1663 Columbia Road, South Boston — serving: South Boston.

In addition to the shelters, two of the city's housing inspectors will be available through the twenty-four-hour service (725-4000) until 1 A.M., to act immediately on emergency calls from citizens with no heat. They will maintain a direct liaison to the Boston Housing Court.

Mayor White also expressed appreciation to the variety of city departments and agencies who have contributed staff and supplies for the six shelters. They are:

The Department of Health and Hospitals, blankets; the Boston Red Cross, cots; Parks Department, recreation staff; Traffic and Parking, transportation; Little City Halls, supervisory staff; and Federated Dorchester Neighborhood Houses; Council of Elders; and Southwest Boston Senior Services, nutrition programs providing food with emergency funds from the federal Title VII Nutrition Program.

URBAN HISTORY LECTURE AT BPL

Professor Sam Bass Warner, Jr., well-known author and lecturer on urban history, will offer a course in the NEH Learning Library Program at the Boston Public Library. The course is entitled "The Way We Really Live: Social Change in Metropolitan Boston, Since 1920" and is the fruit of Professor Warner's ongoing research, funded by Rockefeller and Guggenheim Fellowships, into the nature of social change in twentieth-century Boston. The course will meet on Thursdays, 5:30 to 7:30 P.M., for eight weeks through March 24. It will be free and open to the general public. Enrollment forms may be obtained from the NEH Learning Library Office at the Central Library's building in Copley Square.

Professor Warner holds the prestigious William Edwards Huntington Chair in History and Social Science at Boston University. He is an acknowledged national authority on urban topics and author of several important works including the well-known Streetcar Suburbs: The Process of Growth in Boston, 1870-1900. He has his doctorate in history from Harvard University, where he studied with Oscar Handlin, and prior to Boston University he was in the History Department at the University of Michigan.

Professor Warner achieved local recognition last year with a provocative inaugural address in the Faneuil Hall Bicentennial Forum series. He has been a consistent constructive critic and interpreter of American society and culture, a role he expects to continue in his Learning Library lecture series. The content of the series will be published under the Library's imprint shortly after the close of the course.

BOSTON OPENS JOB PLACEMENT CENTERS

Mayor Kevin White has announced the formation of a three-member Job Placement Task Force to find jobs for city employees affected by recent layoffs, and, at the same time, issued a plea to metropolitan area employers to come forward with job openings.

Thomas Sampson, managing partner of Arthur Andersen and Company and president of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce; Howard Foley, executive director of Jobs for Massachusetts, Inc.; and Mary Beth Danenbarger of the city's Personnel Department will make up the task force. Upon reviewing the skills and previous job experience of laid-off city workers, the three will seek out available positions for them in the private sector.

"In an effort to save some $10 to $12 million before the end of this fiscal year, we are being forced to lay off hundreds of city employees," Mayor White said.

"The process is now under way. It is extremely painful. We are sensitive to the needs of those employees affected and are seriously concerned about their futures.

"Most of those laid off have been dedicated public servants and have given years of good service to this city. They deserve and will get all of our help in locating new jobs.

"We have decided to move as quickly as possible to find those jobs in order to eliminate, or at least minimize, the personal hardships caused by the city's fiscal problems," the Mayor said.

"I am extremely grateful to Thomas Sampson and Howard Foley for lending their expertise to this effort. Both men have far-reaching connections in the business world and with their help we hope to locate enough jobs to place nearly all our former employees."

Mayor White said the work of the task force will be a welcome adjunct to ongoing placement efforts of the city's Economic Development and Industrial Commission (EDIC) and its Personnel Department.

EDIC has sent out 1,400 letters to prospective employers requesting that those with available jobs contact City Hall with that information.

In addition, the city's Personnel Department has set up two job placement centers, one in City Hall and another in the Department of Health and Hospitals to assist laid-off workers in finding new employment.

Laid-off workers include: tradesmen, recreation instructors, health and housing inspectors, custodians, engineers, lawyers, clerical and secretarial personnel. All have given an average of two years' service to the city.

"The key to our success in locating new jobs for these employees is help and cooperation from the private sector," Mayor White said.

"I am calling on all employers in the metropolitan area who have jobs available in any of these categories to let us know. Call our City Hall Job Placement Center at 725-4595.

Mr. John Boyle of the city's Personnel Department is in charge of the City Hall Job Placement Center which is located in Room 111. The Health and Hospitals job placement center is run by Deputy Commissioner Paul Foster; is located in the Employment and Recruitment Office; and can be reached by calling 424-5732.

Both centers have a representative of the Division of Employment Security on hand for job referral and information on unemployment compensation and other benefits.

Each laid-off employee receives a written notice of termination and a booklet detailing their rights, benefits, and suggested avenues for locating another job.

Upon termination all receive checks covering any sick leave or vacation time still owed them and all will receive full health insurance coverage through March 31.

Each is provided with an exit interview at either job placement center offering career counseling, job retraining opportunities, and answers to any questions that will make their transition easier.

CONTRACTS AWARDED

The Mayor has approved the award of the following contracts to the lowest eligible bidders:

SUFFOLK COUNTY

Municipal Court, Criminal Business

PARKING VIOLATION TICKETS

For furnishing and delivering 1,300,000 parking violation tickets, at a cost of $45,162, for the period July 1, 1976, to June 30, 1977, awarded to Arnold Graphic Industries, Inc.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT

Purchasing Division

EDIBLE COMMODITIES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On May 5, 1976, your Honor approved a permission to award contracts to several companies for furnishing perishable foods and other edible commodities to the various city departments, for one year beginning July 1, 1976.

Authority is requested to award a contract, without public advertisement, to the following named company for furnishing perishable foods and other edible commodities, for the period from January 1, 1977, to June 30, 1977, inclusive: Morton Frozen Foods, 2007 Earhart Street, Box 7547, Charlottesville, Virginia 22906.

Respectfully yours,
FRANK F. CHIN,
Purchasing Agent.

X-RAY TUBE

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of a requisition from the Pediatric Radiology Department of the Boston City Hospital for the immediate replacement of an X-ray tube.

Due to the urgency, time does not permit to advertise for bids. General Electric Company, Medical Systems Division has submitted an informal written quotation for this tube. This company is the sole supplier.

Authority is therefore requested to dispense with publicly advertising for bids and award a contract, without public advertisement, to General Electric Company, Medical Systems Division.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $4,245, net 30 days.

Respectfully yours,
FRANK F. CHIN,
Purchasing Agent.

AFFAIRS OF THE ELDERLY

SENIOR SHUTTLE PROGRAM

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I hereby request your permission to dispense with bidding and to award a contract, in an amount not to exceed $75,616, to Atamian Ford, Inc., 930 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Mass. Payment for this contract will be made from the Community Development Block Grant.

On August 17, 1976, approval was granted to award a contract to Warren Coveney Ford Sales, Inc., which was sole respondent to an invitation to submit a bid proposal for the leasing of mini-buses to be used in the city's Senior Shuttle Program. Subsequently, Warren Coveney Ford Sales, Inc. has ceased operations and Atamian Ford, Inc. is now responsible for performance of the terms and conditions of the bid proposal originally submitted by Warren Coveney Ford Sales, Inc.

Under the terms of the agreement, Atamian Ford, Inc. will furnish and service the fleet of Senior Shuttle minibuses. The period of performance shall be from September 15, 1976, through June 30, 1977.

Due to the new developments cited above, which have occurred since the original award was approved, I recommend that a contractual relationship between the city and Atamian Ford, Inc. be established at this time. In view of the fact that the Senior Shuttle Program has been under way since September 15, 1976, and is utilizing vehicles and services originally furnished by Warren Coveney Ford Sales, Inc., public advertising would not serve any useful or practical purpose.

Sincerely,
MAUREEN SCHAFFNER,
Commissioner.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT

CONSULTATION SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Permission is respectfully requested to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract for consulting services to Mark F. Conley, 525 Talbot Avenue, Dorchester, Mass., during the period January 1, 1977, through June 30, 1977, at a cost not to exceed $3,000, at a rate of $73 per day. His present contract expires December 31, 1976.

The consultant will continue his review of vendor payment procedures. Considerable progress has been made to date and it is anticipated that significant improvements in the processing of payments will result from this work.

As indicated previously, Mr. Conley is uniquely qualified for this work because of his long experience in the Comptroller's Department of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. I believe that no public interest would be served by public advertisement for bids.

Very truly yours,
WALTER W. MERRILL,
City Auditor.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT

RAZING OF STRUCTURES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following buildings or structures have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

5 Putnam Place, Ward 9. Emergency bid submitted in bid box; one copy to Auditing Department. Bid box opened by Mr. Vey's office. This building is in an unsafe and dangerous condition, a hazard to the general public.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 802, Acts of 1972, as amended, particularly section 124 thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the buildings or structures.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of buildings or structures, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following: Napoli Wrecking Co., Inc., $2,873; Mystic Building Wrecking, $2,800; and Tri Construction Co., $6,000.

Mystic Building Wrecking Co., Inc., 265 Carter Street, Chelsea, Massachusetts, has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bids for the individual buildings or structures were not requested because it would be a practical, physical impossibility for several different contractors to conduct efficient contracting operations simultaneously in individual buildings or structures. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference and each contractor would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent contractors. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the total buildings or structures to be demolished, and that handling the buildings or structures as one unit results in one administrative cost to the city rather than what would result from handling the individual buildings or structures as separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case in a contract price over $2,000, or over the statutory limitations upon awards that can be made without advertising unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety so requiring, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding, without advertising, as required in the City Charter, of a contract in the sum of $2,800, to the Mystic Building Wrecking Co., Inc., 265 Carter Street Chelsea, Massachusetts 02150.

Very truly yours,
RICHARD L. GRANARA, JR.,
For Building Commissioner.

Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference and each contractor would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent contractors. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the total buildings or structures to be demolished, and that handling the buildings or structures as one unit results in one administrative cost to the city rather than what would result from handling the individual buildings or structures as separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case in a contract price of over $2,000, or over the statutory limitations upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety so requiring, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding, without advertising, as required in the City Charter of a contract in the sum of $11,665, to the John J. Duane Wrecking Co., Inc., 600 Southern Artery, Quincy, Mass.

Very truly yours,
RICHARD L. GRANARA, JR.,
For Building Commissioner.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following buildings or structures have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

88 Day Street, Ward 10. Emergency bid submitted in bid box, one copy to Auditing Department. Bid box opened by Mr. Vey's office. This building is in an unsafe and dangerous condition, a hazard to the general public.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 802, Acts of 1972, as amended, particularly section 124 thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the buildings or structures.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of buildings or structures, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Tri Construction Company, $2,300; John J. Duane Co., Inc., $2,345; Ups & Downs Wrecking Corp., $2,800; and Mystic Building Wrecking, $2,375.

Tri Construction Company, 1034 Blue Hill Avenue, Milton, Mass., has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bids for the individual buildings or structures were not requested because it would be a practical, physical impossibility for several different contractors to conduct efficient contracting operations simultaneously in individual buildings or structures. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference and each contractor would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent contractors. CRIMINAL JUSTICE JOBS FOR YOUTH

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As Director of the Mayor's Office of Criminal Justice, I respectfully request your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertising in the award of a contract to the Boys' Club of Boston, Inc., 15 Green Street, Charlestown, Mass., in an amount not to exceed $192,304, for the period January 1, 1977, through December 31, 1977.

Award of the contract is made pursuant to a grant received by the City of Boston from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration through the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice under the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974 (P. L. 93-415).

The purpose of the grant is to allow Jobs for Youth, Inc., a private, nonprofit Boston organization to implement an employment project for youths 16 to 18 years old. Jobs for Youth, Inc. was chosen among some 20 other Boston organizations that answered a request for proposals put out by the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice and supported by this office. They were selected because (1) they have an extremely successful history of job placement; (2) their application fell squarely within the guidelines; and (3) they have a commitment of joint funding, a priority consideration in funding any program supported by temporary federal monies.

Boys' Club of Boston, itself is serving primarily as a fiscal conduit for the funds; although, they will also be making referrals to the program and serve in a limited advisory capacity. The financial management capabilities of the Boys' Club of Boston are superior. They have an excellent reputation and are well qualified to act in a fiduciary capacity for this grant.

Thus because of the expertise of Jobs for Youth in the employment field, the expertise of the Boys' Club of Boston as fiscal managers, the well developed working relationship between the two groups and the competitive and highly selective nature of the process by which this grant was awarded, it is respectfully requested that public bidding be dispensed with.

Sincerely,

DONALD A. MCGOWAN,
Executive Director.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

EQUIPMENT REPAIRS

DEAR SIR:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award to Woodward's Spring Shop, Inc., 111 McGrath Highway, Quincy, Mass., the task of performing extensive repairs to Ladder 11, in the amount of $4,934.85, on Service Order No. 6780-77.

The Service Order is covered under Contract No. RS 001 for Repetitive Services for the year 1976-1977.

On November 15, 1976, the City Auditor and the Law Department gave permission for the Fire Department to follow this procedure due to the emergency nature of the work which involves critical fire-fighting equipment and which exceeds the $2,000 limitation.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE H. PAUL,
Fire Commissioner.

DEAR SIR:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award to International Harvester Co., 230 Southampton Street, Boston, Mass., the task of performing extensive repairs to the diesel engine of Ladder 4-224T, in the amount of $2,673.01, on Service Order No. 6824-77.

The Service Order is covered under Contract No. RS 001 for Repetitive Services for the year 1976-1977.

On November 15, 1976, the City Auditor and the Law Department gave permission for the Fire Department to follow this procedure due to the emergency nature of the work which involves critical fire-fighting equipment and which exceeds the $2,000 limitation.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE H. PAUL,
Fire Commissioner.

FOOD DELIVERY

DEAR SIR:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals at its meeting of June 22, 1976, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award, without advertising, a contract to Aladdin Synergetics, Inc., One Vantage Way, P. O. Box 10888, Nashville, Tennessee, for the period July 1, 1976, through August 31, 1976, at a cost to the city not to exceed $7,830.

Under this contract Aladdin Synergetics, Inc. will continue for a period of two months to furnish services of a centralized food delivery system to the Boston City Hospital. The reason for this extension is that Aladdin Synergetics lost its bid for a new contract to Therma Tray Corporation of Springfield, New Jersey, the low bidder. In order to allow an evaluation of Therma Tray's capability, a continuation of the services by Aladdin beyond the contract date June 30, 1976, was necessary.

Therefore, since the Aladdin System is presently installed at Boston City Hospital, and inasmuch as the cost to the city is reasonable, and services can be continued without interruption, your Honor's permission is respectfully requested to extend this contract for the indicated period.

Very truly yours,

DAVID L. ROSENBLUM,
Commissioner.

EQUIPMENT REPAIRS

DEAR SIR:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals at its meeting of April 27, 1976, I hereby respectfully request your Honor's permission to award, without advertising, a contract to Beckman Instrument Company, Wakefield, Mass., for the period September 1, 1976, through September 1, 1977, at a cost to the city not to exceed $3,500.

Under this contract, Beckman Instrument Company will repair eleven Beckman OZ Analyzers presently installed at Boston City Hospital.

An oxygen analyzer is an instrument used to measure concentration of oxygen a patient is breathing. This information is correlated with the level of oxygen in the patient's blood to determine the severity of his illness and what mode of therapy should be instituted. Problems which may occur when proper monitoring of oxygen is impaired include blindness in infants, permanent lung damage in adults who are exposed to high oxygen concentration for prolonged periods and in children and adults, insufficient oxygen concentration can cause a variety of serious consequences, including death.

All eleven Beckman OZ Analyzers require factory overhaul so that it is necessary to return them directly to the manufacturer. Equipment and parts needed to perform this task are only available from Beckman Company. In my opinion, therefore, no useful purpose would be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Very truly yours,

DAVID L. ROSENBLUM,
Commissioner.

The entire cost of Mr. Daly's services will be paid out of administrative funds allocated to the city under section 112 of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH R. DUGGAN,

Administrator.

RECREATION PROGRAM

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with inviting proposals by advertising in the City Record in awarding to George DiLorenzo, 11 Havre Street, East Boston, MA 02128, a contract to conduct aquatic programs for children and adults with special needs at various facilities throughout Boston, from January 1, 1977, to June 30, 1977, for a total not to exceed $2,700. This is to be charged to the Parks and Recreation Department budget 1-11-41 (29) Miscellaneous Contractual Services.

The services to be provided by Mr. DiLorenzo include promotion and publicizing programs within the community recruiting and registration of participants, recruiting sufficient volunteers to enable individualized instruction within the program, training said volunteers as to appropriate procedures and techniques to be utilized, and in cooperation with the American Red Cross, conduct a training program for swimming instructors in working with the handicapped. Mr. DiLorenzo will work 270 hours at $10 per hour. Time and location of services to be determined by the Parks and Recreation Department.

Because of the special nature of the services to be provided by Mr. DiLorenzo, no useful purpose will be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Very truly yours,
PETER G. MEADE,
Commissioner.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT

CONTAINERIZED SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I hereby request your written permission to dispense with public advertisement and to award a contract to S.C.A. Services, Inc., 140 Brookline Avenue, Boston, Mass. 02215 for containerized service at the Suffolk County House of Correction at Deer Island.

The term of the contract shall be from December 20, 1976, to June 30, 1977. The amount to be paid under this contract shall not exceed $3,500.

The service to be performed under this contract was advertised for bids in June, 1976. The low bidder, to whom I requested your permission to award a contract on July 2, 1976 has failed to provide evidence of sufficient insurance and bond coverage, and is unable to perform the service adequately. Since S.C.A. Services was the second lowest bidder, and because the continued provision of this service is essential to the safety and security of the Suffolk County House of Correction at Deer Island, it is my opinion that further public advertisement would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM W. NICKERSON,
Commissioner.

Boston Urban Wilds: Conservation Program

The Wetlands — Wetlands, both coastal and inland, play a vital role in nature. Depending upon the surrounding environmental conditions, they can be an important factor in flood control and the maintenance of water supply. Wetlands offer food and shelter to migratory birds and upland mammals and create recreational and educational opportunities. In the last one hundred years alone, however, an estimated 6,000 acres of coastal wetlands within the inner portion of Boston Harbor have been destroyed. In this same amount of time, over half of the city's inland wetlands have been lost. Consequently, a swamp or marsh is a rare and valuable resource for Boston today.

A freshwater wetland forms in a poorly drained area where the soil is saturated or covered by water for several months of the year. It often develops as the later stages of pond or lake evolution or "succession." Over many years, a pond or lake becomes increasingly shallow as sediments accumulate on the bottom. As this occurs, the vegetation around the body of water is able to spread inward. It changes in character until the pond or lake disappears, leaving dry land that is interspersed with a newly developed drainage system.

Increased water runoff flowing into an already poorly drained area can also lead to the formation of a freshwater wetland. The marsh or swamp that develops corresponds to one of the later stages of pond or lake succession. Six categories of freshwater wetlands have been identified within the City of Boston: seasonally flooded basins or flats, fresh meadows, shallow fresh marshes, deep fresh marshes, shrub swamps, and wooded swamps.

Coastal or saltwater wetlands occur where land is encroached upon by tidal waters. The land may be flooded daily by the tide, or only during storms. The salt-tolerant plants that take root in these areas provide habitats for over 250 animal species, and are also vitally important because they form the ecological niche in which the food chain begins. The Urban Wilds study has identified three types of saltwater wetlands in Boston: tidal salt marshes, irregularly flooded salt meadows, and ditched salt meadows.

Vegetation — The vegetation found in unprotected natural areas is dramatically different from that found by the early settlers of Boston. In the seventeenth century, the Boston Basin was completely forested except along certain sections of the coastline where salt marshes existed and in bogs and swamps not yet firm enough to sustain trees.

As Boston grew, the land and vegetation were radically altered. The virgin forests were logged in order to provide timber for houses and shipbuilding, fuel, and cleared land for cultivation. Coastal saltwater marshes were diked, dredged, and filled in order to create land for residential, industrial, and commercial development. During the nineteenth and twentieth centuries agricultural land gradually became residential. Land which was not built upon or farmed slowly changed from abandoned cultivated fields to fields of pioneer shrubs and trees, which eventually grew into new woodlands. Over the years, the remaining woodlands in Boston have progressed from "pioneer" species such as aspen, cherry, ailanthus, box elder, and pine to species such as maple, yellow birch, hemlock, spruce, oak, and hickory. This succession takes place because the pioneer species are much better adapted to the bare soil conditions. Their presence changes the site conditions so that the more permanent species can thrive, preventing erosion of the soil and providing food and shelter for a variety of wildlife.

The stages of natural succession, with their particular vegetative characteristics, are best understood through illustration. There are many examples found in Boston. In the Sawmill Marsh in West Roxbury, for example, the vegetation of the dry upland areas consists of oaks, low- and high-bush blueberries, witch hazel, and bracken. In the low moist areas, red maple, bitter-sweet, willow, alder, swamp azalea, and ferns are found. On the grounds of Roxbury Latin School, an abandoned cultivated field has grown into a woodland where white pine, elm, ash, birch, shagbark hickory, black locust, and service-berry can be observed. On disturbed sites along the Neponset River, quaking aspens, willows, and sumac grow profusely. In "the Ledge" on

Parker Hill grow many kinds of trees, including the tree of heaven and sycamore maples, black locusts, oaks, poplars, and ashes. Pin oaks, gray birches, and even occasional ferns grow out of the crevices in the cliffs. On the rim above the cliffs are a few black cherries and a red maple or two, and a large, rather flat field covered with many different kinds of wildflowers and grasses.

This, then, is the natural history of Boston — why and how it looks as it does today. Whether one agrees with actions in the past, the Boston that remains must be the present point of departure for determining how it will look in the future. The next step, therefore, is to examine more closely the natural areas remaining in the city.

A SALUTE TO PRINTERS AND PRINTING

The Boston Public Library's Central Library complex in Copley Square is currently offering three major exhibits honoring the printing arts. The exhibits will run through February 28.

Special care has traditionally been lavished on books about the art of bookmaking and printing — a care richly evident in the exhibit "A Salute to Printers and Printing" in the McKim Building Lobby and Chavannes Gallery. This exhibit provides a fine sampling of the Library's wide variety of resources on the history of printing, type design, and book production from the Renaissance to the present.

The department of Rare Books and Manuscripts is currently showing "WAD: Book Designer and Illustrator," a display of fine bindings and other works by the late William Addison Dwiggins.

Mr. Dwiggins, an internationally acclaimed designer, typographer, and illustrator, was a consultant to such firms as the Mergenthaler Linotype Company and Alfred A.

Knopf, Inc., publishers, the designer of such famous type faces as the Metro, Electra, and Caledonia series, and a prolific author in his field.

At the time of his death in 1956, Mr. Dwiggins was a resident of Hingham.

The Stinehour Press and the American Institute of Graphic Arts' "Best Books" are featured in a two-part exhibition in the Johnson Building's Boston Room.

The prestigious Stinehour Press of Lunenburg, Vermont, has chosen twenty-five of its favorite productions which are on display to celebrate the Press's twenty-fifth birthday. Each is a gem of contemporary book design and press work, bearing the Stinehour's special stamp of elegance.

The second part of this exhibit illustrates other examples of fine contemporary book design through selections from the American Institute of Graphic Arts' "Best Book of the Year" exhibits. The AIGA, an association of graphic designers, art decorators, and executives of printing and publishing firms, each year selects the fifty best books of the year in all areas of book production.

ORANGE LINE TO BE RELOCATED

Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White regarding relocation of MBTA Orange Line to Southwest Corridor, January 25, 1977.

I am enormously gratified by the $300 million federal commitment Boston has received to begin work on relocating the MBTA Orange Line to the Southwest Corridor and to bring other improvements to the city's public transit system.

I am grateful to Senator Brooke, Congressman Moakley, countless state and city officials, and neighborhood residents who have worked hard and long to secure these funds and to strike a balance between the need for a balanced transportation system and the concerns of the neighborhoods around the corridor.

Four years ago we moved to stop construction of an expressway in the Southwest Corridor because of the damage it would have brought to our neighborhoods — to Jamaica Plain, Roxbury, and the South End — by displacing families and local businesses.

Now we have arrived at a new threshold. This commitment to the MBTA represents the highest priority for our city in terms of capital investment. It signals the final coming together of both a much-needed transportation plan for these heavily commuting areas and the city's commitment to protect and revitalize its neighborhoods.

DAV HONORS OLLIE NOONAN

The Massachusetts Department of the Disabled American Veterans has approved the establishment of a chapter in the name of Ollie Noonan, Jr., Associated Press and former Herald Traveler photographer killed in action in Vietnam. Paul Rafferty of Melrose, one of the organizers, said the new chapter would share quarters with the Lt. Norman Prince Post in Melrose. Mr. Noonan was killed in 1969, near Hue, when the helicopter he was riding in was shot down.

COUNCIL TO PREVIEW BUDGET REQUESTS

The concept of "zero-based budgeting" will be applied in City Council review of expenditure requests for the new fiscal year starting July 1, Council Ways and Means Committee Chairman John J. Kerrigan said on February 2.

His order won Council endorsement asking Mayor White to instruct city and county agency heads to be prepared to defend not only new, but also existing, programs and justify them from the first dollar of costs.

In a detailed list of guidelines for Ways and Means Committee procedure to be sent each city and county agency, the chairman said emphasis will be on increasing productivity and services to the taxpayer public.

"We shall be looking for these spokespeople to outline their specific goals for fiscal 1978, and the priorities they will set given constraints of the city's fiscal state," Chairman Kerrigan noted.

"Specifically, each will be asked how he or she intends to increase the level of service during the coming fiscal year," he added.

He said he will ask for the detailed list of queries in advance of public hearings to be scheduled for each county and city agency in the City Council chamber prior to the committee's report on individual budgets.

He said the committee scrutiny will encompass existing programs — some of long-standing nature that have automatically been "built into" each succeeding annual budget without question.

Agency heads will be asked to focus on traditional services with a view to introducing improvements in delivery or streamlining processes.

"We'd like to see departments try innovations, first on a pilot basis, and then extend those ideas which have merit," the Council member said. "This could do much to help esprit de corps and vitalize departments."

Among other points in the query guideline, department heads are asked to give details on projected expenditures and projected revenues for the fiscal year; comparison with the previous fiscal period; percentage differences in appropriations between the years; explanation of projected surpluses or deficits in the current operating budget; how adjustments are planned to meet allowances in the new budget.

Agency spokespersons will also be asked to state if any non-bid contracts for services or supplies over $2,000 will be necessary, and the reasons why. Chairman Kerrigan said each agency must spell out the amount of funds or grants from non-city monies in order to give a true picture of total costs for their operations.

CRIME PREVENTION SEMINARS

South Boston senior citizens are urged to attend any one of the six Crime Prevention Seminars to be held in the area throughout February and early March in order to learn how to avoid becoming a victim of crime.

The seminars are sponsored by the Boston Commission on the Affairs of the Elderly and are designed to provide seniors with practical information that will make them less vulnerable to crime in the street or home.

Topics to be covered by Elderly Commission and Boston Police Department representatives include: correct and incorrect home security procedures; (locks on doors and windows, the Ident-I-Guard Program), street theft and how to avoid it; security banking procedures, including direct deposit of social security checks; and recognizing the "flim flam" artist.

"Crime against the elderly is a tragic fact of urban life," said Maureen Schaffner, Commissioner of Elderly Affairs. "But our experience has shown that armed with the proper practical knowledge on how to protect themselves, most seniors can and will avoid becoming victims. These seminars are an attempt to reach and educate older Bostonians so that they can live and walk without fear."

Senior citizens requiring transportation to any of the seminars may call the South Boston Little City Hall at 268-6566.

The schedule of seminars is as follows:

February 17, Laboure GAC, 371 West Fourth Street, 1 to 3 P.M.

February 24, L Street Seniors, 1663 Columbia Road, 1 to 3 P.M.

March 1, Senior Citizen Drop-In Center (APAC), D Street Project 275 West Broadway, 1 to 3 P.M.

March 8, South Boston Neighborhood House Seniors, 521 East Seventh Street, 1:30 to 3:30 P.M.

DRUG ABUSE PROGRAM

The Mayor's Office of the Coordinating Council on Drug Abuse has initiated a ten-week professional training series on issues related to drug abuse for Community Schools and Youth Activities Commission workers. Topics to be covered in the weekly two-hour sessions, which began on January 31, include: Psychology of Alcohol and Drug Use; Pharmacology of Drugs and Alcohol; Referrals; Legal Issues; Prevention and Education; and Counseling.

According to Drug Abuse Executive Secretary Paul Robinson, "This program has been developed as an educational resource for YAC and Community Schools staff people who are regularly confronted with drug abuse problems in their daily work."

Each session begins with formal presentations on that week's subject by a specially selected panel of experts, followed in the second hour by questions from the floor and open discussion.

Commenting on the series, Mayor White observed, "It is yet another example of why Boston has achieved a national reputation for innovative and effective programs in the area of drug abuse."

The training series continues through April 11, and is being held at 73 Hemenway Street, headquarters of the Youth Activities Commission and the Boston Community Schools Program.

RESEARCH BUREAU SUPPORTS CHARTER REFORM

The chairman of the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, Gordon E. Emerson, Jr., issued the following statement concerning the Boston Charter Reform Act:

"The Charter Reform proposal for Boston has been thoroughly discussed by the executive committee of the Research Bureau. The committee recognizes a number of legitimate concerns about various aspects of the bill.

"Many provisions of the charter plan cause uncertainty about the plan's future impact and effectiveness. But the plan cannot now be amended. It must be accepted or rejected as a package. We recognize that the successful implementation of any reform always rests with the quality, competence, and good will of the elected officials involved.

"In this case, we believe that the overriding benefit of the Charter Reform is that it offers the prospect of controlling the ever-increasing costs of the School Department. The law would give the Mayor final authority over the school budget, with the power to line-item veto specific areas of proposed school spending. It would eliminate the School Committee's present power of appropriation of an amount essentially equivalent to the prior year's appropriation. We believe that this provision is a step forward in the important area of controlling school costs.

"The executive committee has focused primarily on the financial aspects of the charter plan. The bureau continues to advocate a program of cost reductions in city spending and has called for a 10 percent cut in the city payroll by the middle of the next fiscal year. We believe the School Department must be included in this target and think that the charter plan will enable the Mayor to more successfully reach that goal. We will continue to monitor the Mayor's cost-reduction program, and we will continue to support programs to provide the city with new revenues to reduce dependence on the property tax.

"Based on all of the above, the executive committee of the bureau has voted to support the enactment of the Boston Charter Reform Act now pending before the Legislature."

RICHARD E. WALL RESIGNS

Richard E. Wall has announced he will accept a new position as director of budget analysis for the MBTA Advisory Board beginning in mid-February.

Mr. Wall, budget director for the City of Boston since November, 1969, succeeds Carla Johnston who was recently appointed executive director of the Metropolitan Area Planning Council.

In his new position, Mr. Wall, who is forty-four, will head the Advisory Board's Budget Committee which is responsible for overseeing and approving the annual MBTA budget capital programs and fares. In 1976 the MBTA budget was $240 million.

The MBTA Advisory Board consists of the executive officers of the seventy-nine cities and towns in Massachusetts served by the MBTA.

"Four years ago, Boston did something almost no other city in the country had done — we projected our operating budget several years ahead," Mayor White said. "By doing this we were able to estimate several years in advance the city's income and expenses, and finally to develop a plan to cope with our needs," he said.

"That kind of long-range fiscal planning led to four years of a stable tax rate.

"In large part, Dick Wall is the person responsible for introducing those new methods of fiscal planning, of strengthening our budget system, and of improving methods of monitoring and evaluating departmental expenditures," Mayor White explained.

"I regret Dick Wall's departure from City Hall and, as Chairman of the MBTA Advisory Board, I look forward to working with him in the future," the Mayor said.

MAYOR DISCUSSES CHARTER REFORM

Mayor Kevin White appeared on February 3 on WSBK-TV's "Tom Larson Show" to discuss his Charter Reform proposal and to urge its approval by the state Legislature.

"I had three objectives that I thought could only be met by reform of the City Charter," Mayor White said. "First, I wanted to find a way to put a cap on school spending; second, I wanted to provide an opportunity for wider representation on both the School Committee and the City Council; and third, I wanted to see an end to personality politics in Boston by returning to and strengthening the two-party system. Right now, personalities dominate the issues in city elections. It ought to be the other way around."

Mayor White argued strongly for the benefits and strengths of a School Committee elected by districts and an expanded City Council elected at large.

"These elected bodies have totally distinct functions," he declared.

"The School Committee is elected to make decisions on educational policy. Educational issues are highly personal to the parents of this city because their impact on their children's future is so direct and so great. Yet many parents, whether black or Hispanic, or residents of Charlestown or Brighton, have not had a representative on the School Committee ever, or in several years. They have been denied a voice in the determination of their own children's future," the Mayor said.

"The City Council, on the other hand, is elected to vote on issues of city-wide concern. When voting on the budget, they must keep the interests of the whole city in mind and not let their decisions be affected by the interests of one neighborhood over another. The problem with the City Council has been that it has not been large enough to give minority representatives a shot at being elected, not that it has been elected at large.

"By expanding the Council, we provide that opportunity, and I think it is very important for the political psychology of this city that a black or Hispanic representative be elected city-wide so that he will truly represent all of the people, not just his own group," the Mayor concluded.

MAYOR RESPONDS TO CHARTER REFORM OPPONENTS

Mayor Kevin White labels Charter opponents' charges "inaccurate and confusing."

In response to a charge by Charter Reform opponents that the so-called "Kerrigan Amendment" poses grave constitutional questions, Mayor Kevin White has issued the following statement:

The statement by these reform opponents is both inaccurate and confusing. They focus on only one small part of the reform proposal the so-called Kerrigan Amendment which they say appears in section 10 of the act. In fact, the Kerrigan Amendment appears in section 7 of the act.

These opponents pointed out that the Kerrigan Amendment puts a ceiling on Boston's school spending which they say is too low, perhaps unconstitutional. They ought to concern themselves with the Boston School Committee's real extravagance, not constitutional fantasies.

These reform opponents say the Kerrigan Amendment would not allow Boston to exceed 20 percent of the average school expenditures of the nine largest cities in the Commonwealth, claiming that such limitations would require cutting the Boston school budget 51 to 63 million dollars. Leaving aside the fact that these figures are questionable as unofficial preliminary estimates, it might be more significant to the people of Boston for these opponents to question why the education of their children is so costly, yet so mediocre.

If it turns out that the School Department cannot survive under these limitations, there is provision in the real section 10 of the act for the Mayor and Council to modify the Kerrigan Amendment. Thus, the constitutional calamities that bother these opponents would never occur.

The Kerrigan Amendment is an attempt to create for the citizens of Boston a mechanism to keep the School Department under fiscal control. If we cannot control these school costs, we acknowledge the inevitability of increasing taxes for our citizens.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

POLICE DEPARTMENT TRAINING PROGRAMS

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your Honor's written authorization to dispense with public bidding in the award of a contract to Ms. Margaret Skarrow, 40 Melville Avenue, Dorchester, Mass., in an amount not to exceed $2,775. The contract period is from November 1, 1976, to June 30, 1977.

The purpose of the contract is the design and teaching of a recruit training program to orient recruit police officers to the neighborhoods of Boston. The goals of the program are as follows: (1) to sensitize recruits to the uniqueness and positive qualities of Boston's neighborhoods; (2) to develop a working knowledge of community resources and the ability to use them effectively; (3) to develop a conceptual base that brings about a deeper understanding of the city; (4) to develop an appreciation of the ethnic/racial heritage of Boston's neighborhoods; (5) to understand the community power structure and to develop the recruit's ability to utilize this structure; and (6) to be able to provide good police services to any neighborhood in the city.

Ms. Skarrow has had broad experience in the area, having previously worked in many programs related to community affairs. Ms. Skarrow also possesses a Master's degree with a concentration in Urban Sociology.

In August, 1976, an Invitation for Proposal for an Environmental Studies Program Design was released to thirteen bidders whose names were obtained after contacting various public agencies throughout the Commonwealth. Ms. Skarrow submitted her proposal on the basis of that letter. The award of the contract is being made upon the recommendation of the Department's Division of Training and Education. Ms. Skarrow's proposal meets the requirements of the Division.

Therefore, because of the unique requirements of this contract, and in light of the qualifications of Ms. Skarrow, and the fact that an invitation bidding procedure was undertaken by the Department, it is believed that public bidding would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT J. DI GRAZIA,
Police Commissioner.

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your Honor's written authorization to dispense with public bidding in the award of a contract to the Center for Criminal Justice, Boston University, 209 Bay State Road, Boston, in an amount not to exceed $4,800.

The purpose of the contract is: (1) to develop recruit training course outlines in Criminal Law, including basic legal definitions, constitutional issues, and legal procedures; (2) to adapt for recruit training purposes the in-service training materials on investigative procedures developed under a National Institute on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice Grant; and (3) to provide other recruit program design assistance as required by the Police Academy.

The department's Division of Training and Education wishes that the Center for Criminal Justice be awarded this contract as it is the only institution having the materials we desire to adopt. During the past year, under a grant from the National Institute on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice, and the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, the center has designed and implemented a highly successful set of guidelines and related training programs for in-service training of police officers. This project and its training program is unique in the United States. The training has been highly successful and beneficial to officers of this department at the in-service level. We desire to adopt these materials to the Recruit Training Program to minimize the classroom time required to teach Criminal Law. We expect that by adopting these materials to the Recruit Training Program the recruits will be available for street assignments at an earlier time.

Therefore, because of the unique requirements of this contract, and in light of the previous work, experience, and expertise of the Center for Criminal Justice, and because of the probable expenditure of approximately $100,000 to design from scratch a recruit training course embodying the desired materials if another organization is chosen, it is believed that public bidding would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT J. DI GRAZIA,
Police Commissioner.

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your Honor's written authorization to dispense with public bidding in the award of a contract to Dr. Tonie Moran, 17 Willow Street, Boston, Mass., in an amount not to exceed $1,400. The contract period is from November 1, 1976, to June 30, 1977.

The purpose of the contract is the design of a compensatory training program for female police officers. The program will assess performance differences between policemen and policewomen, study attitudes of peer policemen towards policewomen, counsel policewomen as to the problems of interpersonal relationships with policemen, and develop a positive self-image in policewomen.

Dr. Moran has had broad experience in the area, having previously worked with the Austin, Texas, Police Department and the Boston University Police Department. Dr. Moran also possesses a Ph.D. in Educational Psychology.

In August, 1976, an Invitation for Proposal for an Orientation Program for new female police officers was released to thirteen prospective bidders whose names were obtained after contacting various public agencies throughout the Commonwealth. Dr. Moran submitted her proposal on the basis of that letter. The award of the contract is being made upon the recommendation of the department's Division of Training and Education. Dr. Moran's proposal meets the requirements of the Division.

Therefore, because of the unique requirements of this contract, and in light of the qualifications of Dr. Moran, and the fact that an invitation bidding procedure was undertaken by this department, it is believed that public bidding would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT J. DI GRAZIA,
Police Commissioner.

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your Honor's written authorization to dispense with public bidding in the award of a contract to Dr. Stanley Grabowski, 1356 Commonwealth Avenue, West Newton, Mass., in an amount not to exceed $3,375.

The purpose of this contract is: (1) to provide a 40-hour course of instruction in basic instructional skills for police officers who will be instructing in the Police Academy; (2) to design and provide an intermediate level course of instruction for previously trained instructors to provide them with skills in developing behavioral objectives, criterion tests, and the design and implementation of criterion-referenced instruction; and (3) to provide advice and assistance to the staff on the Division of Training and Education in the area of instructional materials preparation, instructional quality assessment and auditing, and course evaluation.

Dr. Grabowski has had direct experience (both practical and teaching) in the development of behavioral objectives and the design of criterion tests. He also has had past experience with police training matters.

On June 21, 1976, an Invitation for Proposals was released to twelve prospective bidders. Dr. Grabowski submitted his proposal on the basis of that letter. The award of the contract is being made upon the recommendation of the department's Division of Training and Education. Dr. Grabowski's proposal meets the requirements of the Division.

Therefore, because of the unique requirements of this contract, and in light of the qualifications of Dr. Grabowski, and the fact that an invitation bidding procedure was undertaken by this department, it is believed that public bidding would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT J. DI GRAZIA,
Police Commissioner.

EMERGENCY DEMOLITION

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Because of extensive vandalism and recent fires, the Draper Fieldhouse and Engine Co. 18 in their present conditions, constitute an immediate and extreme danger to persons and property. The Fire, Building, and Public Facilities Departments each have concluded that the buildings are unsafe and should be razed.

Because of the exigency of these situations, I requested and received written approval from the Massachusetts Department of Labor and Industries to dispense with public advertising, providing we obtain bids from three or more contractors normally engaged in this type of work. I requested proposals from five such contractors, with the following results:

J. J. Duane Co., Inc., $13,890; Ups & Downs Wrecking Corporation, $17,000; The Duane Corporation, $18,200; Napoli Wrecking Co., Inc., $18,731; and Mystic Building Wrecking Co., Inc., $19,700.

Your Honor's written approval, therefore, is respectfully requested in recognition of the fact that an emergency situation exists, to authorize dispensing with public advertising for bids, and to award a contract, without such advertising, to J. Acting Director.

EMERGENCY REPAIRS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

During the violent snow squall which occurred early in the evening on December 2, 1976, the cupola structure on the Curley Recreation Building at Long Island Hospital was struck by lightning and set afire. repairs to the roof of the building to seal it against the rigors of a New England winter.

Because of the exigency of the situation, I have requested and received written authorization from the Massachusetts Department of Labor and Industries to dispense with public advertising, providing we obtain bids from at least three contractors normally engaged in this work. I received the following bids:

Clifford Construction Co., Inc., $9,500; C.E.R. Construction Co., Inc., $10,800; and John Palumbo Company, for $12,400.

Your Honor's written approval, therefore, is respectfully requested, in recognition of the fact that an emergency situation exists, to authorize dispensing with public advertising for bids, and to award a contract for this work, without such advertising, to Clifford Construction Co., Inc., 320 Dorchester Street, South Boston, Massachusetts, for $9,500.

VICTOR E. HAGAN,
Acting Director.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Treasury Division PRINTING SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I respectfully request your approval for the awarding of a contract to Bowne of Boston, Inc., 411 D Street, Boston, 02210 for services as the financial printer of the City's Official Statements and related material necessary to the issuance of General Obligation Bonds, Bond Anticipation Notes and Tax Anticipation Notes for the entire 1977 fiscal year.

Financial printing is a highly specialized field and there are a very limited number of firms which can perform this kind of service. In printing these Official Statements, the firm chosen had to have the capacity to make changes and produce proofs of draft official statements twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, thus permitting the continuous revision of these official statements, a process which is necessary to meet the scheduled issuance of bonds or notes.

Proposals were solicited from various Boston printers as to qualifications, capabilities, sources of recommendation and cost information. We have selected Bowne for this work based upon our past experience with Bowne as a financial printer and the recommendations of leaders in the financial community, underwriters and counsel, that it had the greatest capacity to perform this work to our specifications at a cost comparable or below other local financial printers. The total cost to the city for Bowne's services as financial printer will not exceed $90,000.

Sincerely,
JAMES V. YOUNG,
Collector-Treasurer.

SUFFOLK COUNTY District Attorney's Office LEASING OF SPACE

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As District Attorney for Suffolk County, I hereby request your permission to enter into a contract, without public advertising, with Nathan R. Miller Properties, Ltd., 6 Beacon Street, Boston, Massachusetts, for leasing approximately 2,500 square feet of space on the seventh floor of 11 Beacon Street, Boston. As of July 1, 1975, the Suffolk County District Attorney's Office received a $463,192 grant from the United States Department of Justice's Law Enforcement Assistance Administration to establish a special prosecution unit to accelerate trials of persons with past records of violence who are charged with new violent crimes. The grant was received through the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice under Title I of the Omnibus Crime

Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, P.L. 90-351, as amended. This grant was renewed, effective July 1, 1976, for a twelve-month period for $463,192. The Law Enforcement Assistance Administration grant award number for this grant is 76-DF-01-0022.

The Major Violators Division has been housed at 11 Beacon Street since August, 1975. The 11 Beacon Street premises were chosen at that time after an intensive search of available office space, and I concluded that the office space there is the most efficient for the following reasons: (1) 11 Beacon Street is virtually around the corner from the courthouse where the project's attorneys are constantly engaged; (2) the owner constructed the interior according to our specifications to provide single offices for each trial attorney, a receiving and waiting area for witnesses and victims and a conference room; and (3) the rent of $20,000 per annum plus the escalation for 1976 of $1,686 is within the office rental budget figure allocated by the L.E.A.A. grant.

This request is for approval to continue the lease agreement by the renewal clause on page two of the attached lease.

In view of the nature of the agreement proposed to be entered into by the District Attorney's Office, and the fact that the Major Violator Project has been located at the 11 Beacon Street premises since August, 1975, it is my opinion that no useful purpose would be served by publicly advertising. Accordingly, I hereby request your approval for continuation of this contract without public advertising, pursuant to the provisions of section 30 of the City Charter.

Very truly yours,

GARRETT H. BYRNE,
District Attorney.

MINI-COMPUTER SYSTEM

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As District Attorney for Suffolk County, I respectfully request your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertising in the award of a contract to Sirvess Inc., Fifty Market Street, Saddle Brook, N. J. 07662 in an amount of $4,800, for the period of January 1, 1977, through December 31, 1977.

Award of this grant is made pursuant to a grant received by the City of Boston from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration through the Governor's Public Safety Committee under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (P.L. 90-351), as amended by the Omnibus Crime Control Act of 1970 (P.L. 91-644).

The purpose of this grant is to allow the Suffolk County District Attorney's Office to continue developing a mini-computer system. In order to achieve this objective it is necessary for the computer to have a maintenance contract for not only service but parts. This company has been servicing this same machine for close to three years and we would like to have them continue. It is absolutely necessary for this operation to continue smoothly since it will soon become one of the essential aspects of my office.

The rental cost is four hundred dollars a month and will remain the same for the entire twelve months.

For the above reasons, it is believed that public advertising would serve no useful or practical purpose.

Thank you for your consideration of this matter.

Sincerely,
GARRETT H. BYRNE,
District Attorney.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

January 27.

General Order No. 5

I. FIRE FIGHTER JOHN R. MANNING

It is with deep regret that the Fire Commissioner announces the death on January 16, 1977, of Fire Fighter John R. Manning of Ladder Company 13. Fire Fighter Manning was appointed to the department on February 3, 1947.

The funeral was held from the John O'Connor Funeral Home, 740 Adams Street, Dorchester, at 0900 hours, January 19, followed by a Funeral Mass at St. Joseph's Church, Hyde Park, at 1000 hours.

The Fire Commissioner made the customary detail to act as funeral escort, and members of the Training and Research Division, Fire Prevention Division, Headquarters, and Ladder 13 were excused to attend the services.

II. RESIGNATION

The following resignation became effective at 0800, January 21, 1977:

Fire Fighter on Probation Charles R. Webb, Ladder Company 14.

III. TRANSFERS

The following transfers will become effective at 0800, February 2, 1977:

Fire Fighter John A. Stanton, from Ladder Company 16, to Engine Company 51.

Fire Fighter Gerald J. White, from Engine Company 52, to Engine Company 49.

Fire Fighter Paul V. Blake, from Engine Company 18, to Engine Company 49.

IV. FIRE ALARM BOX INSTALLED

The following box has been installed, and company commanders shall add it to circuit card No. 62:

13-3446, Codman Square Library, 690 Washington Street.

V. INCOME TAX DATA

The recent change in the Tax Reform Act of 1976 has disqualified active members of the department from claiming sick exclusion pay deductions when filing their 1976 income tax returns. The practice of providing excludable sick pay certificates is no longer necessary.

VI. HIGH COMMENDATIONS

At 1440 hours, January 7, 1977, Engine Company 21 responded to Box 1823 for a fire at 34 Edison Green, Dorchester. On arrival heavy fire was showing on the second floor, and they were informed children were trapped in the attic.

Fire Fighter Thomas Whalen of the Arson Squad was at the scene, and he went to the third floor by the front stairs and found one of the boys in the hallway whom he removed to the street.

Fire Fighters John J. Harrison and Thomas F. Myers of Engine Company 21 entered the building from the rear and were carrying a line up the rear stairs when they learned about the children. They had to back down the stairs because of the heavy smoke and rapidly spreading fire. They then went to the front of the house to the third floor and started the search. Fire Fighter Harrison removed his air mask to listen for cries. He heard a moan, traced it, and found a child whom he passed to Fire Fighter Myers. He continued into another room and found a second child. They carried the unconscious children to the street.

These rescues were performed without masks and under very difficult conditions caused by limited fire fighting operations due to the severe weather and traffic conditions.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Fire Fighters Whalen, Harrison, and Myers for the rescues which were performed under great personal risk, and their cases are referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

VII. LETTER OF THANKS

"January 13, 1977.

DEAR COMMISSIONER PAUL:

I would be remiss if I did not compliment you and your outstanding personnel regarding the Boston Fire Department's conduct during the fire on the Jordan Marsh property on December 31.

As you probably know, this could have been a very serious situation, but was fortunately contained. The concern for personal lives and property was uppermost with your people and they should be recognized for their efficient handling of this situation.

WILLIAM E. TILBURG."

"YOUR EGO IN BLOOM"

Sometime when you're feeling important,
Sometime when your ego's in bloom,
Sometime when you take it for granted,
You're the best qualified in the room,
Sometime when you feel that your going,
Would leave an unfillable hole,
Just follow this simple instruction
And see how it humbles your soul.
Take a bucket and fill it with water;
Put your hand in it up to the wrist,
Pull it out, and the hole that's remaining
Is a measure of how much you'll be missed.
You may splash all you wish when you enter,
You may stir up the water galore,
But stop — and you'll find in a minute
It looks quite the same as before.
The moral in this quaint example
Is just do the best you can.
Be proud of yourself, but remember,
There's no indispensable man.

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

JOSEPH M. TIERNEY
PRESIDENT, CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 69

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1977

NO. 8

Mayor's Goal: Improved Neighborhoods

Mayor White has recommended channeling the bulk of the $28.9 million in Community Development Block Grants into efforts to upgrade and preserve residents' homes, provide better human services, and continue high priority capital improvements in the neighborhoods.

Mayor White, in setting the third-year application for use of federal Community Development Grants before the City Council, emphasized a continuing commitment to turn available federal funds into better facilities and services for the city.

He also recommended that $3.5 million of the federal grant be applied to cover the city's costs associated with managing the grant. This move, Mayor White said, would prevent these costs from being shouldered directly by the city's taxpayers.

The Mayor, in the application drawn from over forty community meetings held in the neighborhoods last fall, categorized funding allotments in the following way:

- $9.5 million for home improvements, housing, special housing programs, improvements to vacant lots, and demolition of abandoned housing;

- $1.7 million to support human services such as day care programs, elderly transportation, youth recreation, and neighborhood health centers;

- $1.2 million for the revitalization of neighborhood business centers;

- $5.8 million to the Boston Redevelopment Authority for existing commitments to close out urban renewal projects;

- $3.5 million for high priority, small-scale, neighborhood, capital improvements such as residential street lighting, tree planting, street repavement, and traffic improvements;

- $1.2 million for planning, management, and administrative budget;

- $3.5 million as a direct reimbursement to the city's treasury for management of the grant; and

- $2.4 million for a contingency reserve fund to cover unexpected project cost overruns and any essential mid-year programming.

The federal grants available to Boston this year represent a decline in levels of previous funding from the federal government.

In 1976 the city received $30.5 million in Community Development funds, and Boston's entitlement is expected to drop to a low of $11 million by 1980.

The Mayor said the recommendations made in the third-year application represent a continuation of the Community Development Program's focus on Boston's neighborhoods.

"The $28.9 million in federal grants this year represents a small, yet a significant resource in the city's drive to help residents upgrade their homes, provide better neighborhood facilities, and improve living conditions for all its citizens," he said.

"While the city is faced with serious financial constraints, and is now seeking new sources of revenue and working to reform the property tax structure, the recommendations made are designed to reinforce neighborhood confidence and to ensure that, despite these problems, the needs and priorities of our neighborhoods are met," Mayor White explained.

"Although we received less in federal funds and many more proposals from neighborhood residents for use of these funds, the application presented to the Council reflects an imaginative and resourceful program," he said.

The Mayor assigned top priority and nearly one-third of the available funds to housing improvements, special housing programs, and for the revitalization of neighborhood shopping centers. A new program to clean and improve large tracts of vacant land will use both CDBG and Manpower funds.

Highlighted is the drive to upgrade and preserve Boston residents' homes through the $4.7 million Neighborhood Housing Improvement Program.

The program, in its third year, subsidizes 20 percent of the cost to bring substandard housing up to Housing Code standards, and is available to any resident owner of a one- to six-family home whose net taxable income is less than $16,000.

In addition, the application recommends that increased benefits be made available to Boston's elderly homeowners to help them in making home repairs.

"Under the Housing Improvement Program, begun in 1975, over 12,000 applications have been received from homeowners in every neighborhood in the city, and by June of this year we expect that 6,000 Boston homeowners will have made repairs to their homes," the Mayor said.

"More than $35 million in home repair work has been generated by Boston homeowners since the program began, and we can expect the same kind of response this year," he added.

Capital improvements cited in the application include over sixty essential, small-scale, neighborhood projects, including neighborhood street lighting, tree planting, street and sidewalk repairs, and improvements to parks and playgrounds.

Priorities for capital improvements were drawn from community meetings held throughout the neighborhoods last fall, and are meant to complement the private investment in Boston's residential housing stock and business centers.

Mayor White said that the $5.8 million commitment to urban renewal is designed to assist in completion of existing projects, and to leverage an additional $18 million in urgent needs funds from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The Mayor's recommendations went before the City Council on February 11, for the first of three reviewing phases before the funds can be released from the federal government.

Following speedy review by the City Council, state, and federal agencies, the funds can be made available by July 1, 1977, the Mayor concluded.

MAYOR URGES: ALTER CITY CHARTER

Testimony of Mayor Kevin H. White of Boston, before the Joint Committee on Local Affairs, Gardner Auditorium, State House, Boston, Mass., February 9, 1977.

I am here as Mayor of the City of Boston seeking to alter the City Charter through a home rule petition — a process the General Court granted to every city and town. Boston, I hope, will not be discriminated against, and the petition will be honored.

I cannot claim authorship of the petition before you, nor can any single individual or group. The real authors of this bill are:

— the people of Boston who have suffered greatly over the past few years;

— the thousands of people who cared enough for this city to join a march of peace past this very building;

— the members of the non-violence committee (of which the speaker of this very house was a cochairman);

— the numerous Boston people who testified, and those witnesses, many of whom are here today, who spoke before the Committee for Boston.

It was a process which began almost a year ago — hundreds of people talking, working, and thinking together with the common conviction that this city desperately needed to heal its wounds; to look forward, not back; and to have new tools with which to build our future.

The primary building block had to be the process by which we governed ourselves — the City Charter — it is archaic and does not meet the needs of this city today.

Our needs are simple, and they must be met now with the help of this Legislature.

They are threefold:

First: We must limit school spending which is presently out of control. That spending accounts for two-thirds of a $56 tax increase and if not controlled now, will bankrupt the city.

Second: We must expand the process of elected representation at both the district and city-wide level. Blacks and whites have to begin to talk in elective capacities as equals across a table and across the city.

Third: The politics of Boston must become more responsible to something beyond individual political careers. The "politics of personalities" have too long dominated our public life.

In light of these problems the Committee for Boston, popularly known as the McCormack Committee, a committee that was composed of a cross section of people who know this city — not elected officials, not candidates for office, not people trying to hold onto jobs — but people who listened long hours to other people, and proposed their series of recommendations.

I confess to having agreed with their recommendations and what you have before you; to accept or reject, is in large measure the recommendations of the McCormack Committee.

The only subject on which they did not voice a collective opinion was the reinstitution of a two-party system which is fundamental to federal-state elections and should be for municipal elections. If it is not good at the local level, then it should be rejected at all levels.

The specific recommendations are divided into three categories:

— to control school spending where in Boston its tax share has gone up 134 percent in four years — where the average per-pupil-cost is $3,000 a year. (The costs to educate my six-year-old daughter in a public school is equal to the basic tuition at Boston College.)

That spending is killing our taxpayers and driving us to insolvency and worst of all, it is not giving the quality of education the students deserve.

The McCormack Committee proposed fifteen district School Committee members elected for four years (providing minority representation for blacks, Hispanics, and whites in areas like Brighton and Charlestown that have been left out for years).

The bill mandated a strong superintendent with total control of personnel appointed by, and responsible to the School Committee.

I accepted the McCormack Committee's recommendations to give control of the budget to the Mayor — I did not seek it.

I accepted the responsibility and agreed if you are to hold a chief executive accountable for the tax rate, then he must control the budget. That is what the Legislature does with the Governor. Why, then, impose something different on a city?

— The McCormack Committee proposed the expansion — to fifteen — either district or city-side councillors.

I selected the city-wide concept, in the unshakable belief that an avenue must exist where minorities can be more easily elected city-wide, representing more than just blacks and Hispanics on a city-wide basis.

— The petition will also return the city to partisan elections. Most of the politics in this nation is conducted on a party basis. It is time to restore that pattern to the city as well. Misguided reformers long ago abolished parties in the city, and robbed our politics of structure and coherence in the bargain. The result has been a politics of personality — because only personalities stand out in nonpartisan systems. Nowhere has that been better demonstrated than in this reform process. As soon as I entered the process, the issue became the Mayor — not the school reforms, not the City Council reforms, not the budget reforms — the Mayor.

At every election it is the same. Stands on issues, programs, and policies do not count — who you are, or what name you bear, does.

I believe our politics will be elevated and upgraded by parties — organizations which will live between elections, develop programs, and contribute to the process of governance. Those parties will win voter support based on proved performance, not idle promises.

I am aware that many witnesses wish to be heard, so I have tried to present a concise statement of the problems we seek to address and an outline of the solutions proposed.

Neither I, nor any advocate, would suggest infallibility. We have tried to propose what we believe conscience and compromise in a legitimate democratic process can make possible.

We believe that 1800 represents good and constructive change, and that the process met the spirit and legality of any home rule petition.

It has been heard by duly elected City Councillors in committee and debated in the city legislative chamber. It was signed by the Mayor of the city.

I would hope that representatives outside of Boston would respect the wishes of our city, as you would wish us to respect the wishes of your community.

The petition before you fulfills these goals. Its passage will open a new era in Boston — an era in which our politics will be more rigorous, our government more responsive, our institutions more accountable.

INTERESTED IN CONDOMINIUMS!

Facts You Should Know by D. Frank Zullo, President, Brokers Institute.

Is condominium living suited for you? In recent years many Americans have decided to buy condominiums instead of renting or purchasing a traditional single-family home. This column will explore various aspects of condominium living to help you judge for yourself.

By definition, a condominium, a word of French derivation, is a home owned by a multi-family structure. Condominiums may take many forms ranging from detached single-family homes to high-rise buildings. They may be found in the heart of metropolitan areas or in resorts. They may be used as permanent homes, vacation homes, or as investment properties.

Although the condominium concept is relatively new in this country, it's not on the international level. They were known in fifth-century Rome and were popular in France as early as the fifteenth century. They were introduced in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico in 1951, and in the continental United States nine years later when the first condominium was constructed in Salt Lake City. Since then more than 1,000,000 condominium starts have been recorded in this country.

Why have condominiums become so popular in such a short period of time? They combine many of the advantages of apartment living and home ownership.

The owner of a condominium unit owns its interior living space. Along with owners of other units, he owns an undivided interest in the common elements of the building or complex such as the hallways, sidewalks, and often the recreational facilities.

While the unit owner is responsible for the maintenance of his own unit, in a well-run complex he doesn't have to worry about the common areas. The management of the complex, directed by the owners' association, is responsible for cleaning the pool, shoveling the sidewalks, and making certain that the common areas of the complex are in good repair. Each owner is assessed for his share of the common area upkeep.

Usually in developments under construction or in the early stages of a conversion from an apartment to a condominium, developers handle all aspects of maintenance. The owners' association ordinarily takes over management sometime after half the units are sold. The association, through its board of directors, also sets rules for living in the complex.

The prospect of minimal maintenance responsibilities has always been one of the key attractions of condominiums. Retired persons, who no longer want the responsibility of keeping up a single-family dwelling, have found condominiums attractive as retirement homes. Single people and young married couples have been attracted to them for this reason also.

Combined with this, the opportunity of building equity and receiving a tax benefit have proved attractive as well.

Condominiums have other attractions. Many people find it easier to make friends since, unlike rental units, condos have a more stable population.

Condos also provide a feeling of security. In some instances this is reinforced with paid security guards, a feature of many complexes.

Through condominium ownership, many people are able to enjoy recreational facilities they could not afford on their own. Swimming pools, game rooms, and even basketball courts are found in some complexes.

With all of their advantages, condominiums and condominium living have drawbacks as well. In a complex dominated by young families with small children, a retired couple might feel out of place.

Some condominiums prohibit pets, others prohibit children, except as visitors. In some complexes, where a large number of owners have rented their units, the actual management decisions may hinge on the vote of a minority of owners who are permanent residents.

WORKSHOPS IN MEDIA: AN OPPORTUNITY

If you are interested in a career in media, here is a chance for you to learn from the masters. The Communications Institute of New England (CINE) under the auspices of the Museum of Afro-American History, is running a series of workshops for minorities in media.

The workshops will be led by such masters as Topper Carew, Oliver Franklin, Olive Davis, Joan Sandler, and others.

Topics include: (1) "Media Management and Production;" (2) "Music for Film and Television;" and (3) "Introduction to the Recording Industry."

Each workshop has three to four weekly seminars and the cost is $40. The first workshop begins on March 12. The registration deadline is March 4. For information, call the Museum at 445-7100 or write to:

CINE, c/o Museum of Afro-American History, Box 322, Smith Court, Boston MA 02114.

WORKSHOPS IN MEDIA are designed to familiarize young minority artists, students, and preprofessionals with areas of the media industry from which they have been historically excluded. These workshops will bring the great and successful media people from around the country to share their knowledge and skills. Studio seminars, labs, lectures, and screenings are formats for the workshops.

The Communications Institute of New England (CINE) is devoted not only to opening career options but to the documentation, analysis and reassessment of the roles of minority and "third world" people in the media industry. As an entity CINE is a nonprofit endeavor composed of various members of the Boston communications community. CINE is currently sponsored by the Museum of Afro-American History. Other supportive institutions include: Howard University (Office for the Arts); The Institute of Contemporary Art (Station 16); and the Boston Community Media Council.

The first workshop, "Media Management and Production," will consist of four seminars. They will be held March 12, 19, 26, and April

The seminar on television production will be led by Topper Carew, executive producer of "Rebop" and the only black program manager in the nation. Joan Sandler will lead the seminar on theatrical production. Ms. Sandler is the former director of the Black Theater Alliance and codirector of the North American Delegation to FESTAC, the international, cultural festival in Lagos, Nigeria. The concert production seminar will be led by Alan Haymon, a Boston-based concert producer. Lois Fortune and Oliver Franklin will lead the film production seminar. Ms. Fortune is a writer and producer of children's films for television. Oliver Franklin is a leading authority on the history of Afro-Americans in the cinema and organizer of the first black film festival in the country.

The two additional workshops, "Music for Film and Television" and "Introduction to the Recording Industry" will be held later in the spring and seminar leaders will be announced in March. The registration deadline for these workshops is also March 4.

NUMBER ONE PRESIDENT

Rules of Civility—from George Washington's Copybook

Before he was sixteen years old, President Washington copied down 110 "Rules of Civility and decent behaviour in company and conversation" as an exercise in penmanship. Thus early did Washington learn the secret of gracious manners and apply it to his own gentlemanly conduct. The "Rules" cover ten pages in one of Washington's copybooks now in the Library of Congress at Washington. Originalnally published by French Jesuits around 1595, the "Rules of Civility" were translated into English with various changes and were published many times. The "Rules" do not follow exactly the text of these English versions. Here are some of the Washington "Rules," just as he spelled and punctuated them:

Associate yourself with Men of good Quality if you esteem your own Reputation: for 'tis better to be alone than in bad company.

Wear not your Cloths foul, unript or dusty but see they be Brushed once every day at least and take heed that you approach not to any uncleanness.

Be not hasty to believe flying Reports to the disparagement of any.

Shift not yourself in the sight of others nor gnaw your nails. Treat with Men at fit times about business and Whisper not in the company of others.

Be not curious to know the affairs of others neither approach those that speak in private.

Eat not in the streets nor in ye House, out of Season.

Read no letters, books, or Papers in company but when there is a necessity for the doing of it you must ask leave: come not near the Books or Writings of Another so as to read them unless desired or give your opinion of them unask'd also look not nigh when another is writing a Letter.

If You cough, sneeze, sigh, or yawn, do it not loud but privately; and speak not in your Yawning, but put your handkerchief or hand before your face and turn aside.

Let your discourse with Men of Business be short and Comprehensive.

Let your recreations be Manfull not sinfull.

Turn not Your back to others especially in speaking, jog not the table or Desk on which another Reads or Writes, lean not on anyone.

Think before You Speak pronounce not imperfectly nor bring out Your words too hastily but orderly & distinctly.

Undertake not what You cannot perform but be careful to keep Your Promise.

Speak not evil of the absent for it is unjust.

When You Speak of God or his attributes, let it be seriously & with Reverence. Honour & Obey Your Natural Parents altho they be poor.

BOSTON OFFERS HELPING HAND

City of Boston and Action for Boston Community Development launch Emergency Home Heating Oil Program for City of Boston Residents.

A joint program to provide up to 100 gallons of home heating oil to Boston residents who are without heat and cannot meet fuel costs has been launched by the city's Housing Inspection Department, the Mayor's Office of Public Service, and Action for Boston Community Development.

Action for Boston Community Development will create a $10,000 loan fund to cover the cost of fuel delivery and the Mayor's Office of Public Service and the Housing Inspection Department will assist in administering the program.

"This program is designed to protect Boston residents who find themselves without heat, cannot reach their landlords and have no cash on hand to pay for fuel delivery," Housing Inspection Commissioner John Vitagliano explained.

"This is not a gift, but is an emergency loan meant to protect residents of Boston who simultaneously run out of oil and money during the nighttime hours. It will not be used to cover back fuel bills," he said.

All three participating agencies will work together to review and verify each case to determine emergency situations. Users of the program will be expected to repay the cost of providing fuel.

Residents who are without oil and cash should call 725-1788 or 1787, or any neighborhood Little City Hall (telephone numbers listed on page 87, Boston telephone directory), from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Friday; or 725-1000 at night and on weekends.

"TOOL LIBRARIES" PROPOSED

A proposal to allow the creation of "tool libraries" in the Commonwealth was heard recently by the Legislature's Committee on State Administration.

The bill, sponsored by Boston City Council President Joseph M. Tierney, would enlarge the capability of library systems allowing them to lend and maintain tool collections.

Councillor Tierney noted that many people wish to make their own repairs on their homes and cars, but are unable to do so because they lack the proper equipment. "A library that lends tools as well as books would be a vital service to the public," said Councillor Tierney.

In a prepared statement to the Committee on State Administration, Councillor Tierney informed the members that tool libraries were operating in many parts of the country, and providing a useful service to thousands of people.

"This is an idea whose time has come. I urge the Legislature to provide this service to the people of Massachusetts," Councilman Tierney concluded.

VII. LETTER OF THANKS

"DEAR COMMISSIONER PAUL:

Please accept our sincere appreciation and gratitude for the valuable assistance rendered by your department at the most difficult fire which occurred in the Point Shirley section of our town on Monday, evening, December 13, 1976.

Your assistance in providing apparatus and manpower to assist our limited resources at such a crucial hour not only provided protection to the lives and property of our citizens but was invaluable to our fire fighting forces when needed most.

The rapidly extending blaze, coupled with sub-freezing temperature, 55-mile per hour gale force winds, and insufficient water supply, all posed formidable obstacles which were successfully overcome only because of the perseverance of the combined force of fire fighters at the scene—all of whom deserve a sincere well done.

While most companies were still involved at this major fire, covering fire companies did yeoman duty in controlling another incident in an apartment complex. Although unfamiliar with the location and details at such site, they performed in the highest tradition of the fire service, expertly accomplishing their duties in a most proficient manner.

Once again, many thanks for your thoughtfulness, cooperation, and rapid response when called upon, factors which shall long be remembered by this department and the Town of Winthrop.

BOARD OF FIRE ENGINEERS,

NORMAN E. GILL,
RICHARD N. BANGS,
DAVID W. LOUNSBURY."

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE. MAYOR OF BOSTON

JOSEPH M. TIERNEY
PRESIDENT, CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 69

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1977

NO. 9

REPORT RECOMMENDS: TERMINATE RECEIVERSHIP

Mayor White files report with Federal District Court calling for an end to receivership at South Boston High School.

Mayor Kevin White, on February 14, filed a status report in Federal District Court recommending an end to federal receivership of South Boston High School.

The report was filed in compliance with a January 27, 1977, order of Federal Judge W. Arthur Garrity that the Mayor, the School Committee, and the Plaintiffs in the Boston desegregation case file status reports and proposed conditions upon which receivership should be ended.

The Mayor reaffirmed his view stated in a July 21, 1976, letter to Judge Garrity that "South Boston feels keenly the stigma of receivership, and I believe ending its lone status would go a long way toward healing the wounds."

Mayor White recommended that no conditions be imposed on an end to receivership and that the School Committee "be given an opportunity to demonstrate its willingness to operate a desegregated school system without the necessity of specific court orders.

"Termination of receivership ought to be viewed as the first step in the court's ultimate disengagement from the Boston School System," the report added.

Police Commissioner Joseph Jordan assured the court that termination of receivership would have no effect on public safety at South Boston High; and the Public Facilities Department informed the court of its preparedness to provide continued assistance with respect to matters within its jurisdiction.

The text of the status report follows:

MAYORAL DEFENDANTS' STATUS REPORT AND PROPOSED CONDITIONS CONCERNING SOUTH BOSTON HIGH SCHOOL RECEIVERSHIP

Pursuant to the order entered on January 27, 1977, the Mayoral Defendants submit the following status report and recommendations concerning the South Boston High School receivership. This report is limited to the objectives of the December 9, 1975, receivership order which fall within the area or responsibility of the Mayoral Defendants — public safety and public facilities.

I. STATUS REPORT

A. Public Safety. Attached hereto as Appendix A is a letter from Police Commissioner Joseph M. Jordan expressing his views as to the effect termination of federal receivership of South Boston High School would have on public safety at the school. Commissioner Jordan notes that, while conditions inside the school continue to be somewhat unstable,* in his view the public safety concerns appear to be fairly independent of the issue of federal receivership.

While incidents within the school may be inevitable, independent of any form of governance of the school, it is the judgment of the Mayor that an essential part of restoring Boston's civic health must be the restoration of normal processes and procedures. In his letter of July 21, 1976, transmitting to the court the recommendations of the Mayor's Committee on Violence, which recommendations included termination of federal receivership, the Mayor stated that "South Boston feels keenly the stigma of receivership, and I believe ending its lone status would go a long way toward healing the wounds." (See letter of July 21, 1976, attached hereto as Appendix B.) The Mayor reaffirms this view and urges the court to terminate the federal receivership forthwith.

It should be noted that termination of receivership would not alter in any way the commitment of the Boston Police Department to respond appropriately as needed and to implement the public safety requirements set out in the court's order of September 5, 1975.

B. Public Facilities. Renovation of South Boston High School has been and continues to be the responsibility of the School Department's chief structural engineer. When a different site was requested to accommodate the school's automotive and "school-within-a-school" programs, the Public Facilities Department assisted in finding such space. The Public Facilities Department stands to provide continued assistance with respect to matters within its jurisdiction.

II. PROPOSED CONDITIONS AND TIMETABLE

The Mayor recommends that the court impose no express conditions in any order entered to terminate

*It is understood that a detailed report concerning incidents and police personnel at the school is being furnished in the School Department's report and response to interrogatories propounded by the State Defendants. It is not felt necessary to duplicate that information in this report.

Report . . .

receivership. Rather, the court ought to treat the affirmations and proposals, adopted by the School Committee at its meeting of February 8, 1977, as evidence of the Committee's recognition of its affirmative duty to take whatever steps are needed to implement the court's desegregation order at South Boston High School. The Committee ought to be given an opportunity to demonstrate its willingness to operate a desegregated school system without the necessity of specific court orders. Termination of receivership ought to be viewed as the first step in the court's ultimate disengagement from the Boston school system.

Termination of receivership ought to take effect immediately by vacation of the December 8, 1975, order. At some later time, after the Committee has shown its good faith, the court ought to reconsider and normalize, perhaps subsequent to a vote granting tenure, the several staffing orders, which orders are separate and distinct from receivership as such.

Respectfully submitted,

MAYORAL DEFENDANTS,

By their attorney,

MICHAEL BETCHER,

Assistant Corporation Counsel,
City of Boston Law Department,
Room 615, City Hall,
Boston, Massachusetts 02201.

APPENDIX A

Hon. Kevin H. White.

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

This letter is in response to your request for my views as to the effect termination of federal receivership of South Boston High School would have on public safety at the school.

At the present time, it appears that conditions continue to be somewhat unstable inside the school, although most incidents are adequately handled by the State Police complement assigned. Conditions outside the school have remained stable with few incidents occurring. Those outside incidents which have occurred have been adequately handled by the Boston Police officers assigned there. We would expect that with the advent of spring, we may see an increase of incidents outside the school.

It is my feeling that the termination of the federal receivership would have little overall impact on public safety at the school. Those public safety concerns which do exist appear to be fairly independent of the issue of federal receivership.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH M. JORDAN,
Police Commissioner.

APPENDIX B

Hon. W. Arthur Garrity,
United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts.

DEAR JUDGE GARRITY:

Enclosed is the report of the Mayor's Committee on Violence and a copy of the speech I made in response to it. In the wake of several incidents of racial violence in Boston this spring and the extreme tension that existed throughout the city, I appointed a group of thirteen leading citizens to this committee. I asked them to meet in private, to discuss the city's racial tension and the desegregation process with other important community leaders, and to report their findings to me.

These committee members were from all walks of life and represented every conceivable political and philosophical stance — including liberals and conservatives, probusers and anti-busers. Their purpose was not to decide the right and wrong of busing, or to assign credit or blame, but to explore the ways in which this city might begin to bridge the divisions opened in the last two years.

I believe they have been successful in their task. I am grateful for their efforts and impressed by their report. Naturally, they offer no startling revelations, but rather good common sense, plainly spoken. The example of people of diverse views sitting down to work on common problems serves as a positive symbol for us all.

I share the committee's faith that despite the agencies and dislocations of the last two years, this city can move beyond the bitterness and start forward again on a whole range of problems — including the schools, but also crime, joblessness, the needs of the elderly, and a host of others. In that belief I delivered a major television address in which I outlined some steps I plan to take to try to shake Boston out of the paralysis of the "busing crisis."

Of course, it will take more than declarations to end the acrimony and divisiveness that have racked our city. It will take action. I am moving as quickly as possible to implement the steps I announced in the speech and to enlist broad-based community support for each of them.

However, I have never had the power or the statutory authority to involve myself directly in the working of the school system. That is up to the School Committee, the superintendent, and, during the desegregation process, the court. Several of the recommendations contained in the report refer directly to the school system. I am sure you will find the entire report of interest and value, but I would like to direct your attention to two specific recommendations. The Committee on Violence suggests that may be time to consider (1) restoring the School Committee to its full authority; and (2) ending the federal receivership of South Boston High School.

Obviously, none of the report's recommendations are binding on anyone. But I gave them considerable weight, and I hope that the court will do the same.

I happen to agree with the Committee on Violence that these two measures should be examined carefully, and before the opening of school in the autumn, if possible. An essential part of restoring Boston's civic health must be the restoration of normal process and procedure. I know that the court must first be satisfied that "normalization" will be accompanied by the full guarantee of the civil rights originally violated. But I believe that the present School Committee is ready and willing to give that assurance. Indeed, the Committee's record since January indicates a commitment to the rights of the plaintiffs in the desegregation case and an acceptance of the need to comply with all features of the desegregation order. This attitude sharply distinguishes this School Committee from its predecessor.

A rehabilitated School Committee would have the authority and energy to deal with the special problems that arose at South Boston High. South Boston feels keenly the stigma of receivership, and I believe ending its lone status would go a long way toward healing the wounds.

I realize that, from the court's point of view, some risk is involved in restoring the School Committee to its proper function. But I also believe, and I hope the court agrees, that the risk has been sufficiently diminished so as to make the advantages of reestablishing normal powers and procedure compelling at this point.

Sincerely,
KEVIN H. WHITE,
Mayor of Boston.

"LET THE PEOPLE DECIDE"

*Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White
Regarding Referendum, February 16, 1977.*

During Charter deliberations, I have consistently stated openly and in good faith, the reasons why I supported the McCormack Committee's recommendations to bypass the referendum route for Charter approval.

But I have decided today that I will no longer object to an amendment to H. 4800 for binding referendum.

An overwhelming majority of the Boston delegation has testified at numerous public hearings repeatedly that they support the idea of referendum. The opponents to the bill have stated that they object not to the substance of the bill, but to the absence of a provision for a referendum.

Very well, I will take them at their word. I will agree to the attachment of a referendum. I call on the opponents of the bill to honor their commitment to let the people decide through a referendum.

Proposed Amendment for Binding Referendum

Amend SECTION 16 by deleting the words, "This act shall take effect upon its passage," and substituting therefor the words:— This act shall take effect upon its approval by the voters of Boston at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday in May, 1977.

MAYOR ADVOCATES SPECIAL ELECTION ON CHARTER REFORM

*Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White,
February 16, 1977.*

I would like to make a statement of importance to the city.

Tonight, I am calling upon the Boston members of the House of Representatives to allow the citizens of this city to voice their support or opposition to Charter Reform by a vote of the people in a special election to be held on the first Tuesday in May, 1977.

Charter Reform, which I believe this city desperately needs now:

- (1) To hold down the tax rate;
- (2) To give neighborhood representation to the School Committee; and
- (3) To strengthen the two-party system.

It must not be allowed to die in the Legislature.

If the Boston Legislators do not let the people in their districts vote, the Reform Bill will die. If reform is to go forward, the Legislative leadership rightly demands a majority of the Boston delegation be willing to support reform and referendum.

I have in the past opposed the referendum route because I believed a protracted struggle and a contested election could divide us.

But, I withdraw my objection, because I believe the larger issue is the public right to have reform in this city, this year.

BOSTON 200's BIRTHDAY BOOK: A WINNER

Boston 200's Birthday Book Program was selected as one of seven winners from among ninety entries in the "Planning and Urban Design" category of Progressive Architecture magazine's 1977 awards competition. The nationally renowned, architectural publication, which presented citations to Boston 200 representative Barbara Wise and the designers, Myron Miller of Arrowstreet, Inc. (Cambridge, Mass.), and Jan Frankina, highlights the Birthday Book in its January issue.

Deputy Mayor Katharine D. Kane, former head of the city's Bicentennial program, commented, "We are very excited and proud that Progressive Architecture has honored the Birthday Book Program in this way. The program is continuing under the auspices of the Public Facilities Department as one of Boston 200's permanent contributions to the quality of life in our city."

The Birthday Book Program encourages individuals and community groups to actively participate with the city in enhancing their neighborhood's environment. Specifically, the program matches community dollars for small-scale projects with private and city donations, providing a unique opportunity for Boston residents to initiate neighborhood improvements. Distributed free, the Birthday Book itself is basically a gift catalog from which people can select such physical improvement items as trees, shrubs, planters, trash receptacles, water fountains, bicycle racks, and the like. After the individual or group has decided on a "gift," a Birthday Book coordinator intercedes as "facilitator" to provide matching funds, assist in site selection, and offer general and technical support to insure the project's completion.

To date thirty-four Birthday Book projects, costing an estimated $60,000, have been completed in communities including the South End, Roxbury, the Back Bay, Beacon Hill, and the Fenway. Direct contributions from participating community residents account for approximately 20 percent of that total expenditure. Grants for matching funds have been received from the Massachusetts Bicentennial Commission, the Henderson Foundation, the Home Savings Bank, the New England Telephone Company, and the Massachusetts Building Congress.

Praising the program, Progressive Architecture 1977 awards jury member Ernest R. Bonner (planning director, Portland Bureau of Planning, Portland, Oregon) said, "I think it's a great way for an individual to assume responsibility, at a scale and in a way that an individual can actually accomplish something."

FROM BUFFALO TO BRIGHTON

Mayor Kevin White has announced that the Iddings Paint Company, a division of Sand Rock, Inc., is moving its manufacturing facilities from Buffalo, New York, to a Brighton industrial park at 61 North Beacon Street.

Iddings, which manufactures a special paint that is used by nearly every television station for visual effects, is the fifth tenant at the recently revitalized industrial site where, in the last two years, available jobs have increased from 35 to 200.

"Naturally, we are very happy to welcome Iddings to Boston," Mayor White said. "Jobs will be created, a boost given the local economy — and that is always good news."

"But more significant is the now almost total rejuvenation of what had been a dying industrial site within our city limits. In 1974, through the efforts of the city's Economic Development and Industrial Commission, a Small Business Administration loan was secured enabling U.S. Scientific Instruments, formerly of Watertown, to purchase the site from International Harvester," Mayor White added.

"Since then four more companies have located there. Efforts such as these on both a small and large scale have enabled EDIC to increase available jobs city-wide by 2,400 in the last year and to pump some $40 million in related goods and services into the Boston economy," Mayor White concluded.

Tenants at the North Beacon Street industrial park include: U.S. Scientific Instruments, producers of commercial and industrial stroboscopy; Seltzer Corporation, a heating firm; Energetic Lingerie, ladies apparel; Kraft Company, a diesel generator firm; and now Iddings Paint Company.

S. Eric Kondi, senior vice-president of U.S. Scientific Instruments, is pleased with his company's location. "Frankly, I am delighted," Mr. Kondi said. "The facilities, location, and labor pool in Boston are great assets to our business." Mr. Kondi, who leased the surplus space to Iddings Paint Company, went on to say that "the advantages of being a Boston-based company did not go unnoticed by Iddings. They carefully studied this and other sites and decided that Boston has a lot to offer."

Michael Westgate, executive director of EDIC said: "In the past year, more companies have contacted EDIC for information and assistance in relocating in Boston than ever before. This is a positive trend which bodes well for the future of the Boston economy."

"In the past year, we have attracted 400 new jobs to the South Boston Marine Industrial site, and 300 to smaller industrial sites, including the Brighton address. Those 700 jobs have in turn generated 1,700 off-site jobs, bringing our total to 2,400 new jobs for the year," Mr. Westgate said.

"We are extremely pleased with our progress and confident that our record will continue to be a good one as more and more companies realize the advantages of locating in Boston," Mr. Westgate added.

CHARTER REFORM BILL "LAID TO REST"

*Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White
February 17, 1977.*

Today, the Boston Charter Reform Bill — H4800 — died in the state Legislature when the suggestion to put the reform package to a public referendum did not win.

But, the hope for changing the city's Charter has not died.

The present situation is a setback to my effort to hold the rate stable. It is a setback to the hope for broader neighborhood representation, and for bringing healthy two-party system to our city government. It is a setback — but it will not permanently arrest the tide for change which is abroad in Boston.

The reform package we proposed did not prevail, but the needs the addressed are no less urgent. As long as our needs remain, the potential for reform is alive in the city. It should be nurtured.

False Fire Alarms

Can Kill!

I do not know what form or what process a new endeavor at reform will take.

But I do know that our city—and her people—are too proud, too resilient, too forward-looking to rest content with outdated structures and ineffectual institutions.

I do not know what effort will now spring up to draw on the momentum of this first attempt at charter reform in thirty years.

But I do know that our city desperately needs reform to survive.

I would like to thank especially the Committee for Boston—the group that first awakened the city to the prospect of reform. I would like also to thank the members of the City Council and the Boston delegation who labored to carry it through.

Most of all, I want to thank those many other private citizens who contributed to this mighty effort.

They did not toil in vain because they dramatized both the necessity and the possibility of reform.

"I am pleased and honored to welcome Doctor Connolly O'Brien back to Boston," Mayor White said. "This one woman's courage and commitment to the ideal of political freedom and independence for Ireland has been admired for generations. Boston is proud and happy to salute her today."

Mayor White presented Doctor Connolly O'Brien with a silver, Paul Revere pitcher as a tribute from the people of Boston.

IRISH STATESWOMAN HONORED

Mayor Kevin H. White honors Irish stateswoman Nora Connolly O'Brien at Faneuil Hall, February 20, 1977.

As his predecessor James Michael Curley did sixty years ago, Mayor Kevin H. White today honored Irish stateswoman Nora Connolly O'Brien in remarks delivered before the Irish National Caucus at Faneuil Hall.

Doctor Connolly O'Brien, noted author and former Irish Senator, first spoke at Faneuil Hall in 1917, where she was greeted by an overflow crowd.

Since the execution of her father, James Connolly, and most of the other leaders of the 1916 Easter Uprising in Dublin, Doctor Connolly O'Brien has dedicated her life to the cause of a unified and independent Ireland.

Now eighty-one, she has returned to the United States at the invitation of the Irish National Caucus to simulate the tour she made originally in 1917.

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE. MAYOR OF BOSTON

JOSEPH M. TIERNEY
PRESIDENT. CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 69

MONDAY, MARCH 7, 1977

NO. 10

Added Protection for Fenway Residents

Mayor White Calls for Increased Police Presence and Stepped-up Code Enforcement to Halt Fenway Fires.

Mayor Kevin White, on February 23, ordered that immediate steps be taken to protect residents of the Fenway from rising incidents of fire and to combat housing abandonment.

The Mayor's requests, on behalf of Fenway residents, are:

— An accelerated code enforcement drive by the city's Housing Inspection, Building, and Fire Departments to identify existing building and housing code violations and fire hazards and to seek complaints against landlords in Boston Housing Court;

— Assignment by the Police Department of a nighttime foot patrol to Hemenway Street, Massachusetts Avenue, Symphony Road, and Burbank Street to allay resident fears of street crime and to deter illegal fire setting; and — Instruction of the Police Department to step up towing operations of crosswalks and fire hydrants to ensure access for emergency vehicles in the event of fire.

The Mayor's actions resulted from a rash of recent Fenway fires on Westland Avenue and Symphony Road which displaced more than 100 people in the past two months. A fire on Westland Avenue last month resulted in the death of four persons.

In a separate action designed to stem illegal fires, the Mayor said the city has filed legislation (H. 3736) with the state requiring that all fire insurance settlements, over a certain amount, first be applied to back taxes owed the city.

"It is a tragedy that less than one month ago four residents lost their lives in a fire on Westland Avenue. On February 22, a fire at 66 Westland Avenue resulted in the necessity of finding emergency shelter for nearly thirty Fenway residents," the Mayor said, "It is a great hardship for the many residents who must relocate from a building that needs repairs to one that is not adequate.

"The city's immediate concerns, and ones shared by the Fenway Project Area Committee, are to halt the increasing number of fires in the Fenway and to increase code enforcement investigations to find and correct dangerous housing conditions," Mayor White explained.

"I have little doubt that many of the buildings plagued by fires are also those that are unsafe and have violations that should be corrected," the Mayor said.

"Over the past month, staff members from the Housing Inspection and Building Departments have met with members of the Fenway community to identify buildings where code violations exist. This effort will be stepped up.

SAFETY IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

The Massachusetts Turnpike Authority has announced an $800,000 program for safety improvements on the Boston Extension of the Massachusetts Turnpike.

Chairman John T. Driscoll said, "The program, which would be spread over a two-year period, would consist of constructing additional emergency breakdown areas, building emergency access ramps, expanding safety signing, and improving the existing highway guard protection."

Nine emergency breakdown areas would be constructed at selected intervals along the turnpike extension roadway. Five priority locations would be built this year and the remaining four in 1978. This year's work would also include construction of two access ramps for emergency vehicles in Newton. The signing improvements, which would be made by turnpike forces in the spring, would include advance signing for both the existing and new emergency breakdown areas. Also, signing to caution motorists against possible disabled vehicles, would be added along the entire turnpike extension.

The chairman added that the additional emergency breakdown areas, emergency vehicle access ramps, signing, and highway guard improvements, designed in accordance with the latest safety standards, would provide significant measures to enhance safe travel on the turnpike.

Added Protection . . .

"The Fire Department Arson Squad will continue to conduct investigations into the causes of recent fires, many of which are still unresolved."

The Mayor said that, since 1968, the city has spent more than $16 million in the Fenway on urban renewal, capital improvements, including street and sidewalk reconstruction, and in human service programs.

"We realize that perhaps the greatest need in the Fenway is in housing, and the city is now waiting to develop a housing policy that will work for the area."

"The majority of federal housing policies now available to the city are designed for smaller, owner-occupied dwellings and not for the multi-unit, investor-owned buildings that dominate the Fenway."

The Mayor added that the city is currently in negotiations with the city's trade unions to finalize an agreement that would make HUD section 8 subsidies available to rehabilitate 500 apartment units in the Fenway.

"POPS" FIEDLER CONDUCTS RED CROSS DRIVE

The Greater Boston Red Cross launched its annual membership appeal on February 16, naming famed Boston Pops conductor Arthur Fiedler honorary chairman.

The appeal, which officially opens March 21, is aimed at residents of Boston and twenty communities in the area.

Edward R. Werner, GBRC chairman, presented Mr. Fiedler with a Red Cross disaster helmet.

Referring to the maestro's interest in fire fighting activities, Mr. Werner said, "The Red Cross is the only group, outside of the fire fighters, who are at more fires than Arthur Fiedler."

The GBRC, which operates on a budget of $1,028,800, is partially funded by the United Way of Massachusetts Bay. In addition to seeking new members, this year's goal includes raising $200,000 to supplement funding.

MAYOR LAUNCHES HOMESTEADING PROGRAM

Mayor Kevin White has announced the start of an innovative program to make up to twenty-five HUD-owned vacant buildings available this year to new homeowners who agree to complete rehabilitation in twelve months.

The new program — Boston's Urban Homesteading Program — was launched on February 20, with the signing of purchase and sales agreements on two Mattapan properties by the city's first homesteaders — Richard and Linnea Still and Joseph and Barbara Everette.

The property transfers took place at HUD's area office at New Charlestown Street in Boston. The Homesteading Program, targeted during 1977 for areas of Mattapan and Dorchester, makes HUD-owned abandoned buildings available to residents at a price equal to the cost of rehabilitation in return for the homeowner's commitment to rehabilitate in a year and reside in the building for three years.

In turn, the city will provide support for neighborhood-based housing corporations to operate the program, financing for rehabilitation, and $450,000 worth of capital improvements, including street lighting and road and sidewalk improvements in the homesteading areas of Mattapan and Dorchester this year.

"The first two property settlements made signal the start of an exciting and creative effort to turn abandoned buildings into rehabilitated owner-occupied properties," Mayor White said.

"I am gratified by the interest and commitment of individuals who are willing to use their personal skills, financial resources, and ambitions to rehabilitate properties, and I thank HUD for their cooperation with the city," the Mayor said.

"This program is a direct result of residents' priorities to turn empty, but sound buildings, into attractive dwellings and to stem the tide of further housing abandonment, increase property values, and foster new housing development," he said.

"The Urban Homesteading Program should be seen as an integral part of the city's total neighborhood and housing improvement efforts. This year alone, the city will spend $9.5 million on special housing programs for improvements to vacant lots and for the highly successful Housing Improvement Program which assists residents in making improvements to their homes."

The properties are located at 15 Duke Street and 594 Harvard Street in Mattapan. Homesteading properties are generally valued at $20,000 to $23,000 and cost $15,000 to $20,000 to rehabilitate.

BRA APPOINTMENT

John Sloan, an architect with the Boston Redevelopment Authority since 1972, has been named director of urban design at the BRA.

In announcing the appointment, BRA Director Robert F. Walsh said, "There are few positions in the BRA more important than that of urban design director. In John Sloan we have an individual who has the imagination and resourcefulness required to carry out the many and varied responsibilities of this position."

At the BRA, Mr. Sloan has served as project architect for the Jordan Marsh/Lafayette Place development and formulated a pedestrian improvement program for downtown, of which the Washington Street Mall is a principal component.

Mr. Sloane is a graduate of Cornell University and received his master's degree in urban design from Pratt Institute in 1969. He was an instructor in urban design at Pratt Institute and before joining the BRA was associated with Au, Cutting Smith and Associates, Honolulu; and Weiner and Gran, Architects, New York.

The design group at the BRA is responsible for administration of the design review process, which ranges from evaluation of development proposals submitted by developers to review of 121A development proposals and petitions to the city's Board of Appeals for zoning variances. The department also provides architectural, landscape, and rehabilitation services to city agencies and other BRA departments.

Mr. Sloan is a registered architect in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and a member of the American Institute of Architects and the American Institute of Planners.

PUBLIC LOSES MILLIONS TO "SCHEMERS"

Postal Service Estimates $514 Million Loss to Public.

"American consumers lost an estimated $514 million last year as a result of mail fraud and misrepresentation-by-mail schemes," according to Postmaster Philip L. Sullivan.

Accounting for most of the loss were schemes involving stocks and land investments, credit misrepresentation, and false claims against insurance companies.

"In a concerted effort to assist customers, Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailer designated last week as the second annual Postal Consumer Protection Week. It was designed to alert the public to mail order schemes and serves to emphasize the consumer protection activities of the Postal Service," Postmaster Sullivan said. "The Postal Service has been helping consumers since enactment in 1872 of the Mail Fraud Statute."

Investment schemes ranked first in dollar value, with a loss to the public of $59 million. Failure-to-furnish merchandise ranked first in the number of complaints received with more than 19,000, valued at $2.6 million.

The overwhelming majority of those companies making up the $60 billion mail order industry are honest and seek to satisfy their customers. But, as in other industries, there are a few disreputable ones that cause problems.

The Postal Service actively investigates mail fraud and false representation by mail, and assists with mail order and service problems, through the efforts of the Postal Inspection Service, the Consumer Protection Office of the Postal Service Law Department, the service's Judicial Office and its Consumer Advocate.

The consumer protection activities of these departments include attempts to resolve unsatisfactory mail order transactions such as failure-to-furnish ordered merchandise or failure to make promised refunds. Administrative proceedings may be initiated against mail order firms that falsely advertise their products. In cases of mail fraud, the Postal Inspection Service presents investigative results to the appropriate United States Attorney for criminal proceedings.

"In conjunction with Consumer Protection Week, we are reemphasizing the Consumer Service Card Program, to remind consumers of our continuing interest in their mail service and related problems," Postmaster Sullivan said. "Consumer Service cards are available at the post office or from letter carriers, and provide the means for attacking problems individually and geographically."

"If you have any problems, complete and mail a Consumer Service card for mail service assistance. Talk with my office or a postal inspector concerning possible false advertising-by-mail or mail fraud. Let's work together," Postmaster Sullivan added.

TAX ABATEMENT APPLICATIONS: NEW PROCEDURE

Fact Sheet: 1977 Assessing Department Residential Abatement Process

As of the October 28, 1976, deadline, the city received some 7,400 applications for tax abatements from properties with an assessment of less than $10,000.

Of these, approximately 4,600 were from residential property owners.

Assessing Commissioner Barbara Cameron ordered a staff review of residential abatement applications and the creation of new procedures to speed up settlement of those cases. It was discovered that all 2,300 applications submitted by Massachusetts Fair Share, as well as those from other homeowners, left out information crucial to the decision-making process: e.g., costs of running the property, including insurance, utility costs, and maintenance.

Commissioner Cameron, therefore, mailed each of the 4,600 residential applicants a shorter form requesting the pertinent information originally omitted and urged that the forms be filled out and returned as soon as possible for speed settlement of outstanding cases.

The forms were mailed out on February 3 and 4. Approximately 940 have been returned and most of those cases have been or will be settled as of this week (February 21).

This means that nearly 25 percent of the residential cases are now resolved or about to be resolved. This puts the Assessing Department one month ahead of last year's schedule in the abatement process.

Commissioner Cameron urges homeowners who have filed for an abatement and have not completed the recently mailed short form, to do so as soon as possible so that cases can be resolved.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

BUILDING DEPARTMENT

RAZING OF BUILDINGS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following buildings or structures have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

8 Monadnock Street and garage, Ward 13; 16 Kingsdale Street, Ward 11; and 18 Bird Street, Ward 15. Emergency bid submitted in bid box—one copy to Auditing Department. Bid box opened by Mr. Vey's office. These buildings are in an unsafe and dangerous condition, a hazard to the general public. Community Development Block Grant.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 802, Acts of 1972, as amended, particularly section 124 thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the buildings or structures.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of buildings or structures, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Napoli Wrecking Co., Inc., $11,320; John J. Duane Co., Inc., $10,675; Tri Construction Company, $12,400; Mystic Building Wrecking, $11,900.

John J. Duane Co., Inc., 600 Southern Artery, Quincy, Mass., has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance, and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bids for the individual buildings or structures were not requested because it would be a practical, physical impossibility for several different contractors to conduct efficient contracting operations simultaneously in individual buildings or structures. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference and each contractor would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent contractors. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the total buildings or structures to be demolished, and that handling the buildings or structures as one unit results in one administrative cost to the city, rather than what would result from handling the individual buildings or structures as separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, in a contract price of over $2,000, or over the statutory limitations upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety so requiring, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding, without advertising, as required in the City Charter, of a contract in the sum of $10,675, to John J. Duane Co., Inc., 600 Southern Artery, Quincy, Mass.

Very truly yours,

FRANCIS W. GENS,
Building Commissioner.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following buildings or structures have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

For Building Commissioner.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following buildings or structures have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

25 Lewis Street, rear, Ward 1; and 107 Terrace Street and garage, Ward 10. Tri Construction, $34,700; Napoli Wrecking, $71,400; Mystic Wrecking, $23,700; Ups & Downs Wrecking, $30,800.

Mystic Wrecking Co., Inc., 265 Carter Street, Chelsea, Mass., has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance, and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION CONSERVATION PROJECT SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertising in the City Record, and to award a contract to John Blackwell, of 73 Tremont Street, Boston, for professional services, for the period of December 1, 1976, to June 30, 1977.

Mr. Blackwell will be engaged for conservation project planning for the Commission's open-space programs. Services to be provided to the Commission by Mr. Blackwell include environmental planning, real estate research and consultation, and negotiations with landowners for the purpose of securing easements and restrictions for the protection of open space throughout the city. Mr. Blackwell will also assist in the updating of the city Conservation and Open-Space Plan which is required to maintain eligibility for federal and state open-space fund assistance.

Under the terms of the proposed contract, total cost to the city will not exceed $3,300. Mr. Blackwell will assist the Commission under the direction of the chairman and Commission staff.

Mr. Blackwell has particular thorough knowledge and expertise regarding potential open-space properties in the city, and has assisted the Commission landowner negotiations and project planning dating back to 1972. In view of Mr. Blackwell's experience, familiarity, and expertise in Commission programs and project areas, I believe that public advertising would not benefit the public interest.

Respectfully,
ROBERT E. HOLLAND,
Chairman.

MANPOWER ADMINISTRATION VOCATIONAL SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with inviting proposals by advertising in the City Record, and award a contract to Massachusetts Halfway Houses, Inc., P.O. Box 348, Bay Annex, Boston, Mass., for offenders confined at the Suffolk County House of Corrections at a cost not to exceed $72,000. Funds for this contract will be provided from a federal government grant to the City of Boston through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973, P. L. 203. The effective date of operation for this contract will be from February 1, 1977, through September 1977.

Under the terms of the proposed contract, the Manpower Administration will purchase vocational services from Massachusetts Halfway Houses, Inc. for offenders.

In view of the few agencies professionally capable of operating Halfway House programs for offenders and due to experience and success of this agency providing these services during the past fiscal year, it is my opinion that no use of public funds will be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Sincerely,
JOSEPH R. DUGGAN,
Manpower Administrator

CONSULTING SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with inviting proposals by advertising in the City Record, and to award a contract to Allen Toothaker, 9 Pearl Road, Somerville, Mass., to provide consulting services to the Manpower Administration. Funds for this contract will be provided from a federal government grant to the City of Boston through the C prehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973, P. L. 203. The effective dates of operations of this contract will be from January 10, 1977, through April 30, 1977, at a total cost not to exceed $2,500, at a per diem rate of $88.

Under the terms of the proposed contract, Mr. Toothaker will be responsible for a study of the Manpower Administration's OJT Program, the development of a redesigned OJT program, and implementation of the redesigned program.

Mr. Toothaker, former CETA Director for the City of Cambridge, brings extensive manpower experience to this endeavor and, as a result, it is my opinion that no purpose will be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH R. DUGGAN,
Manpower Administrator.

HEALTH TRAINING SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with advertising in the City Record, and to award a contract to Paula M. Vosburgh, 363 Corey Street, West Roxbury, MA 02132. The contract will be in an amount not to exceed $5,000. The period of performance will be from January 17, 1977, through May 15, 1977, at a per diem rate of $60.

Under the terms of the proposed contract, Ms. Vosburgh will be responsible for the implementation of an Allied Health Manpower Training Program in conjunction with the Department of Health and Hospitals. The tasks to be performed by Ms. Vosburgh include: develop a contractual arrangement with Boston City Hospital to provide training in allied health fields; oversee and advise in curriculum development; oversee and advise in design of OJT contracts and other training subcontracts; develop a memorandum of understanding between the BMA and the BCH; coordinate the development of client prerequisites with BCH and CETA Title I contracts; establish and document client referral and selection process for project. The entire cost of Ms. Vosburgh's services will be paid out of administrative funds allocated to the city under Title I of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

Ms. Vosburgh has had extensive manpower experience combined with academic training and work experience in the allied health field, and therefore it is my opinion that no purpose will be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH R. DUGGAN,
Manpower Administrator.

BROCHURE

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with inviting proposals by public advertising in the City Record, and to award a contract to 760 Associates, 35 Wykeham Road, West Newton, Mass. 02165, to develop a brochure for each of the Manpower Administration's fourteen contractors. Funds for this contract will be provided from a federal government grant to the City of Boston through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973, P. L. 203. The effective dates of operation for this contract will be from January 1, 1977, through June 30, 1977, inclusive, at a total cost not to exceed $7,000.

Under the terms of the proposed contract, 760 Associates will be responsible for the preparation of brochures explaining the services offered by each of the Manpower Administration's contractors.

760 Associates is a minority-owned business which has contracted with the City of Boston for the development of brochures for several other city departments. Three minority firms were considered for this project; however, due to its previous city contracts, the start-up costs of 760 Associates are considerably less and, therefore, more competitive.

Due to the experience and success of this organization in providing graphic design services, it is my opinion that no useful purpose will be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH R. DUGGAN,
Manpower Administrator.

MAYOR'S OFFICE

OFFICE OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE

YOUTH SERVICES PROGRAMS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As director of the Mayor's Office of Criminal Justice, I respectfully request your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertising, and to award a contract to the Boys' Clubs of Boston, Inc., 15 State Street, Boston, Mass., in an amount not to exceed $16,972, for the period February 26, 1977, through December 31, 1977.

Award of the contract is made pursuant to a grant received by the City of Boston from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration through the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (P.L. 90-351), as amended by the Crime Control Act of 1970 (P.L. 91-644), and the Crime Control Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-83).

The purpose of the grant is to allow the Boys' Clubs of Boston, Inc. to continue a project begun in October, 1975, which offers a diversion and treatment program aimed at first and second offenders and which attempts to prevent future involvement of these youths with the criminal justice system. The project consists of five components: (1) seminars of criminal behavior and the juvenile justice system; (2) photography; (3) counseling; (4) tutoring; and (5) social, cultural, and recreational activities; and seeks to serve youth from the Roxbury community.

The Boys' Clubs of Boston, Inc., is a nonprofit corporation that specializes in services to the very clients this program serves. It has been an effective component of the community in dealing with the problems of youth.

Because of the need for continuity of services to youth enrolled in the program and because of the unique services required to perform the function of this contract, it is believed that public advertising would serve no useful or practical purpose.

Respectfully,

DONALD A. MCGOWAN,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As director of the Mayor's Office of Criminal Justice, I respectfully request your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertising in the award of a contract to the Greater Boston Legal Services, 27 School Street, Boston, Mass. 02108, in an amount not to exceed $82,063, for the period January 1, 1977, through December 31, 1977.

Award of the contract is made pursuant to grants received by the City of Boston from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration through the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (P.L. 90-351), as amended by the Crime Control Act of 1970 (P.L. 91-644), and the Crime Control Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-83).

The purpose of the grant is to allow the Greater Boston Legal Services to continue a project providing legal assistance, counseling, preventive education, and outreach to juveniles in the South Boston and Dorchester District Court areas. In order to have more direct contact with its client population, part of the staff will be housed in outreach offices in South Boston and Dorchester. The proximity of professional help will aid in keeping the juvenile out of serious trouble with the courts by providing the necessary counseling and referral services to local youths as soon as problems arise.

Because of the continuation nature of the grants and because of the long history of service which this project has provided to the South Boston and Dorchester communities, it is respectfully requested that public bidding be dispensed with.

Respectfully,

DONALD A. MCGOWAN,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As director of the Mayor's Office of Criminal Justice, I respectfully request your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertising in the award of a contract to the Y.M.C.A. Services Corporation, 316 Huntington Avenue, Boston, Mass., in an amount not to exceed $57,707, for the period January 1, 1977, through December 31, 1977.

Award of the contract is made pursuant to a grant received by the City of Boston from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration through the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (P.L. 90-351), as amended by the Crime Control Act of 1970 (P.L. 91-644), and the Crime Control Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-83).

The purpose of the grant is to allow Y.M.C.A. Services Corporation to continue a program designed to reduce the rate of crime in the South Dorchester area by providing a comprehensive group of services to thirty youths, ages eleven to sixteen, who will be referred from the Police Department, Dorchester District Court, and local agency personnel.

The project will provide family and individual counseling, crises intervention educational services (alternative school setting), vocational services (training and job placement), and recreational services. In addition to providing these direct services to youth the project will work with the court, Police Department, and the community to divert youth from the court process.

The program was chosen for funding in 1975 through an extensive competition process involving both the Mayor's Office of Criminal Justice and the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice. Since I was selected for funding after rigorous competitive process at both city and state levels, I request that no further formal bidding be required.

Respectfully,

DONALD A. MCGOWAN,

The purpose of the grant is to allow YMCA Services Corporation to continue a program to acquaint thirty pre-high school girls with professional jobs in five vocational areas through an "internship" program involving local professional women and their families. The project will also provide discussion seminars planning a future vocation, to assist girls

This program was chosen for funding through an extensive competitive process involving both the Mayor's Office of Criminal Justice and the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice. Since it was selected for funding after rigorous competitive process at both city and state levels, I request that no further formal bidding be required.

Respectfully,

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As director of the Mayor's Office of Criminal Justice, I respectfully request your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertising in the award of a contract to New England Medical Center Hospital, 171 Harrison Avenue, Boston, Mass., in an amount not to exceed $24,774, for the period January 1, 1977, through June 30, 1977.

Award of the contract is made pursuant to a grant received by the City of Boston from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration through the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (P. L. 90-351), as amended by the Crime Control Act of 1970 (P. L. 91-644), and the Crime Control Act of 1973 (P. L. 93-83).

Under the terms of the contract the City of Boston will continue a mental health delinquency prevention program in South Boston and Dorchester which received initial funding in FY 1971 and was continued through 1976.

The heart of the program is the anchor workers who serve as combination social worker, child advocate, and ombudsman for the child and his family. DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As director of the Mayor's Office of Criminal Justice, I respectfully request your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertising in the award of a contract to Hillside-D.A.R.E., Inc., 115 Hillside St., Roxbury Crossing, Boston, Mass. 02120, in an amount not to exceed $21,111, for the period January 1, 1977, through December 31, 1977.

Award of the contract is made pursuant to a grant received by the City of Boston from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration through the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice under the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974 (P. L. 93-115).

The purpose of the grant is to allow Hillside-D.A.R.E., Inc. to supplement a separately funded career exploration and education program with a job orientation and job placement component. The idea is to motivate juveniles, at least 50 percent of whom are delinquent, to attend education and career exploration classes by providing an actual job as part of the training and experience. Hillside-D.A.R.E. was chosen among some twenty other Boston organizations that answered a request for proposals put out by the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice and supported by this office. They were selected because: (1) they have an excellent reputation of successful dealings with juvenile delinquents; (2) they developed a well structured project which included commitments from various employers; and (3) they had a commitment of other funds from the Department of Education, a condition which gave them priority status according to the guideline requirements.

Thus, because of the reasons noted above and the competitive nature of the process by which they were selected, I respectfully request that public bidding be dispensed with in awarding this grant.

Sincerely,
DONALD A. MCGOWAN,
Executive Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Award of the contract is made pursuant to a grant received by the City of Boston from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration through the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice under the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974 (P. L. 93-115).

The purpose of this grant is to allow Project Have, Inc. to provide services such as outreach, advocacy, vocational testing, training, job placement for juveniles referred from the courts and police or hanging on the streets. Project Have, Inc. was chosen among some twenty other Boston organizations that answered a request for proposals put out by the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice and supported by this office. They were selected because: (1) their application met all guideline requirements; (2) their program design was well structured and supported by commitments from potential employers; and (3) they have expertise in the employment field and a solid reputation among employers.

Thus, because of the reasons noted above and the competitive nature by which they were selected, it is respectfully requested that public bidding be dispensed with.

Sincerely,

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT

TREE PROGRAMS CONSULTANTS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

It is respectfully requested that your Honor approve my selection of Professor C. S. Chater, 34 Hamilton Road, Waltham, Mass., and Professor F. W. Holmes, Berkshire Terrace, Amherst, Mass., as consultants to the Parks and Recreation Department. The purpose of the contract is to develop recommendations as to future tree maintenance and tree planting programs in the Public Garden and the Boston Common. In order to develop future programs it will be necessary to survey existing trees in order to: field locate trees on existing park and recreation plans; to identify trees as to species and size; to report on the general condition of each tree; to make recommendations for the improvement of tree health, including a written program for tree removal, tree trimming and pruning, fertilization, insect and disease control, and recommendations as to future tree planting programs.

Because of the existing work load of our tree division the city does not have the staff to assign to this project. Professors Chater and Holmes will meet with the department's tree division and community groups such as the Friends of the Public Garden, and the Boston Common to report their findings and coordinate their recommendations. The cost of the above services shall be $5,500.

In no event shall the maximum liability of the city under the terms of the proposed contract as of the date of its execution, including presently estimated expenditures of $2,000 for supplementary services, exceed in the aggregate the sum of $7,500. Supplementary services will be used to compensate the consultants for special professional services performed outside the scope of the contract, such as taking samples of diseased trees for testing, taking field soil samples for testing, monitoring tree maintenance work performed under contract, and for reviewing technical specifications for tree work issued by the department. The consultants will be compensated at the rate of $25 per man-hour for professional services performed under supplementary services and for actual out-of-pocket expenses authorized.

As Professors Chater and Holmes are recognized experts in the field of arboriculture, and the proposed contract is to be one for the performance of professional services, a public solicitation for bids would serve no useful purpose. The contract will be charged to 3-31-13.

Very truly yours,

PETER G. MEADE,
Commissioner.

POLICE DEPARTMENT POLICE CONSULTANT

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I respectfully request your written approval to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, and award to Lawrence J. Ball of 3 Center Plaza, Boston, Mass., a contract in the amount not to exceed $15,000, commencing on September 1, 1976, through June 30, 1977.

During the current fiscal year the Boston Police Department will be faced with new and complex problems relating to police discipline. The Rules and Regulations of the department are being extensively revised and rewritten. The new rules, which will set forth procedures for conducting internal affairs investigations and police disciplinary hearings, must clarify the rights of employees and the powers of police administrators in light of the federal Constitution, the recently amended Civil Service laws, the new Public Employees Collective Bargaining Law and the new revisions of the collective bargaining contracts for employees of this department. In addition, there are several complex internal affairs investigations pending which may result in immediate challenges to the legality of these new procedures.

Because of the special circumstances in existence during this fiscal year, it is impossible for the present staff of this department to establish new, workable, and efficient disciplinary procedures without the assistance of a trained and knowledgeable consultant. That consultant is necessary to advise and assist me and my staff in drafting the new rules and in resolving the complex problems arising from implementation of those rules. Mr. Ball has the unique and special skills necessary to carry out that task.

Mr. Ball has considerable knowledge and experience with respect to the problems faced by police administrators in imposing discipline upon employees of a large urban police department. Mr. Ball is an expert in public employee disciplinary procedures, the Massachusetts Civil Service Laws and the new public employees Collective Bargaining Law. Mr. Ball, as of counsel to the firm of Nutter, McClellan and Fish, has advised and assisted the Commissioner of the Department of Youth Services of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. He has also established procedures for handling Civil Service problems raised by employees of that department. Mr. Ball has a knowledge of police-related problems because he has in the past advised this department and represented me with respect to numerous complex police disciplinary problems. He has previously drafted rules establishing new procedures, reviewed numerous complex internal affairs investigations and successfully defended me in federal and state actions brought by employees of this department challenging the legality of those procedures. He has lectured private security guards and is presently an instructor in the Law Enforcement Program at Boston State College. The skills and knowledge possessed by Mr. Ball make him uniquely capable of advising and assisting me in resolving the problems I face during this current fiscal year.

In view of Mr. Ball's experience and expertise and the unique service required to perform the various functions of this contract, it is believed that the public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT J. DI GRAZIA,
Police Commissioner.

Since these facilities are both adequate and convenient, as well as being in compliance with Judge Garrity's court order concerning the premises, it is not felt by the writer that public advertising would be useful in this instance.

Very truly yours,

VICTOR E. HAGAN,
Acting Director.

THE CITY SEAL

As it appeared prior to 1827

The City Seal was adopted by "An Ordinance to Establish the City Seal," passed January 2, 1823 which provides "That the design hereto annexed, as sketched by John R. Penniman, giving a view of the City, be the device of the City Seal; that the motto be as follows to wit: 'Sicut patribus sit Deus nobis'; and that the inscription be as follows:—'Bostonia condita, A.D. 1630. Civitatis regimine donata A.D. 1822,'" The motto is taken from 1 Kings, viii, 57: "God be with us as He was with our fathers."

The seal as it first appeared shown above.

The seal as it was afterward changed, and has ever since continued to be used, was first shown on page 221 of the volume of laws and ordinances commonly known as the "First Revision," published in 1827, and is established as the City Seal at the present time by Revised Ordinances of 1914, Chapter 1, Section 5, which provides that "The seal of the City shall be circular in form; shall bear a view of the City; the motto 'SICUT PATRIBUS SIT DEUS NOBIS,' and the inscription, 'BOSTONIA CONDITA A.D. 1630. CIVITATI; REGIMINE DONATA A.D. 1822.'"

The City of Boston, acting by the Commissioner of Traffic and Parking, hereinafter referred to as the Commissioner, with offices at Room 721, City Hall, invites proposals for applying loading zone and safety zone markings in various locations in the City of Boston, Mass.

A performance bond and also a payment bond, each of a surety company satisfactory to the Commissioner, and each in the sum of 100 percent of the contract price, will be required of the successful contractor. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 721, City Hall. Each proposal should be filled out, signed, enclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Applying Loading Zone and Safety Zone Markings in Various Locations in the City of Boston, Mass.," one copy of which is to be left at Room 721, City Hall, before twelve noon on Friday, March 18, 1977, with a certified check for 3 percent of the bid price, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. If the unit price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal. The rate per hour of wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs, and laborers in the work to be performed under the contract shall not be less than the rate of wages in the schedule determined by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth, a copy of which is annexed to the form of contract referred to herein. Copies of said schedule may be obtained, without cost, upon application therefor at the office of the Commissioner. Before commencing performance of this contract, the contractor shall provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under chapter 152 of the General Laws (the Workmen's Compensation Law, so called) to all persons to be employed under this contract, and shall continue such insurance in full force and effect during the term of this contract. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to accept any proposal or any item of a proposal should he deem it to be for the best interest of the city so to do.

The attention of all bidders is specifically directed to the equal employment opportunity section of the specifications and the obligation of the contractor and all sub-contractors to take affirmative action in connection with employment practices throughout the work.

Boston Urban Wilds: Conservation Program

NATURAL AREA INVENTORY

The Boston Urban Wilds study was undertaken because of the existence of a number of unprotected areas, large and small, within the city. Concern for the future of these natural areas led to an extensive search, examination, and subsequently a detailed inventory of them. The inventory set out to establish a complete listing and description of all natural areas to be found in Boston. Their physical characteristics and potential for conservation and/or other uses were assessed. This provided the basis for an analysis of each site's importance in terms of environment and public benefit, and ultimately made it possible to establish priorities and define methods for protection.

The inventory was thorough: each site was visited at least once (the entire Boston shoreline was explored on foot), and aerial photographs, United States Geological Surveys, and city topographic maps were studied. The files of the Boston Conservation Commission, which since 1970 has been conducting hearings on proposed filling or reclamation to inland and coastal wetlands, provided extensive information on individual wetland areas. For inventory purposes, "natural areas" were regarded as areas of land or water that have retained or established considerable natural character even though they may not be completely undisturbed. These areas have significant amounts of flora, fauna, and/or features of biological importance and have, in addition, scenic, recreational, educational, or esthetic value.

According to the 1970 Federal Census, 4,650 acres — or 14 percent — of Boston's land area is classified as "extractive" or "vacant land and agricultural open space." These categories included woodlands, wetlands, and meadows, as well as marginal land such as quarries, abandoned wharves, utility rights-of-way, and cleared land intended for urban renewal or road construction.

All of the land in these categories was examined, and it was deter-

80th FOR MUNICIPAL PRINT SHOP CHAPEL

The Municipal Printing Plant was established in March of 1897 by Mayor Josiah Quincy for the purpose of supplying the city's printing needs. Mayor Hugh O'Brien was one of the four founders of Boston Typographical Union No. 13 and served as secretary-treasurer of the local.

The City Printing Plant (James J. Duffy, Superintendent), is capable of supplying the city with all its printing needs, from business cards and social announcements, to legal briefs, annual reports, and brochures. Many of the city's printing needs are unique in that they are required by law to be mined that only 2,000 acres of the 4,650 could be classified as natural areas according to the study definition. Ultimately, 143 Urban Wilds sites, totaling 2,000 acres, were identified and inventoried. These included sixty-eight sites of geological significance, twelve inland and eight coastal wetland sites, twenty-eight sites having important vegetation and twenty-seven sites along the shoreline.

The Urban Wilds sites were found in all the neighborhoods of Boston except six which are, predictably, the most densely populated: Downtown, North End, Back Bay-Fenway, South End, South Cove, and South Boston. Areas of extraordinary beauty and diversity, the Urban Wilds sites contain special and distinctive features that often provide major focal points or recreational opportunities for their communities and, in many instances, reflect the history and development of the neighborhood. A description of each neighborhood in terms of the features it contains illustrates the quality and importance of these remaining natural sites.

East Boston became an urbanized, residential community in the mid nineteenth century. A series of hills surrounded by Chelsea Creek, tidal flats, salt marsh, and a deep-water harbor provided both a suitable setting for attractive residential areas and natural resources to be capitalized for commercial and industrial purposes. Large shipbuilding operations were established at the foot of Jeffries Point and elsewhere along the East Boston harbor shoreline. Shellfish operations and clamming businesses were conducted in the tidal flats surrounding East Boston and the islands near it.

As the district became more populated, public parks were constructed on top of the hills and on land adjacent to the harbor. For example, Wood Island Park, designed by Frederick Law Olmsted, was composed of sixty-three acres of wooded hills, beaches, meadows, and tidal flats. Wood Island Park was destroyed, however, by the expansion of Logan Airport after World War II and no equivalent replacement has been provided.

Except for several parks along the shoreline, East Boston is now a landlocked community. Although the water is visible from several vantage points and must be passed over or under to get there, public access to the water in East Boston is limited. At the same time, the largest saltwater marshes in the city can be found within a five-minute walk of both the Wood Island and Orient Heights MBTA stations. These salt marshes, tidal flats, and adjacent upland areas comprise approximately 515 acres and are the most expansive open spaces remaining in Boston. Extraordinary panoramas of Boston Harbor, the Harbor Islands, the hills of Revere, Chelsea, and Winthrop, and the downtown skyline can be viewed over acres of billowing reed grass. In the spring and fall great flocks of migrating birds can be seen resting and feeding in these saltwater marshes.

There are also some small sites along the banks of Chelsea Creek, which is used primarily for marine-related industry. Adjacent to McClellan Highway, an abandoned underground tank farm has become established as a meadow of wild grasses. The embankment of an abandoned railroad right-of-way has been stabilized by grasses and shrubs directly adjacent to the creek.

Behind an old granite wall built during the Depression, a narrow, gravel beach and fallow field remain amidst adjacent land uses of tank farms and maritime businesses. From this little beach, dramatic views of marine activity can be seen.

Atop Orient Heights, a section of the hill which was once quarried for sand and gravel has become wooded; on top of the hill, views across the city to the rolling Blue Hills in Milton can be seen from a broad meadow of wildflowers.

printed, but the small quantity needed is not considered worth the trouble of outside commercial printers. The plant at 174 North Street, Boston, built in 1932, employs a total of fifty-eight unheralded, dedicated persons, including compositors, proofreaders, pressmen, bindery workers, office staff, and maintenance men.

The top quality work produced at the plant is evidenced by the end result and the numerous encomiums received for a job well done.

WESTERN AVENUE FIRE STATION WILL CONTINUE OPERATING

Mayor Kevin White, responding to growing concerns of North Allston residents over adequate fire protection, has directed Fire Commissioner George Paul to keep the Western Avenue fire station operating.

The Mayor made his remarks during a recent visit to the new $1-million, Union Square fire station in Allston. The recently constructed station in Union Square was originally designed to house Western Avenue's fire Engine Company 34, in addition to the two companies now serving the Harvard Street and Commonwealth Avenue areas of Allston.

The Western Avenue Station, which serves the North Allston community, was scheduled to close in several months as part of the Fire Department's program to construct new facilities and consolidate fire stations across the city.

"I am pleased to respond to the concerns of the 14,000 residents of North Allston," the Mayor said. "North Allston is divided from the rest of Allston-Brighton by the Massachusetts Turnpike, and I sympathize with residents' fears of closing the Western Avenue Station — a station in the heart of the community — would make the more vulnerable to fire hazards."

"The fear of not having proper fire protection in a heavily populated community of predominantly owner-occupied homes, and with a large school population, is a real and upsetting concern."

"The cost of keeping the Western Avenue station open, despite seal, belt-tightening the Fire Department is undertaking, is small in comparison to the psychological cost North Allston residents would face if it were closed."

The new, 14,000-square-foot Union Square station, which includes a small park at the tip of the peninsula-like site, is scheduled to be occupied by early summer.

THE TEST OF PATRICK

By Bob Aldrich

In troubled times as these the test of Patrick, is constant thrust against the scourge of darkness, the scourge which made a vacuum of God's treasure, and robbed the soul of all its priceless grandeur:
In troubled times as these the flame is lighted, and with that light a man need fill his hours, to turn toward God and find within His Wisdom
the path which courses from increasing shadow, from world of clay to world of the celestial:
In times are these for man to idle on!
Saint Patrick made no compromise with truth, nor did he seek appeasement with the snake!
The devil's fang he met, with courage, strength, and banished it forever from the land.
The challenge we must meet as Patrick did, with faith and fortitude and freedom's might;
and he who passed through Ireland's fragrant earth will shine as that compelling light of faith
In troubled times as these when shadows fall and lengthen over righteous paths of peace!

TOP O' THE MORNING

Saint Patrick (389³—461), Ireland's patron saint, whose special day the Irish celebrate on March 17 with their annual parade through South Boston, was reputed to have been born in England. He lived in southwestern Britain and was educated as a Christian.

When he was sixteen years old, a group of Irish raiders took him as a slave to Ireland. After serving in Ireland for six years as a swineherd, he escaped in a ship bound for Gaul, France. He later became a monk and then returned to his home in Britain.

After his return, he dreamed one night that a man came to him with a paper bearing these words, "The voice of the Irish," and at the same time he heard the Irish calling, "We pray thee, holy youth, to come again and walk amongst us as before."

Beloved Patrick then decided this was a missionary call to Ireland. He returned to Gaul and spent fourteen years preparing for his work. With the title of bishop, and the Pope's blessing, he arrived in Ireland and became its patron saint.

He did much to establish Christianity firmly in Ireland, building churches and monasteries and converting the people. This remarkable work was accomplished in spite of fierce tribal chieftains ruling the land.

ED KING HEADS EVACUATION DAY COMMITTEE

The appointment of Edward M. King as general chairman of the Evacuation Day Committee has been announced by James K. Flaherty, president of the South Boston Citizens' Association.

Mr. King, a former South Boston Little City Hall manager and currently the deputy director of Boston's Youth Activities Commission, is still active in community affairs as first vice-president of the South Boston Citizens' Association and as a board member of the South Boston Boys Club and South Boston Sailing Program.

Commenting on the appointment Mr. Flaherty said, "We are very pleased that Mr. King will serve as this year's general chairman. He is a lifelong resident of the South Boston-Dorchester area."

ADDED FUNDS FOR SUMMER JOBS

The Labor Department has increased its allocation to Massachusetts for summer jobs for economically deprived youths by $3.8 million, but Boston's share was increased only slightly.

Boston, which lobbied the Labor Department and other federal agencies last year for more money to help relieve racial tensions among unemployed youths, found its allocation for this summer increased by $92,113, from $2,952,412 to $3,045,525.

"We may have an increase because unemployment has not changed and the economic pressures are worse," Joseph Dee, director of development and general counsel for ABCD, explained.

The $2.9 million allotment to Boston provided 4,800 jobs last year. Through a grant of $1.4 million in Labor Department discretionary funds and some transfers from state programs, ABCD was able to provide several thousand more jobs.

Only those aged fourteen to twenty-one, who come from disadvantaged homes, may apply for the summer jobs under the program.

Money for the summer jobs program is distributed through state and local governments serving as prime sponsors under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

When you arise in the morning, give thanks for the morning light for your life, and strength.

Give thanks for your food and for the joy of living.

If you can see no reason for giving thanks, the fault lies in yourself.

TAX ASSISTANCE FREE OF CHARGE

For the second straight year, personnel of the state Tax Department and the Internal Revenue Service have joined in a cooperative program to provide both federal and state taxpayer assistance in completing 1976 income tax forms.

In Boston, daily throughout the filing period, both federal and state taxpayer assistance will be provided at the Leverett Saltonstall Building and the J. F. Kennedy Federal Building. Both buildings are on Cambridge Street in Government Center.

EVACUATION DAY

A famous event in Boston's history took place on March 17, 1776, Evacuation Day. Except for defeat in Canada, the American colonists were holding their own against the British forces. The colonial forces in Boston were stronger than ever despite the lack of guns and ammunition.

Fortunately, cannons and ammunition arrived to add an ironic touch to the triumph; for the guns which Ethan Allen had captured from the British at Fort Ticonderoga almost a year before were available for use against the invaders.

During the winter, the American troops, commanded by Colonel Henry Knox, hauled the cannon over the wilderness trails on sledges drawn by oxen. By early March 1776, the captured cannons were mounted on Dorchester Heights South Boston, and were made ready for action.

Viewing the awesome sight of these cannon aimed directly at their ships, the British invaders realized that their occupation of Boston must cease at once. They evacuated Boston, March 17, 1776, and set sail for Nova Scotia. It was a great victory for General George Washington, for the British never again returned to that area.

FALSE FIRE ALARMS KILL

KEEP LICENSE PLATES CLEAN

Supervisor of Vehicle Inspection Ernest E. Sabatino advises that number plates on Massachusetts registered vehicles must be kept clean with the numerals and/or letters legible according to law.

The law requires that number plates are not to be obscured in any manner by the installation of any device, and during the period when the vehicle or trailer is required to display lights, the rear register number shall be illuminated so as to be plainly visible at a distance of 60 feet.

A fine of not more than $25 for the first offense, nor less than $25 or more than $50 for a second offense, and not less than $50 nor more than $100 for subsequent offenses committed during any period of twelve months shall be imposed upon anyone convicted of not keeping number plates clean, not illuminating them properly, and/or not displaying them properly.

NORTH END SITE OF MURAL COMPETITION

Dick Hogan, director of Mayor White's Neighborhood Business District Program has announced that the city is sponsoring a storefront mural competition in the North End.

The competition started March 1 and is open to North End artists over eighteen years of age. Participants will be asked to submit drawings of appropriate neighborhood scenes. Twelve winners will be selected by a vote of North End residents and those drawings will be painted on corrugated steel gratings of twelve shops on lower Salem Street.

The mural program was first instituted two years ago in the South Boston business district. Its purpose is twofold: to beautify the steel gratings that protect neighborhood shops by night and on weekends; and to provide local artists with an opportunity to win prize money and to display their work. Each winner selected will receive $300.

"This program was so well-received by South Boston residents, that this year we will be expanding it throughout the city," Dick Hogan said. "The idea originated when local residents complained of the unsightliness of the steel gratings and expressed a desire to see them painted. We recognized the opportunity to give work to local artists and to involve the community in the selection of those they liked best," Mr. Hogan added.

The mural program is part of the Neighborhood Business District Program's effort to revitalize commercial districts in the neighborhoods. Developed by the Mayor, the program represents a commitment by the city to preserve and improve local shopping areas through capital improvements and incentives for private investment.

The Salem Street Mural Project is cosponsored by the North End/Waterfront Arts Council, individual merchants of Salem Street, and the Boston Grate Company. The North End/Waterfront Arts Council recently received its second grant from the City Spirit Program of the National Endowment for the Arts.

Artists wishing to participate in the competition must live or have lived in the North End or must be a member of a family that lives or has lived in the North End.

Participants should contact Mark Faverman, visual design consultant to the Neighborhood Business District Program or Nancy Murphy, North End business district specialist for information. Both can be reached in Room 401 at City Hall, or at 725-4430.

Artists are requested to turn in drawings that reflect either the activities of Salem Street — the selling of meat, vegetables, candy, dry goods, or fruits — or the sites and landmarks of the North End community.

All entries must be in by April 1. They will be displayed in North End shops through the month of April and be voted on by residents. The winning murals will be painted on the gratings during the month of May.

HEALTH CARE PROGRAM

A program for consumers on how health care is delivered in hospitals will be held on Monday, March 21, by the Health Planning Council for Greater Boston, a nonprofit group representing both consumers of health care and health professionals.

Ethel Lennox of Dorchester, chairman of the organizing committee, said the program is free and the public is encouraged to attend.

The program will begin at 7:30 P.M., in the Mosely Auditorium of the Massachusetts General Hospital on Fruit Street in Boston.

Called "The Hospital," the March 21 event is the third in a public education series entitled "Perspectives on Health Care," which is sponsored by the Health Planning Council.

Purpose of the program is to help all citizens, particularly consumers of health care, gain a broader understanding of how the current health care system functions and of some of the present-day issues in health care.

Members of the organizing committee are: Carlos Diaz, Jamaica Plain; Joseph Faletra, Marlborough Hospital; Diana Imbimbo, Winchester; Luis-Orlando Isaza, Watertown; Elizabeth McBride, Chelsea; Eleanor D. Quirk, R.N., Needham; Carl Robinson, Allston; Seymour Shribnik, D.C., Braintree; Carlton Smith, Boston Veterans Administration Hospital; and Mrs. Lennox.

Complete program details are available by phoning the Coordination and Education staff at the Health Planning Council in Brighton at 787-5800.

V. LETTERS OF THANKS

"DEAR COMMISSIONER PAUL:

I wish to express the Coast Guard's and my own appreciation for the courageous efforts of the Boston Fire Department during the unfortunate fire aboard the Coast Guard Cutter "UNIMAK," on January 14, 1977. The timeliness and depth of response undoubtedly saved further extensive loss of property and provided protection to the large number of Coast Guard personnel at the site.

I would specifically like to thank Deputy Chief Leslie W. Magoon for his able handling of forces on the scene. We sincerely hope that Fire Lieutenant Frank Gambardello of Engine Company 26; Fire Fighter James Geiger of Marine Unit 2; and Fire Fighter Daniel McHugh of Engine Company 7 have fully recovered from their injuries.

The scene of the fire presented extremely difficult circumstances for fire fighting, in that your personnel had to descend to the depths of an unfamiliar ship in darkened and smoke-filled conditions to combat blazing fuel oil. The courage and efficiency with which these men operated drew admiration and respect from all Coast Guard personnel present.

Our logs indicate that the first units were on the scene in less than five minutes from the initial call, and the fireboat was there in seven minutes. In view of the road conditions, after heavy snows, and the fact the fire occurred during rush hour, this response was truly outstanding.

We of the United States Coast Guard are indebted to the number of over eighty men, who responded to the fire, for their professionalism, courage, and dedication. The fire was contained to an extremely localized area of the ship. The service provided by the Boston Fire Department in this fire and in previous fire inspections has been invaluable. Once again, our deep-felt thanks to those who have performed these services.

J. P. STEWART,

Rear Admiral, U. S. Coast Guard, Commander, First Coast Guard District."

"DEAR COMMISSIONER PAUL:

You saved another life! On Sunday, January 23, 1977, your men arrived here minutes after my wife called "911." My condition was critical. I could not breathe. I feel that I would not have survived this heart attack if I had not had such prompt and efficient attention.

I shall always be grateful. God bless you all!

JAMES W. HOLMES.

P.S. After three weeks in the Faulkner Hospital I am now at home recuperating."

CONTRACTS AMENDED

The Mayor has approved the amending of contracts, based on the following information:

Due to the professional nature of the services to be performed under the amendment, it is my determination that the public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

Sincerely,

ANDREW M. OLINS,
Special Assistant to the Mayor.

OFFICE OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE

DRUG SCREENING BOARD

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On January 26, 1976, you approved a contract between the City of Boston and the Boston University Medical Center, in an amount not to exceed $49,318, for the period January 1, 1976, through December 31, 1976. The purpose of the contract was to continue funding the Drug Screening Board which operates in the Roxbury District Court to offer drug treatment alternatives to drug dependent persons coming before the court.

The Mayor's Office of Criminal Justice now has the opportunity to increase the amount of the contract by $7,283, which would permit the Roxbury Drug Screening Board, Inc. to continue its program through May 1, 1977.

Award of this increase is made pursuant to a grant received by the City of Boston from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration through the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (P. L. 90-351), as amended by the Crime Control Act of 1970 (P. L. 91-644), and the Crime Control Act of 1973 (P. L. 93-83), and further amended by the Crime Control Act of 1976 (P. L. 94-503).

I respectfully request your Honor's written authorization to dispense with public advertising in the award of this increase. In view of the unique services required to perform the function of this contract, it is believed that public advertising would serve no useful or practical purpose.

Respectfully,

DONALD A. MCGOWAN,
Executive Director.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

TRUCK REPAIRS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

At the present time, the City of Boston has a contract for miscellaneous repairs to International trucks with the following contractor:

International Harvester Company, 230 Southamptton Street, Roxbury, Mass.

The contract amount is $26,250.

Because of the winter's extreme conditions, our heavy equipment has been operating on a continual basis. To ensure a minimum amount of downtime on equipment breakdowns, we have utilized the services of the above-named company to the financial limit imposed on the contract.

Since we are only halfway through the winter, it is essential to our operation that we have this company's services available.

For the above-stated reason, your approval is respectfully requested to amend this contract with an additional amount not to exceed $20,000.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH F. CASAZZA,
Commissioner of Public Works.

THAWING PIPES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

At the present time, the City of Boston has a contract for thawing frozen water pipes in Areas 1, 2, and 3 with the following contractor: Pres Welding, Inc., 271 Hancock Street, Dorchester. The contract amount is $17,050.

Because of the extreme conditions of this winter, the service pipes in the city have been freezing up at an alarming rate and continue to do so at this writing. We have been utilizing the above-named company to assist us in thawing pipes to the financial limit imposed on the contract.

Since we are only halfway through the winter, it is essential to our operations that we have the services of this company available.

For the above-stated reason, your approval is respectfully requested to amend this contract with an additional amount not to exceed $15,000.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH F. CASAZZA,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

SAFETY AND SECURITY SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston, I request your authorization of an amendment, without public advertising, regarding the contract for services between the School Department and Mr. Joseph H. Murphy, ESAA safety and security coordinator. The original award letter and contract authorized by you on July 15, 1976, is attached.

The terms of the contract provided for a total payment of $3,900. At this time the technical service which Mr. Murphy is providing is needed until October 22, 1976, in order to complete a segment of the Emergency School Aid Act and also to complete the extent of the program. Therefore, an amendment to this contract is requested extending the time from, and inclusive, September 15, 1976, to October 22, 1976, and to be increased from $3,900 to $5,550 (contract increase: $1,650). The contract number is 8387.

The funds for this extension are available within the federal grant No. G 301-75-1-706.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD J. WINTER,
Secretary.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston, I request your written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement and to award to Boston Ballet Company, Inc., the following amendments to a contract for participation in the development of educational programs at Bradley and Hale Schools:

Change contract amount from $7,339.58, to $7,591.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be provided under this contract and the expertise of the contractor in providing such services, it is the determination of the Board of Superintendents, and has been approved by the School Committee, that the public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

Yours truly,

EDWARD J. WINTER,
Secretary.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT

Purchasing Division

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On November 23, 1976, as a result of publicly advertised and opened bids, your Honor approved a permission to award a contract to Arnold Graphic Industries, Inc., the only bidder, for furnishing and delivering 1,300,000 parking violation tickets to the Boston Municipal Criminal Court.

Other Suffolk County district courts have submitted requisitions for the same type of parking violation tickets for their districts. The above company will supply the required amounts of tickets at the public bid price of $34.74 per thousand, plus a charge for color and plate changes of $6.48 per thousand, or a total of $41.22 per thousand. It is estimated that approximately 1,200,000 additional tickets will be required until June 30, 1977.

Inasmuch as Arnold Graphic Industries, Inc. was the only bidder on the publicly opened bid of November 1, 1976, and since time is of the essence, permission is requested to dispense with publicly advertising for bids and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Arnold Graphic Industries, Inc., for furnishing and delivering approximately 1,200,000 parking violation tickets to the various Suffolk County courts. In my opinion, no useful purpose would be served by publicly advertising since there was only one bidder on the original bid.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $19,164, net.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK F. CHIN,
Purchasing Agent.

CITY COUNCIL

LEGAL SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I respectfully request your written approval to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, and to award to Charles F. Choate, Esq. and Choate, Hall & Stewart, a contract, a copy of which is annexed, for his services in representing the members of the Boston City Council with respect to proceedings in the Federal District Court in an action entitled Inmates, et al., v. Eisenstadt, et al., Civil Action No. 71-162-G, during the period July 1, 1976, through June 30, 1977, at a cost not to exceed $60,000.

This is an action brought by the inmates of the Suffolk County Jail against the Mayor, the Sheriff, the Commissioner of Corrections, and the Boston City Council, seeking the closure of the Charles Street Jail and the construction of an alternate facility. The Mayor and other city defendants are represented by the Law Department.

In view of Mr. Choate's experience and in view of the fact that the Council has requested his services, it is my opinion that public advertisement would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH M. TIERNEY,
President, Boston City Council.

LAW DEPARTMENT

PHOTOGRAPHIC SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

You are respectfully notified that advertised proposals for "Photographic Services," for April 1, 1976, to June 30, 1976, were publicly opened and read at this office on March 25, 1976 as follows:

Universal Studios, Inc., 8 A.M. to 6 P.M., Mondays through Fridays, $4; Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, off hours, $6.

Melvin E. Reeves, 8 A.M. to 6 P.M., Monday through Fridays, $8; Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, off hours, $9.

The scope of work to be provided under this contract includes taking photographs and making preliminary investigations at sites from time to time as specified by request of the Law Department.

Due to Universal Studios, Inc.'s error in not signing their proposal in the Auditing Department, I propose to reject all bids and award the contract to Universal Studios, Inc., 29 Alaric Street, West Roxbury, for a sum not to exceed $5,000, at the unit price submitted in its proposal.

Respectfully submitted,

HERBERT P. GLEASON,
Corporation Counsel.

LEGAL SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I respectfully request your written approval to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, and to award to Nutter, McClennen & Fish, a contract, a copy of which is annexed, for their services in representing Ms. Marion Fahey, superintendent of public schools, with respect to the action in the United States District Court entitled Morgan v. McDonough, Civil Action No. 72-911-G, during the period July 1, 1976, through June 30, 1977, at a cost not to exceed $15,000. This is an action brought against the School Committee of the City of Boston concerning the desegregation issue.

In view of the experience of Nutter, McClennen & Fish, and in view of the fact that the School Committee's attorneys, DiMento & Sullivan, have withdrawn as counsel for Ms. Fahey, it is my opinion that public advertisement would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

HERBERT P. GLEASON,
Corporation Counsel.

MANPOWER ADMINISTRATION

LABOR MARKET ANALYST

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with inviting proposals by public advertising in the City Record, and to award a contract to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Executive Office of Economic Affairs, Department of Manpower Development, Charles F. Hurley Building, Government Center, Boston, MA 02114, to provide labor market research and analysis services to the Manpower Administration. Funds for this contract will be provided from a federal government grant to the City of Boston through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973, P.L. 203. The effective dates for this contract will be from January 17, 1977, through January 16, 1978, inclusive, at a total cost not to exceed $10,000.

Under the terms of the proposed contract, the Commonwealth will assign Mr. Paul Cournoyer, a labor market economist, to the Manpower Administration to develop a model for the conduct and use of labor market analysis in the planning process. Mr. Cournoyer will also serve as the staff liaison to the Labor Market Advisory Committee. The Manpower Administration will reciprocate as part of the proposed contract, by assigning Mr. Jeffrey Zornitsky, a program evaluation specialist, to the state Department of Research and Program Development to oversee research and program evaluation studies conducted by that office.

In view of the Commonwealth's capability of providing these much-needed services to the Manpower Administration and the considerable experience of Mr. Cournoyer in particular, it is my opinion that no useful purpose will be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH R. DUGGAN,
Manpower Administrator.

REPLICAS OF FIGURES

DEAR SIR:

I respectfully request your Honor to approve my selection of Arcangelo Cascieri and Adio DiBiccari, 27 Tavern Road, Boston, Mass., sculptors, to make replicas of two bronze figures which are to be reinstalled in the fountains of the Public Garden. The cost of reproducing the figures in plaster will be $3,000, which includes the cost of transporting the bronze figures from Providence to Boston and provides the necessary insurance coverage to protect the city's interest.

In the past, similar bronze figures in the Public Garden have been stolen or damaged by vandals and I feel that it should be prudent to have plaster replicas of the bronze statues made at this time so that in the future we will have the reproductions permitting us to carefully repair damage to these figures or replace them in their entirety.

As Cascieri and DiBiccari are recognized experts in their field and as the proposed contract is one for the performance of professional and artistic services, a public solicitation of bids would serve no useful purpose. The contract will be charged to 3-31-13.

Very truly yours,

PETER G. MEADE,
Commissioner.

HEATING, VENTILATING SYSTEMS REPAIR

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As a result of failure to the heating and ventilating system on Wednesday, February 2, 1977, at the South Boston Health Unit, 133 Dorchester Street, South Boston, this building is without adequate heat and has caused the discontinuance of medical care. To renew this medical and day care service to persons utilizing this facility, and prevent additional damage to this building, it will be necessary to make repairs under emergency procedure. Because of the exigency of this situation, I requested and received written approval from the Massachusetts Department of Labor and Industries to dispense with the requirements of section 44 chapter 149, G.L., as it pertains to public advertising, providing we obtained prices from at least three contractors.

Accordingly, we have requested and received bids from three plumbing and heating contractors normally engaged in this type of work, with the following results:

P. J. Janis Co., Inc., $4,995; John E. Kelley Plumbing & Heating, $5,564; Ayles Plumbing & Heating, $5,780.

Your Honor's written approval, therefore, is respectfully requested, in recognition that an emergency situation exists, and to authorize the dispensing with public advertising for bids and to award contract, without advertising, to P. J. Janis Company, Inc., 10 Brookley Road, Jamaica Plain, for a total amount not to exceed $4,995.

Sincerely,

VICTOR E. HAGAN,
Acting Director.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD J. WINTER,

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

MAYOR OF BOSTON:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston and upon the recommendation of its Board of Superintendents, I request your authorization for the award of a contract, without public advertising, to Thompson Academy for an environmental studies program, during the period February 1, 1977, through June 30, 1977, at a cost not to exceed $6,381.

The contractor shall provide educational programs for 200 students from fifteen classrooms in the McKay School. Each class will have three days of field expeditions to Thompson's Island and four-hour-length class lessons led by Thompson Academy staff. The contractor will also orient and train McKay teachers in environmental studies and outdoor education techniques, develop curricula, train McKay teachers to develop their own curricula, use parents in learning activities, train staff to use parents to maximum benefit, and work with McKay personnel to purchase library and classroom resource materials.

Thompson Academy was selected by the McKay School and approved by the Community Superintendent's office after the qualifications were reviewed by the District Review Panel, in accordance with regulations established by the Boston School Committee and the Massachusetts Department of Education. For two years Thompson Academy has provided students in the city with programs similar to the one approved for the McKay School. The McKay School has participated in Thompson programs since last spring.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be provided under this contract and the expertise of Thompson Academy, the contractor, in providing such services, it is the determination of the School Committee that the public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

This agreement is to be executed, without appropriation, under the provisions of G.L. c. 44, s. 53A, and is to be made subject to the receipt of funds under grant from chapter 636, approved Project No. 77-9C-1135.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD J. WINTER,
Secretary.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On behalf of the School Committee of the City of Boston and upon the recommendation of its Board of Superintendents, I request your authorization for the award of a contract, without public advertising, to the Massachusetts State College system, during the period from January 4, 1977, to June 30, 1977, at a cost not to exceed $28,018.

The contractor shall provide training and supportive services to teachers, administrators, paraprofessionals, and parents in District IV, to include a series of workshops which will be offered at sites within the community. These workshops were developed in close cooperation with the district schools to assist them in carrying out their desegregation plans. All of the workshops will emphasize the development of an individualized approach to the education of children in the district.

The state colleges are uniquely qualified to provide the services specified in this contract. Among them, the state colleges possess programmatic strength and faculty expertise in each of the major areas proposed in the contract: special education, career education, and mathematics-metrics. In addition, the state colleges enjoy a credibility among school personnel in the city, born of long and successful experience in the field of teacher education. The contract will be under the direction of Mr. Roy S. Milbury of the Massachusetts State College System, Central Office.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be provided under this contract and the expertise of the contractor in providing such services, it is the determination of the School Committee that the public interest would not be served by public advertisement for bids.

WATERFRONT PARK SET FOR NAVY YARD

The City of Boston has received a $1.7 million grant from the Economic Development Administration towards construction of a major waterfront park at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

The park, to be seven acres in size, is a focal point of the redevelopment program proposed for the Charlestown Navy Yard by the Boston Redevelopment Authority.

The EDA grant supplements a $900,000 grant previously approved by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation for the new park.

BRA Director Robert F. Walsh said. "With these grants we can begin to spring to prepare the site for construction of the new park. These grants along with earlier funding approved by EDA, means we have almost $1 million towards the start of the Navy Yard Project."

Mr. Walsh cited the efforts of House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill in helping to obtain the federal funds for the Navy Yard project. He said, "Redevelopment of the Navy Yard requires funding from a number of sources. Speaker O'Neill has worked closely with city and state officials to ensure that the applications for funds are coordinated in such a way that we could begin work at the yard as soon as weather conditions permit."

Construction of the park at the Navy Yard will provide access to the waterfront for residents of Charlestown and will also help transform the environment of the yard in such a way as to encourage other redevelopment efforts.

The park will be similar in concept to the five-acre waterfront park BRA built on Atlantic Avenue as part of the Downtown Waterfront renewal project.

Earlier this year EDA awarded the BRA $3.7 million to help with construction of new streets and utilities at the Navy Yard. The City Council also authorized $2.2 million in City of Boston bond money to be used as matching funds for the EDA grant.

The BRA's proposal for reuse of the Navy Yard calls for construction of 1100 units of new housing, half of which will be produced by recycling warehouse buildings for residential use.

The BRA plan also entails restoration on more than 30 historic structures, many of which are at least 100 years old. Once restored, the buildings will house a wide variety of new uses, including commercial space, educational and institutional facilities, apartments and possibly light industry. The buildings will be recycled by individuals and/or firms under long-term lease arrangements with the BRA.

It is in the so-called new development area, which consists of approximately one half of the Yard's 103 acres, that the 1100 units of new housing would be developed.

Immobiare Canada Limited, Montreal, Canada, has been granted tentative designation to develop the housing.

Immobiare Canada is a subsidiary of Society Generale Immobiliare, Rome, Italy, one of the largest and oldest real estate organizations in the world.

The Charlestown Navy Yard was decommissioned as an active military installation on July 1, 1974, after 174 years of service as a naval base involved in the building, repair and conversion of ships. Since that time the BRA has been studying various reuse alternatives and formulating a plan that will return the Yard to active economic use and generate investment to augment the city's tax base.

The Navy Yard has been owned by the General Services Administration since the U.S. Navy left the base in 1974. The GSA will convey the facility to the BRA in the near future.

THE IRISH IN BOSTON

On March 24th, at 8 p.m., at the Charlestown Branch of the Boston Public Library (Thompson Square), Professor Thomas N. Brown of the Department of History, University of Massachusetts, Boston, and the author of Irish-American Nationalism, 1870-1890, will tell the story of the Irish immigration to Boston as part of his talk, "The Irish in Boston." Professor Brown is a student of Irish history and the author of several books. He has spent considerable time in Ireland and last year delivered a Bicentennial Lecture at a Summer Festival given in Ireland. Currently, he is working on a new book dealing with the first two decades of Boston history. The March 24th program will be presented during the meeting of Friends of the Charlestown Branch Library to which the public is cordially invited.

Admission to all programs is free of charge. For further information, telephone 242-1248.

INTERESTED IN REAL ESTATE ACTIVITY?

The February real estate sales and mortgage statistics released during the week of March 7 by the Real Estate Transfer Directory (RETD), in association with the Banker and Tradesman, indicate that the month's activity was considerably improved over January.

The monthly report, which includes all transactions of over $1,000 in valuation, lists a total of 8,231 transactions during the month as opposed to 7,192 in January. Total sales volume was correspondingly up at $286,863,667, showing an increase of $40,690,650. The value of mortgages placed during February was $186,470,910 as opposed to $163,066,632 the previous month.

"The February statistics on real estate activity in the state correspond to improving conditions nationally," said William A. Mallard, Editor of the Banker and Tradesman. And he expects that the trend will continue as weather conditions improve and builders are able to resume outside construction activity. According to Mr. Mallard, the improved volume of real estate activity also reflects consumer buying attitude toward housing which has improved after several months of decline.

HEALTH CARE SYSTEM THREATENED

Health and Hospitals Commissioner Rosenbloom Testifies Real Problem with Medicaid/Medicare Is Inflationary Fee for Service System.

Department of Health and Hospitals Commissioner David Rosenbloom on March 3 told a congressional health subcommittee that the built-in inflation of medicare and medicaid programs is threatening Boston's health care system.

Commissioner Rosenbloom delivered his statements in Washington before a hearing by the House Ways and Means Health Subcommittee and the House Commerce Committee's Subcommittee on Health on a bill designed to increase fines and penalties against fraud and abuse in medicaid and medicare programs.

In the twelve-page testimony, Commissioner Rosenbloom argued that increasing regulation against fraud and abuse in these programs will not "overcome the incentives built into the medicaid and medicare systems that more work on a patient means more money for health care providers.

"The real abuse in the medicaid and medicare systems are no criminal activities, but are the inflationary fee-for-service payments," Commissioner Rosenbloom said. "As long as the basic structure is to pay individual doctors or health care institutions for whatever they do to individual patients, we will have a system that is prone to abuse and too expensive.

"Efforts in the name of cost containment so far have merely shifted medical costs for the poor and elderly back to the cities or eliminated entirely health services people need."

Commissioner Rosenbloom explained that more than 30 per cent of the patients served at Boston City Hospital no longer have an state or federal medical assistance and that this year Boston will pay $10-$12 million in services provided by state and federal programs two years ago.

"And, despite this the state's total expenditure for medical care for the poor will be $100 million larger than it was when these programs ended," he said.

SCIENCE MUSEUM SEEKS DONATIONS FOR GARAGE SALE

If a slim pocketbook keeps you from donating to Boston's Museum of Science, you can still support a good cause by donating instead used household objects to its Giant Garage Sale.

The suggestion comes from the Museum's volunteer Service League, which has scheduled the fourth annual sale for Saturday, April 30 and Sunday, May 1.

Two downtown locations in Boston are available this year as drop-off depots. They are offices of the Harbor National Bank of Boston at 57 Franklin Street and One Court Street. During working hours goods may also be brought to the Museum. In both the city and the suburbs a pick-up service for large items may be arranged.

The League, which raised $15,000 last year to benefit the Museum, accepts everything except used clothing. As garage sale addicts know the League points out, articles not wanted by one householder gain luster—and value—as soon as they are put up for recycling.

Donations already received include such exotica as tool boxes from Vappi & Company, metal racks for innumerable uses from Deran Coffinery, a Stuart crystal bowl from Shreve, Crump & Low Company, and a year's supply of ice cream from Hendrie's.

The League's goal this spring, $20,000. The funds raised will be used toward free admission for inner-city school groups, support of special programs and courses, and installation of new exhibits.

When love will have more attention than hate, then peace will prevail over war; justice over injustice; sanity over insanity.

MOTORISTS. BE ALERT!

Massachusetts Law mandates that drivers must stop when a blind person is crossing or attempting to cross the street. A blind person is easily identified because he/she will be led by a guide dog or will be carrying a cane which is white or white with a red tip. A motor vehicle must not proceed until he has taken every precaution to avoid injuring the blind pedestrian.

The driver is solely responsible for compliance with the law, not the blind person, and the penalty can be severe on the operator who fails to obey.

COUNCIL ADVOCATES "EARLIER LIGHTING" DATE

The Boston City Council has voted for lighting of parks for night tennis and other activities to start in May rather than the July 1 date set this year by the park commissioner.

In a resolution sponsored by Ways and Means Committee Chairman John J. Kerrigan, the Council has given notice that the traditional mid-spring opening for nighttime Park League sports scheduling should not be abandoned this year.

Councillor Kerrigan said the park department's contention that it could save on the budget was shortsighted economy, and that savings in other areas should be found.

"Lighting of parks for baseball, tennis, basketball and other activities will help keep youngsters off street corners," Councillor Kerrigan pointed out.

"The Boston Park League schedules always attract thousands of citizens, making it one of the best values today for the taxpayer's dollar," he said.

The Ways and Means Chairman said Park Commissioner Peter G. Meade has been requested in the resolution to review with fiscal analysts the budget allotments for the current fiscal year ending June 30 in order to seek other savings that would permit May and June lighting of parks.

"I'd suggest that one saving in a tight budget might be disposing of the dredge they purchased a few years ago under another park commissioner," Councillor Kerrigan said.

"This specialized piece of equipment was to clean Muddy Brook. But it has proven to be unsatisfactory for the job. Besides, it can only be used during a limited period of the year, and right now is in winter storage at Franklin Park performing no service for taxpayers."

The Council resolution noted that this year, especially, with forecasts of high unemployment among youths, parks should be open night hours early in the season, providing youngsters and young adults more opportunity to participate in wholesome recreational outlets.

CITY OF BOSTON IN CITY COUNCIL

WHEREAS, This charity presentation was a promise on behalf of The Globe that when one purchased a subscription The Boston Globe would make a donation to the St. Jude Hospital which cares for leukemia stricken children; and

WHEREAS, The Boston Globe collected $26.00 for said subscription and made the magnificent donation of 25 cents out of every $26.00 to the said St. Jude Hospital which cares for leukemia stricken children; and

WHEREAS, This matter was investigated by the Federal Trade Commission; and

WHEREAS, The Federal Trade Commission claimed the solicitation of The Globe was misleading; and

WHEREAS, The Globe agreed in a consent judgment not to undertake solicitations in this form again and also make an additional contribution to the charity; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the Boston City Council congratulate The Boston Globe for ceasing to use little children with leukemia as pawns in gaining subscriptions.

Assistant City Clerk.

NEW REGISTRANTS: ONE LICENSE PLATE

As of March 1, 1977, a new series of single passenger plates has been issued by the Registry of Motor Vehicles for new registrants only.

The new plate has green letters on a silver background and contains three numbers followed by three letters. (Example: 100.ABC to 999.ABC) The last arabic numeral shall continue to determine the month of expiration.

Passenger vehicles which have been assigned the green and silver plate may operate with one plate and that shall be attached to the rear of the vehicle.

The issuance of one plate only on new registrations comes about because of the state's austerity program since it will result in a substantial savings in manufacture, handling and mailing.

Passengers desiring same may make their request for service at each of the several airline terminals. Within fifteen minutes a cab shall be dispatched from the new Share-a-Cab pool to pick up that passenger and any other passengers who desire shared transportation to the same town or nearby towns. During initial implementation of this type of service, a cab shall be dispatched after fifteen minutes only if at least two people have requested service. When only one customer has requested service, such patron will have the option of either waiting an additional amount of time to be served, or of utilizing standard cab service. Sixty days after ultimate corridor development and implementation, service will be guaranteed within fifteen minutes, even if only one passenger has requested service.

In order to implement the establishment of this additional dispatching system to form groups and dispatch cabs, a fifty-cent surcharge is hereby authorized to be imposed upon patrons requesting taxicab service from Logan International Airport.

The driver of every licensed Boston taxicab entering the airport for the purpose of picking up passengers shall have the option of entering either the existing standard cab pool to provide regular taxicab service, or of entering the Share-a-Cab pool to provide shared ride service.

In each terminal, a distinctive, well-marked booth will be installed and staffed by personnel to provide information to potential customers and to take requests for service.

Drivers using the standard cab pool shall charge metered rates and flat rates as currently prescribed in existing Hackney Carriage Rules and Regulations.

Drivers using the Share-a-Cab pool shall charge the rates as indicated in the service corridor rate schedule hereinbefore described.

Each taxicab driver will be required to pay a fifty-cent pool fee for either pool. Customers utilizing standard cab service will be required to pay a fifty-cent surcharge to reimburse the driver and the operator of every licensed hackney carriage shall display on the inside of each vehicle, in clear view of the passengers, a card as approved by the Police Commissioner indicating same. Customers using the Share-a-Cab service will not be required to pay an additional fifty cents, as this amount has already been incorporated in the service corridor rate schedule.

Share-a-Cab service will be provided seven days a week, 7:30 A.M. to 11:30 P.M. During such time periods when Share-a-Cab service is not in operation, only standard fares shall be charged.

Taxi patrons desiring service either to some destination within the City of Boston or to some destination not included in the seven major service corridors shall accept standard cab service and pay the standard fare, either as indicated on the taximeter or agreed upon in advance as a regular flat rate.

Upon determination by the airport manager, or his designee, that a shortage of cabs exists due to unusual conditions, multiple loadings of cabs will be permitted. In such cases, the taximeter will be placed in operation and the first party will pay the metered fare. The driver shall then shut the meter off, replace the flag in a recording position, and the next passenger shall pay the metered fare plus one dollar. This procedure will be repeated until all additional passengers have been discharged.

The Share-a-Cab Service shall apply only at Logan International Airport and under no conditions can this plan be applied to passengers being picked up at any hotel, bus terminal, railroad station, or any other location within the City of Boston.

The Police Commissioner will regard as unsuitable to be licensed as a hackney carriage driver any person who willfully violates any of the conditions under which this Share-a-Cab service is established.

A working committee consisting of city, state, Massport and cab industry representatives is hereby authorized to meet from time to time and to make such recommendations as may be required to adequately protect the interests of the cab-riding public and to insure equitable treatment for all concerned. The working committee shall also review the program periodically to insure that all facets of the operation are properly updated.

To determine the feasibility of this Share-a-Cab service at Logan International Airport, the plan is established on a trial basis only for a period of one year."

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE. MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE. MAYOR OF BOSTON

JOSEPH M. TIERNEY
PRESIDENT. CITY COUNCIL

OL. 69

MONDAY, MARCH 28, 1977

NO. 13

SERVICE PROGRAMS FOR OLDER BOSTONIANS

Commission on Affairs of the Elderly

Maureen Schaffner, Commissioner

Kevin H. White, Mayor

The City Record will publish a series of articles in ensuing issues relative to present day service programs for Boston's elderly.

Fact Sheet on the Commission on Affairs of the Elderly

What is the Commission on Affairs of the Elderly?

In 1968, Mayor Kevin H. White established a Council on Aging within city government to address the needs of Boston's older residents and to serve as an advocate on their behalf. The Council status was raised to that of the Commission on Affairs of the Elderly in 1970, with an official mandate to "be cognizant of federal and state legislation concerning financial assistance, information exchange, and planning for better community programming for the elderly" and "to coordinate or carry out programs designed to meet the needs of the elderly in coordination with the (State's) Commission on Aging. . . ." The present Commissioner, Taylor B. Wagenseil, was appointed in September, 1973.

Who does the Commission serve?

According to the 1970 U.S. Census, the City of Boston has more than 81,000 residents who are 65 or older, representing almost 13 percent of the city's total population. If all residents 60 or older are included, the figure rises to 112,508, or almost 18 percent of the total city population. One-fifth of these elderly citizens fall below the census-determined poverty level for income.

How is the Commission organized?

Within City Hall, the Commission works at maximizing the City's total resources for the elderly by cutting across departmental lines in expanding and coordinating essential services in such areas as health, housing, employment, recreation, cultural affairs, social services and transportation. At the state and federal levels of government, the Commission monitors proposed legislation for its potential impact on Boston's elderly citizens and works with appropriate state and federal officials to ensure that they recognize and address the needs of the elderly in Boston. The Commission's status as an Area Agency on Aging (AAA) enables it to perform a unique planning and coordinating role in regard to federally funded programs for the aged, particularly those that are supported by the Older Americans Act.

The Commission on Affairs of the Elderly is headed by a Commissioner appointed by the Mayor who in turn supervises a line professional staff of fifteen employees paid by the City of Boston, as well as approximately twenty federally funded staff members concerned with the administration of the RSVP, Senior Aides, PLS (Visiting Aides), Hotline, and other AAA Programs.

The Commission on Affairs of the Elderly assesses the needs of the city's older population and develops and coordinates governmental, public and private resources to address these needs. In doing so the Commission is in a unique position: not only is it mandated to address the needs of the total elderly population of the City of Boston, it also has the authority and the access to the resources necessary to pursue this mandate.

What is the Commission's relationship to the Massachusetts Department of Elder Affairs?

An important accomplishment of the Commission has been the signing of an agreement with the State's Department of Elder Affairs, acknowledging that the Commission on Affairs of the Elderly has the principal responsibility for the planning, coordination, and development of programs affecting the City of Boston. Thus, the Commission has played a key role in such programs as Home Care, the Title VII hot meals program, and other programs in the city which have required a joint planning effort by the Commission and the Department of Elder Affairs.

Fact Sheet on the Boston Area Agency on Aging

What is an Area Agency on Aging (AAA)?

An Area Agency on Aging is the chief administrative structure in a given region for pursuing the goals of the Older Americans Act, passed by the Congress in 1965 "to provide assistance in the development of new or improved programs to help older persons through . . . grants for community planning and services." In 1973 the Act was amended to include expansion of Title III to "strengthen or to develop at the substate or area level a system of coordinated and comprehensive services which will enable older persons to live in their own homes or other places of residence as long as possible." In Boston, the AAA for the City (Region VI of Massachusetts) is the Commission on Affairs of the Elderly, so designated by the Massachusetts Department of Elder Affairs in August of 1974.

Service Programs . . .

How does an AAA function?

AAA's work in cooperation with the State Agency on Aging (the Department of Elder Affairs in Massachusetts) and the federal Administration on Aging in carrying out the range of responsibilities which have been mandated by Title III. Commission-AAA staff, in cooperation with the Mayor's Elderly Advisory Committee, are responsible for the implementation of the Title III program, and for the coordination of other federally funded programs for the elderly.

There are six AAA regions in the State of Massachusetts. The Commission on Affairs of the Elderly is the only municipal government agency that has been designated as an AAA by the State, primarily because the City of Boston is the only single jurisdiction region in the state. All other regions encompass multiple units of local and county government.

What is the AAA relationship to Home Care?

An important aspect of the Title III program in Boston is the Home Care Corporation. The three Boston Home Care Corporations are the most suitable means of addressing the problems of inappropriate institutionalization and related problems of the elderly on an individual, case-management basis. Approximately $175,000 of Title III funds went for administrative support of the three Boston Home Care Corporation staffs in Fiscal Year 1975; the balance of the total of $235,000 in Title III funds went for support of Commission AAA staff, including support of the Elderly Hotline.

How is an AAA funded?

AAA staff personnel are funded through Title III of the Older Americans Act.

For further information on the Boston AAA, contact Commission on Affairs of the Elderly, Room 271, City Hall, Boston, Mass. 02201. Tel. 725-4366.

REGISTER YOUR DOG!

A drive to register and license Boston's 60,000 dogs was announced today by Office of Public Service Director Claudia Delmonaco.

The drive, designed to eliminate the spiraling population of stray dogs in the City, requires licensing for all dogs old enough to be vaccinated against rabies.

"Licensing is required by law, not just for the protection of the public but for the animal as well," Ms. Delmonaco said. "We want to ensure that Boston's streets are safe to walk and that dogs in the City are well cared for," she said.

Registration fees, payable at any neighborhood Little City Hall, are $4 for male dogs and spayed females, and $15 for unsprayed female dogs. Licenses are no longer available at local police stations.

Proof of rabies vaccination and spaying is also required when applying for a license.

WARNING TO ASSAULTERS!

Postmaster Philip L. Sullivan, Boston, has voiced his concern over the growing number of carrier assaults in the greater Boston area.

He points out that individuals perpetrating unarmed or armed assaults on carriers face a severe Federal penalty. The United States Code provides a prison sentence not more than 10 years, on a first offense, for anyone who assaults a carrier with intent to rob or steal. In addition, such offenders face up to 25 years imprisonment for a subsequent offense or for armed assault.

The Postmaster cited a recent case, tried by the United States Attorney, where a local youth was sentenced to 4 years for assault and robbing two carriers in the Roxbury area.

"All cases of carrier assault and robbery are handled by the Postal Inspection Service, which currently has a conviction ratio of 98.8%," the Federal Courts," Mr. Sullivan added. "Also, rewards of up to $3,000 are paid by the Postal Service to anyone who comes forward with information leading to arrest and conviction of postal offenders."

ADDED FUNDS FOR BOSTON

Statement of Collector-Treasurer James V. Young

The State has announced the amounts of State aid to be received by, and State assessments to be made on, each city and town. This announcement pointed out that the City of Boston will be receiving $19 million more in fiscal year 1978 than it received in 1977. The additional aid will obviously be helpful and begins to adequately compensate for Boston's large special education expenditures required by the State-mandated special education law. The large increase primarily results because Boston will receive more special education aid in 1978 than it would have received in 1977. Boston will receive $136,958,544.

CHINESE PEOPLE: AN IMPORTANT BOOKLET

The Chinatown Little City Hall is pleased to announce that it has embarked on another service for the Chinese Community in Boston and the Commonwealth. Chinese residents can pick up at no charge a bilingual booklet on "Questions and Answers in Preparation for Naturalization Examination."

"We are very happy to offer this 17-page booklet to our people so that more of them can become citizens and eligible to vote," said Peter Kin-lap Chan, Manager of Chinatown Little City Hall. Mr. Chan also said: "Since the change and relaxation of the U.S. Immigration laws in the sixties many more Chinese have come to live and settle in these United States. They are important members of our community and should be exercising their rights to vote and to influence the various levels of government. It is only when they become citizens they can vote."

Earlier in the year, the Chinatown Little City Hall translated the driver's license manual into Chinese. The 18-page brochure is again offered free to the Chinese Community. More than 700 copies have been given out in the past three months. The Registry of Motor Vehicles, after three years of community pressure and cooperation began to offer the written portion of the permit examination in the Chinese language effective December 16 last year.

For more information contact Peter Chan at the Little City Hall, 542-5931 or 542-6125.

"AMATEUR RADIO EXPOSITION"

Amateur radio will be demonstrated, with visitor participation, at Boston's Museum of Science on the weekend of April 2 and 3.

Conducted by several local associations of radio amateurs, the demonstrations bring together for the first time in the area the variety of techniques practiced by hobbyists in this increasingly popular field.

In addition to the message center that visitors are invited to use, the 11 A.M. to 4 P.M. exposition includes a moon bounce display, FM station with a working model of a repeater, a short-wave transmitting and receiving station, a display of antique radio pieces, and an information booth where visitors may learn how to get started in amateur radio.

Situated in the Museum's Skyline Room on the sixth floor, the demonstrations are being coordinated by Robert Novack, Brookline, WA1LJB, and Gordon Bello, Lowell, WA1JWQ. Among the demonstrators and exhibitors are: the Wellesley Amateur Radio Society; the American Radio Relay League, Newington, Conn.; the 19-79 Repeater Association, Malden; the Middlesex Amateur Radio Club, Newton; Brooks Kendall, Saugus, W1JKF; David Aronovitz, Cambridge, K1LPI; and Eric Falkof, Waltham, K1NUN.

There is no extra charge above Museum admission of $3 adults and $1.50, ages five to sixteen, students, senior citizens, and active-duty military.

"T" SEEKS TO UPGRADE POWER PLANT

In order to meet federal and state air and water pollution control requirements as well as increased costs of refurbishing the South Boston Power Generating Plant, the Board of Directors of the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority (MBTA) has authorized the filing of a supplemental federal aid application for an additional $2,916,000 towards the Immediate Needs-Power Generation Program.

In this application to the Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA), Department of Transportation, the Authority is proposing to concentrate all of its efforts on refurbishing the South Boston plant to make it a three-shift, seven day a week power generating station and to reduce refurbishment plans for the Lincoln power plant which has deteriorated so badly that repairs have become too costly.

Under the original $13 million Immediate Needs-Power Generation Program for which UMTA approved a $10.4 million capital grant in June 1975, the deteriorated mechanical, electrical and structural systems at both power generating plants were to be refurbished and new boilers installed to keep the plants in operating condition until 1981. At that time, the 19 inner-area substations fed from the power plants will have been converted from obsolete 25 Hz power to conventional 60 Hz power and reconnected to a new switching station. The first phase of the conversion from 25 Hz to 60 Hz is being done under a separate $18.3 million Power Distribution and Transmission Improvements Project, for which UMTA has approved a $14.6 million capital grant.

Since the Immediate Needs Program began, conditions at the Lincoln plant were found to be worse than anticipated. In addition, the federal Environmental Protection Agency and the Massachusetts Division of Water Pollution Control both are requiring installation of more pollution control equipment than originally planned.

Consequently, the Authority shifted emphasis to upgrading the South Boston power plant and is seeking the additional federal funding to meet the increased costs of the water and air pollution control equipment; the increased costs of new boilers and associated equipment; and for the general overall increase in costs due to inflation.

HEALTH PLANNING COUNCIL NAMES NEW OFFICERS

Diana Imbimbo, a consumer advocate from Winchester, has been re-elected president of the Health Planning Council for Greater Boston, a non-profit Health Systems Agency which represents both consumers of health care and health professionals.

Other officers elected at the Council's recent annual meeting are: Rosemary Wahlberg of Quincy, elected Vice-President representing consumers; Stephen J. Lewis of the Harvard Community Health Plan, Vice-President representing providers of health care; Luis-Orlando Isaza of Watertown, Secretary; and Paul Bushnell of Jamaica Plain, Treasurer.

Guest speaker at the annual meeting was Representative Louis P. Bertonazzi, chairman of the Committee on Health Care of the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

Following her election Ms. Imbimbo thanked the hundreds of consumers and health professionals who have worked with the agency in the past year to develop a health planning program for 65 greater Boston communities.

The agency sponsors 5 citizens advisory groups called Metro Health Councils which have a total of 231 elected members, sixty percent of whom represent various consumer interests and forty percent of whom represent different health professions.

Since the Council was designated as one of the first Health Systems Agencies in the nation last spring, it has undertaken a wide variety of responsibilities.

In the last year the Council conducted numerous public education programs, including a 6-part series called "Perspectives on Health Care" which is designed to help consumers gain a better understanding of the present health care system.

In the past year the Council also reviewed nearly $130,000,000 worth of proposals from health facilities which sought to establish new health services, change services, purchase major equipment, or undertake major construction or renovation projects.

Ms. Imbimbo said the agency's foremost goal for the coming year is to develop a regional Health Systems Plan for the greater Boston area.

The Plan will describe overall health needs and problems in the area and will identify specific long-range goals, objectives and priorities for meeting health needs.

The Plan will also summarize actions to be undertaken over a 5-year period to attain desired levels of health for the 2.3 million people in greater Boston and desired levels of performance for the health system.

Members of the Health Planning Council are now studying 9 areas of health care and are developing recommendations for the Plan. The nine component areas are: ambulatory/primary/and preventive care; acute inpatient care; post acute care; mental health/mental retardation; health education and school health; occupational and environmental health; health manpower; health care finance; and health care legislation.

All greater Boston residents are encouraged to participate in developing the Health Systems Plan. Membership information is available by phoning the Council's office in Brighton at 787-5800.

V. COMMENDATION

At 0258 hours, January 25, 1977, Box 1885 was struck for a fire at 39 Stanley Street, Dorchester. The temperature at the time was 32 degrees F, and light snow was falling.

Companies upon arrival found the building heavily charged with smoke and fire, and people trapped at the rear on the second and third floors. Fire ground operations were hampered and made especially hazardous by accumulated ice and snow. Ladder 7 raised a 35-foot extension to the third floor. Fire Lieut. William Pero and Fire Fighter George Welch, Ladder Company 7, removed two adults through a small window, where they were assisted to the ground by Fire Fighter John McKay of Ladder Company 7.

Fire Fighter William Nelson, Engine Company 21, assisted Fire Lieut. Pero and Fire Fighter Welch in the removal of the two adults by going in on the floor to help them on to the ladder.

Fire Lieut. Anthony Orlando, Engine Company 21, reached three young children on a small second-floor roof, calmed them, and secured their position until a ladder could be put in place for their removal.

All the foregoing rescues were performed under severe, intense fire and smoke conditions, before lines were in operation, and venting procedures commenced. The swift and efficient performance of the aforementioned personnel undoubtedly saved those endangered from the immediate hazards of their situation.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend the members of Engine 21 and Ladder 7 for their coordinated fire rescue and fire extinguishing operation that resulted in saving the lives of five persons from the second and third floors of this three-story frame structure.

VI. LETTER OF THANKS

"DEAR COMMISSIONER PAUL:

My thanks to the Boston Fire Department for their rescue of my son William, during the morning of February 14, at 14 Portsmouth Street, Brighton. From what the doctors at St. Elizabeth's Hospital have said, my son would not be alive except for the efforts of Fireman James Ranahan of Ladder 14, District 11. Would you please express my family's gratitude to him and have an appropriate entry made in his department record.

I am enclosing a contribution to the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund which I am sure will be put to good use.

JOHN B. HARPER,
Penzance Road, Rockport, Mass."

DL. 69

MONDAY, APRIL 4, 1977

NO. 14

Alternatives to Overburdened, Unfair Property Tax

In a recent appearance before the Joint Legislative Committee on Taxation in Gardiner Auditorium, Mayor Kevin H. White urged the Legislature to grant property tax relief to overburdened homeowners and businesses in Boston and other cities in the Commonwealth.

The Mayor specifically supported bills for:

1. — taxation of commercial properties at Massport;
2. — state reimbursement for Boston's share of tax-exempt property;
3. — an excise tax on non-residential, downtown, parking spaces; and
4. — one percent excise on employers' payrolls.

The Mayor stated that the intent of these and other bills in his tax package is to end "our obsessive and exclusive reliance on the property tax" by supplementing it with "equitable and modern methods of raising revenue.

"The property tax is grossly overburdened — burdened beyond endurance — unequal to the task of sustaining the city alone," Mayor White charged.

"The basic facts of Boston's fiscal situation make this abundantly clear: 70 percent of our revenue is from the property tax; 58 percent of our property is tax-exempt; one out of five Bostonians is on some form of welfare; and over 300,000 commuters use our services, without paying for them, every day," he added.

"It is almost as if the tax system was designed to punish Boston. It turns us to a form of revenue that will not grow in proportion to our needs. It provides a disincentive to invest in the city. By depressing property values, it ultimately destroys the source of its own existence. Finally, it is a form of taxation that utterly ignores Boston's role as a regional, commercial, and cultural center," Mayor White continued.

"Let the localities of this Commonwealth solve our own problems — let us put our houses in order. Let give us the tools to do the job." City of Boston Collector-Treasurer James V. Young and Deputy Mayor Katharine D. Kane also joined Mayor White in testimony before the Joint Committee on Taxation.

Mr. Young stated that while Boston contains "11 percent of the state's population, 20 percent of its poor, it has only 6 percent of the state's real estate base. That alone explains why Boston's taxpayers are so tremendously overburdened.

"It is obviously the responsibility of the leadership in state government to modify our existing tax structure to deal with the inequities it imposes on Boston and other cities."

Deputy Mayor Kane emphasized the actions Boston has already taken to "put its house in order."

"We have already made severe spending cuts within this fiscal year and substantially reduced numbers of city personnel," Mrs. Kane said.

"I speak with particular passion about the additional cuts that we are reluctant to make in human service agencies — like the Drug Abuse Program, the Consumers' Council, Youth Programs, Community Schools, Summerthing, Parks and Recreation and the Library. Such cuts would be extremely painful, so we desperately need help from the Legislature. Boston must have relief from the crushing real estate tax to prevent further layoffs and termination of badly needed programs."

COMMUNITY REVITALIZATION CONFERENCE: MEET THE EXPERTS

What techniques have succeeded in the past in rebuilding older urban neighborhoods and communities? How would you go about spurring the economic revival of your own area? What resources are available to help get the job done?

These are some of the questions that will be answered in Boston on April 11 when federal, state, and local officials gather with a diverse group of private citizens for the Governor's Conference on Community Revitalization at the Sheraton-Boston Hotel.

"Anyone with an interest in community revitalization and economic development is cordially invited to attend," said Governor Michael S. Dukakis. "The conference should be an important and exciting tool for our communities' continued economic growth."

The daylong session of panel discussions and workshops will feature Massachusetts foremost experts on economic and community development. Cosponsoring the conference with Governor Dukakis is the Roxbury Action Program (RAP). Also participating will be Lt. Governor Thomas P. O'Neill III, and several of the Governor's cabinet secretaries.

INTERESTED IN CONDOMINIUMS?

The series on "Real Estate Facts You Should Know" is by D. Frank Zullo, president, Brokers Institute, Greater Boston Real Estate Board.

Housing experts predict that within the next twenty years 50 percent of the United States population will be residing in condominiums. This prediction is made in light of rising costs of land and construction as well as present housing trends.

Already well over one million condominiums have been built. This figure is amazing in view of the fact that the first condominium was not built in this country until 1960. It's even more amazing when you consider that about two-thirds of them were started between 1970 and 1975.

If you find yourself in the market for a condominium, it's wise to take time to become thoroughly familiar with every aspect of the housing transaction you propose to enter.

When shopping — and a realtor can aid you in your search — make a list of checkpoints to enable you to make comparisons later. The list below contains only a few things you should check.

Is it convenient to work, schools, shopping, public transportation, a hospital, and a church? Depending on your particular situation, some of these items will loom more important on your list than others.

Following opening remarks by Lt. Governor O'Neill and RAP Director George Morrison, Governor Dukakis will outline the state's urban strategy for economic development. Director of State Planning Frank Keefe will follow with a report on the state's overall growth policy.

The highlight of the morning will be a panel discussion moderated by Secretary of Economic Affairs Howard N. Smith, centering on the various mechanisms which can be utilized by local governments, businessmen, labor, or citizens' groups seeking to revitalize their community.

Discussions by experts will include Industrial Development Finance Agencies, community development corporations, community action programs, and new state agencies, such as the Community Development Finance Corporation and the Massachusetts Industrial Mortgage Insurance Agency, which are designed to foster economic growth in high unemployment areas.

The luncheon program will feature Jay Janis, newly designated undersecretary of the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, who plans to discuss the Carter administration policies and initiatives regarding urban revitalization.

During the afternoon, conference attendees will participate in two sets of workshops. These will examine a wide range of topics: community revitalization, such as industrial development, neighborhood improvement, downtown revitalization, transportation and development, and the reuse of existing buildings.

The first set of workshops should be developed with an eye on available funding. The second group of workshops are "case studies" exploring successful projects in various cities and towns.

Among workshop panelists are the developers or planners of Boston's Quincy Market, the Prudential Center, Lowell Heritage Park, downtown Springfield, and the Southwest Corridor Project.

MOBILE MARKET SERVICE TO BE SUSPENDED TEMPORARILY

Commissioner Maureen Schaffner of the Commission on Affairs of the Elderly, City Hall, announced the temporary suspension of the Commission's MOBILE Market operation. The market, a "grocery store on wheels" for Boston's elderly, has been beset in recent months with general maintenance problems. The Commissioner made the decision this morning to allow time for full preparation of a new and expanded MOBILE Market operation.

For the past six months the Commission has been negotiating the purchase of a new market. It is expected that one will be on the road and in full operation no later than mid-May. In the meantime, the program will be undergoing a major inventory and reassessment process. The new market's expanded refrigeration capacity will provide the maximum benefit for the city's elderly population utilizing the facility.

Commissioner Schaffner said this morning, "We look forward to establishing a much more efficient system for serving the elderly consumer. We are at present very near that time. Our staff will be working for the next several weeks on streamlining the operation to provide maximum efficiency."

The Commissioner added that she hopes this decision does not exert an undue hardship on those elderly who depend on the weekly visits of the market. "We have the elderly consumer in mind. In just a few short weeks, these people can expect a well-stocked market that no other city in the United States provides. This brief suspension of services will be well worth it."

The MOBILE Market was initiated in late summer of 1975 by Mayor Kevin H. White. The large green former Bookmobile visits congregate living sites of Boston's elderly on a weekly basis. Since its inception, demand for the market has inflated to such a point that the present facility cannot accommodate the need.

HELPING SICK CHILDREN

Being sick isn't part of the fun of childhood. But more than 12 million children suffer from long-term respiratory disease — especially asthma and bronchitis.

Constant coughing can mean bronchial trouble. It's the chief symptom of bronchitis, an inflammation of the lining of the tubes that connect the windpipe with the lungs. Asthma, on the other hand, is an abnormal response of the air passages of the lungs to specific substances. The passages constrict suddenly, triggering attacks of shortness of breath and wheezing. Both bronchitis and asthma can be treated successfully.

Little lungs are vulnerable to assault, and developing breathing systems are delicate. Almost half the deaths among infants in the first year of life are due to respiratory disease. Half of all acute or short-term illnesses in children are respiratory conditions.

Sick kids suffer physically and miss a lot — a lot of school, of play, of friends, of fun.

Reducing death and illness from lung disease in childhood is a concern of the American Lung Association. One of the programs it supports is a consultation service to hospitals interested in improving respiratory care of pediatric patients. The association also supports research into the causes and treatment of lung disease in youngsters. Educating parents — and kids themselves — about the ways to protect their lungs is a major goal.

To find out more about lung disease in children and how to prevent and treat it, contact the American Lung Association of Boston, the "Christmas Seal" people. They care about every breath you take.

"WORLD FAIRS" EXHIBIT AT BPL

A representative selection of printed works and memorabilia from the Robert A. Feer Collection of World Fairs of North America will be on display on all three floors of the Research Library building of the Boston Public Library through April 15. The collection was a gift to the Library from the late Mr. Feer, professor of history at Northeastern University. The history of the gaudy event known as a World Fair inspired in him an interest in its cultural impact. Study gave way to collecting which soon grew to an all-encompassing avocation. No item was too small to escape his notice: banners and coins, photographs and books are all included in his collection.

The present exhibit of his material demonstrates the themes of World Fairs held in North America from the Philadelphia Centennial Exhibition of 1876 to the Montreal Expo of 1967. Each fair has fostered the growth of cooperation among nations and the celebration of human achievement. Arts and industries, masterpieces, and manufactures have been represented the spirit of education throughout the course of a century. Yet each fair also has been, in its unique way, magical for its visitors. Wide-eyed and ready to be amazed, citizens of this continent have flocked to each event without appointment. From the streets of Cairo to the Black Forest every corner of the world has sent a contribution to an American fair.

The collection reveals the closely related aspects of commerce and entertainment interests. The cause these are as much a part of any fair as its more serious exhibitors and individuals have often earned great sums of money operating concessions at the fairgrounds. Entertainment is inevitably a part of the money-making scheme, but without it a fair could never be successful. The visitor to a fair expects a wonderland of amusing, educational, and fun.

The World Fair is a cultural phenomenon whose history and impact can be glimpsed through this exhibition from the Feer collection.

A Checklist of the Robert A. Feer Collection of World Fairs of North America — compiled by Earl Taylor of the Library's Rare Book Department — was published by the Boston Public Library in 1967 with the generous support of Professor Feer's mother, Mrs. Henry L. Feer of Brookline. The checklist may be purchased at the Library Sales Desk.

The public is invited to view the exhibit free of charge.

SPRING CLEANING CAMPAIGN SET FOR BOSTON

Boston's massive seven-week spring clean-up campaign, announced last week by Mayor Kevin White, gets under way Monday, April fourth, with comprehensive cleaning and maintenance operations slated for every neighborhood in the city. The campaign includes plans to clean alleyways, parks, and vacant lots; repair thousands of potholes; paint highway lines, hydrants, and trash receptacles; reduce traffic and streets signs; and clean over 800 miles of city streets. Supplementing these efforts will be projects sponsored by neighborhood and civic groups across the city to clean up privately owned lots, building exteriors, and adjacent sidewalk areas. In announcing the program Mayor White said, "I urge all neighborhood organizations, residents, and merchants to join with the city departments in transforming the appearance of our city following the ravages of an unusually harsh winter season."

Maintenance crews from four municipal departments — Public Works, Traffic and Parking, Parks and Recreation, and Real Property — will concentrate their work in a different section of the city each week in accordance with the following schedule:

April 4-8 — Charlestown, East Boston, Allston-Brighton.

April 11-15 — South Boston, South Dorchester, Mattapan.

April 18-22 — West Roxbury, Roslindale.

April 25-29 — Jamaica Plain, Hyde Park.

May 2-6 — Roxbury, North Dorchester, Franklin Field.

May 9-13 — Back Bay, Beacon Hill, North End, South End, Fenway, Bay Village, Chinatown.

Local Little City Halls, through the Mayor's Office of Public Service, will coordinate clean-up operations in each community. Citizen groups wishing to sponsor community participation clean-up projects should contact their Little City Halls to arrange for organizational support and the placement of dumpsters.

HAPPY EASTER

He was born in an obscure village the child of a peasant woman.
He grew up in still another village, where he worked in a carpenter shop until he was thirty.
Then for three years —
He was itinerant preacher.
He never wrote a book.
He never held an office.
He never had a family or owned a house.
He didn't go to college.
He never visited a big city.
He never traveled two hundred miles from the place where he was born.
He did none of the things one usually associates with greatness.
He had no credentials but himself.
He was only thirty-three when the tide of public opinion turned against him.
His friends ran away.
He was turned over to his enemies and went through the mockery of a trial.
He was nailed to a cross between two thieves.
While he was dying, his executioners gambled for his clothing, the only property he had on earth.
When he was dead,
He was laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.
Nineteen centuries have come and gone, and today he is the central
leader of mankind's progress.
All the armies that ever marched,
All the navies that ever sailed,
All the parliaments that ever sat,
All the kings that ever reigned,
put together,
Have not affected the life of man on earth as much as that One Solitary Life.
HAPPY EASTER!

VOL. 69

MONDAY, APRIL 11, 1977

NO. 15

MAYOR PLEDGES EFFORT TO HOLD TAX RATE

While Cuts '78 Budget by $18.8 Million Pledges All-Out Effort to Hold Tax Rate

Mayor Kevin White, reaffirming his steadfast opposition to any increase in the Boston property tax rate, today submitted to the City Council a severely trimmed $232.8 million city budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

An additional $21.4 million in federal revenue-sharing funds will be appropriated to certain line departments following a public hearing on April 7, bringing the recommended city budget for fiscal year 1978 to $254.2 million, a cut of $18.8 million or 6.8 percent from last year's appropriations.

The proposed city budget provides for just 12,499 personnel slots and will require the city to reduce employees by an additional 804 before the end of the fiscal year.

"Today's economic realities have decreed hard choices in the preparation of this year's budget," Mayor White said. "We have been forced to act decisively and set stringent guidelines to prevent an increase in the tax rate."

The Mayor said that he will require the School Department to live within and not exceed the $165 million appropriated to them last year. He has ordered an additional review of the Suffolk County budget in an effort to reduce expenditures more than originally proposed.

"I am not satisfied that Suffolk County officials have yet imposed economies anywhere near equal to those being borne by city departments; and I will not submit their budget until every budget-cutting avenue has been fully explored," he said.

"On the city side, severe fiscal constraints, caused by inevitably rising costs have forced a painful realignment of priorities and cuts in all but essential services," Mayor White added.

"Our priorities for the next fiscal year center on elderly services, basic and public safety services, improved management and efficiency, and continued efforts at economic development," the Mayor said. "Budget increases are proposed only for departments and agencies that deliver those services."

Major components of the fiscal 1978 cuts are:

- (1) A reduction of $18,787,629 in the city budget for fiscal '78;
- (2) The elimination of ten of the Mayor's human service agencies at a savings of $5,165,132;
- (3) Budget cuts in Health and Hospitals, Police, and Fire, totaling $12.3 million;
- (4) Cuts ranging from 3.1 to 27 percent in the budgets of fifteen city agencies and departments.

Among the larger department cuts are the following:

Health and Hospitals: $5.2 million, including the layoff of additional personnel. (Federal revenue-sharing allocation included.)

Police: $5 million, no layoffs planned; simply reorganization and better deployment of personnel.

Commissioner has moved 148 uniformed men from desk duty to the street. (Federal revenue-sharing allocation included.)

Fire: $2.1 million, no layoffs; restructuring and better deployment of personnel. (Federal revenue-sharing allocation included.)

Community Schools: $1.6 million. Elimination of program. Layoff of 88.

Office of Public Service: $1.1 million. Elimination. Layoff of 125.

Administrative Services: $1 million. Restructuring.

Youth Activities Commission: $944,000. Elimination. Layoff of 118.

Office of Cultural Affairs: $564,000. Elimination. Layoff of 6.

Office of Human Rights: $246,000. Elimination. Layoff of 21.

Consumers Council: $125,700. Elimination. Layoff of 9.

Veterans' Services: $653,330. Cutback in programs. Layoff of 9.

Elections: $167,667. Less demand this year for election services. Layoff of 6.

Library: $675,203. Closing of Kirstein Branch, Business Library; main branch on Sundays, and consolidation of branch services.

Council on Drug Abuse: $94,000. Elimination. Layoff of 7.

Rent Control Administration: $99,443. Reduction of 8 employees.

Auditorium Commission: $60,960. Funding for Boston Arena cut.

Troubled Employees Program: $67,532. Elimination. Layoff of 5.

MAYOR'S "SCRUB THE HUB" CAMPAIGN

A seven-week spring clean-up campaign to repair thousands of potholes, sweep over 800 miles of city streets and clean alleyways, catch basins, vacant lots, parks and playgrounds across Boston was kicked off by Mayor Kevin White.

Several hundred volunteers joined the Mayor on Boston Common to kick off the citywide clean-up campaign, with the Boston Common area the target of the first day's activities. Plastic bags, brooms, and shovels were distributed to volunteers to help in the cleaning effort.

The "Scrub the Hub" campaign will include a comprehensive cleaning effort focused on seven areas of the city with one week spent in each neighborhood area.

Clean-up activities in the neighborhoods and the downtown area will focus on street cleaning, painting of highway lines, hydrants, and trash receptacles, and replacement of traffic and street signs. In addition, the city will remove abandoned cars from roadways and the city's Building Department will step up boarding and demolition activities where necessary.

Maintenance crews from four municipal departments — Public Works, Traffic and Parking, Parks and Recreation and Real Property — will depart from normal routine by pooling resources for a concentrated and thorough cleanup.

"I hope that all neighborhood organizations, residents, and merchants will join with city departments in helping to transform the appearance of our city after one of the harshest winters in many years," the Mayor said.

"I am grateful to the children, especially the Girl Scouts, the Boy Scouts, and the kids here from East Boston, for donating their time and efforts to help clean the Common," Mayor White said. "They are setting an example we should all follow and I urge all Boston residents to pitch in and help clean-up Boston."

For the neighborhood cleanup, the city will provide dumpster boxes at street locations designated by Little City Hall managers, clean vacant lots and alleys, and remove accumulations of household trash, regardless of the amount or the manner in which it is placed outside buildings.

Residents are asked to cooperate by not putting out excessive amounts of cellar or attic cleanouts on a single collection day. Heavy construction materials should be placed in the dumpsters provided during the weekends before each neighborhood cleanup.

According to posted street cleaning signs, or on the day after rubbish collection, the even-numbered side of the street will be cleaned from 8 A.M. to 12 noon, and the odd-numbered side from noon to 4 P.M.

Areas scheduled for street parking will be posted in advance with "warning" parking tickets urging car owners to move their vehicles. Police will also use a public address system in advance of street cleaning to urge residents to cooperate by removing their cars.

Following is a schedule of neighborhood cleanups:

April 11-15 — South Boston, South Dorchester, Mattapan;

April 18-22 — West Roxbury, Roslindale;

April 25-29 — Jamaica Plain, Hyde Park;

May 2-6 — Roxbury, North Dorchester;

Mayor White thanked WBZ Radio for their assistance in co-sponsoring the "Scrub the Hub" campaign and for their special efforts in promoting a cleaner Boston. He also thanked Donnelly Advertising for the donation of neighborhood billboards and MacDonald's for donating hamburgs and sodas to feed the volunteers during the Boston Common cleanup.

CITY MAILS PROPERTY TAX BILLS

It's that time again. The city has completed the mailing of 110,000 property tax bills seeking payment of the second installment of the Fiscal Year 1977 tax assessment.

Collector-Treasurer James V. Young urged all Boston property owners to make payments before the May 1 deadline to avoid an 8 percent interest charge. Mr. Young explained that any unpaid portion of the first half of the tax bill for Fiscal 77, due on November 1, 1976, will appear on the current bill with interest computed until May 1. Interest on unpaid bills will be re-computed if paid before May 1.

Included with the tax bill is an informational brochure alerting taxpayers to the unfair costs imposed by commuters and tax-exempt institutions, and urging their support of legislation that would distribute those costs more equitably.

In most cases, tax abatements filed by property owners have been deducted and will so appear on the bill. The paper work for some abatements has not yet been completed, and if the property owner has received approval for an abatement from the city's Assessing Department, he may deduct the abatement from his tax bill.

Bills may be paid by mail, or in person at City Hall, or any Little City Hall every working day from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. Bills must be paid by check or money order at the Little City Halls. The Little City Halls cannot accept cash.

Mattapan Square Model for Business Revitalization

Mayor Kevin White today brought the congratulations of the city to merchants and residents of Mattapan on the third anniversary celebration of the revitalization of Mattapan Square.

The Mayor, during a walking tour of the square, told local merchants the city is committed to continue providing support services to maintain the health and vitality of neighborhood commercial centers across Boston.

The Mayor also joined local Mattapan merchants in announcing the kickoff of "Get Our Streets Back," a coordinated crime prevention effort between the Boston Police Department, merchants, and the Mattapan Little City Hall.

"We are all very proud of Mattapan Square," the Mayor said. "New Mattapan Square is an excellent example of what the city and local merchants can do together to restore confidence in our neighborhood commercial centers.

"Local business centers are thought of as a center of the surrounding neighborhood, and their condition reflects on the character, image, and vitality of the entire residential community."

New Mattapan Square represents the culmination of an extensive revitalization program spurred in 1972 by the Mattapan Board of Trade, local merchants, and the city to stem the beginnings of deterioration that had become evident in the fifty-year-old shopping district.

"Mattapan Square now serves as the model for our existing Neighborhood Business District Program," the Mayor said. "Four years ago the merchants of Mattapan asked for help and the city gave it. We committed $250,000 in the square for new street lighting, better off-street parking, and for increased police protection.

"But, the commitment the city made would never have been as successful without the interest and commitment shown by members of the Mattapan Board of Trade and merchants throughout the area — people like Stu Rosenberg, a Mattapan merchant for twenty-five years; Morton Tallon, a Mattapan store owner for forty years; Dick Roberts, a merchant in the square for fifty years. The planning and interest of these merchants, and many like them, have made the difference for the now prospering Mattapan Square.

"To assist neighborhood shopping districts in Boston, the city will spend $1.2 million in CDBG funds next year for physical improvements and incentives to provide investment.

"But, as is clear with the success story of Mattapan Square — strong confidence in the future of the city by merchants, cooperation on the part of the city, and the continued ability of the city to provide adequate financial support, is the key to a strong Boston," the Mayor added.

The Mayor said the city's efforts in Mattapan Square next year will focus on an innovative, crime-prevention effort, called "Get Our Streets Back," designed to enhance storefront security, expand the Ident-a-Guard Program, and introduce a crime-alert, information program to keep businesses aware of crime trends.

In addition, the city will continue the neighborhood Foot Patrol Program and provide funds for new street lighting and road reconstruction in Mattapan Square.

SOLAR HEATING COURSE

For seven days this summer the Harvard Graduate School of Design will offer a course in solar heating for instructors of design at the university level. "Designing for Solar Energy" will present a general overview of solar heating technology and the effects of this technology on the design of buildings.

Among other solar heating topics, participants will examine the basic aspects of the elements of solar heating systems and the distinctions among them, the costs involved, the site demands of solar heating, and the levels of energy consumption.

Instructor Gordon Tully is president of Massdesign, a rapidly growing architectural firm recently awarded the Progressive Architecture Award in Applied Research for its report, "Solar Heated Houses in New England." A practicing architect and visiting critic in architecture at the Harvard Graduate School of Design, Mr. Tully has concentrated his recent professional efforts in the field of solar technology.

The course will run from June 19 through June 25, 1977. As a result of a subsidy from the Energy Research and Development Administration, the total cost of the course, including tuition, materials, and room and board is $210. For further information contact: L. Underkoffler, Continuing Education Program, Harvard Graduate School of Design, Gund Hall, Cambridge, Massachusetts, 02138. (617) 495-2578.

INTERESTED IN CONDOMINIUMS?

The series on "Real Estate Facts You Should Know" is by D. Frank Zullo, president, Brokers Institute, Greater Boston Real Estate Board. This article is Part III, the conclusion of the series.

Each year a growing number of Americans are finding that the condominium is the answer to their housing needs. Condominiums offer the same tax advantages as conventional homes, but without many of the maintenance responsibilities. Many also offer plush recreational facilities the single-family owner could not afford to have.

However, unlike the single-family homeowner who enjoys relatively free use of his property, the owner of a condominium must contend with the dictates of the owners' association. It could involve the developer, who, in some instances, retains an interest in his condominium development long after it is completed and the units are sold.

For these reasons it is imperative that the prospective condominium buyer become thoroughly familiar with legal documents, which to a great extent, will govern his life as a condominium owner. Two basic documents which must be examined carefully are the declaration, or master deed, and the bylaws of the association.

Don't hesitate to engage competent legal counsel to help you interpret the language of the documents.

In legal terms, the declaration describes the scope of the project, dimensions, and equipment located in each unit, common elements, limited common elements, easements by any parties, an explanation of the undivided interests of the unit owners, provisions for assessments, and a management agency agreement.

The bylaws, usually attached to the master deed as an exhibit, contain information about the administration and maintenance of the complex.

Among other things, the bylaws contain detailed information on the owners' association and how it works, further information on assessments, details on use and sale restrictions, and all insurance policies covering common elements.

Why is a complete understanding of these documents necessary? Here are a few reasons:

Without full knowledge of the developer's intentions, you might wake up one morning to discover the beautiful unobstructed view commanded by your front window is disappearing behind a new building going up right next to it.

Some owners retain an interest in their development long after the complexes are completed by means of lease-back arrangements. Frequently, the recreational facilities are retained and leased back to the condominium owners. Sometimes the land under the units is leased back in the same manner. In both cases, leases generally are long-term and the owners pay a rental fee for the use of the properties.

Such lease-back arrangements are not necessarily bad. If developers are assured of rental income, they often are willing to accept a lower profit margin on the units they are selling. However, abuses in the form of excessive rental charges have been reported.

Two other documents should be examined carefully as well. They are the management agreement and the recreational facilities agreement. Make certain that costs assessed against the owners are fair and reasonable.

Once you have had all of your questions answered, the time has come for you to begin signing documents and arranging for a mortgage loan. By taking time to learn everything you can about your condominium in advance, you will be much more likely to avoid unpleasant surprises and assure yourself of happiness later.

PATRIOTS' DAY

Less than a month after Edmund Burke urged Parliament to keep the peace, Great Britain and its American colonists were at war. The first shots of the American Revolution were fired at Lexington, Massachusetts, where British troops marching toward Concord attacked the American minutemen.

Briefly, this is how the fighting started. At Boston, British General Gage secretly ordered soldiers to destroy war materials which the colonists had stored at nearby Concord. He also commanded his men to seize Samuel Adams and John Hancock, two members of the Massachusetts Committee of Correspondence, who were staying in Lexington.

However, when General Gage's secret was discovered on the night of April 18, 1775, three colonists, Paul Revere, William Dawes, and Dr. Samuel Prescott, rode through the towns and villages west of Boston, warning the people that the "British are coming," and called the minutemen to arms.

Paul Revere roused Adams and Hancock at Lexington, and they fled from the town. On the westward road both Revere and Dawes got by the British patrols, but only Prescott got through to warn the Concord residents. At dawn on April 19, 1775, the British troops marched through Lexington toward Concord.

Minutemen faced them on the village green at Lexington, but did not attempt to halt their march. Nevertheless, the British fired at the minutemen, and eight Americans were killed.

At Concord the British soldiers destroyed the colonists' supplies, but now the minutemen were ready. At North Bridge, in Concord, a battle began which will be remembered in our country's history. There approximately 450 minutemen met the British force, and the battle ensued.

Finally the enemy broke ranks and hastily retreated. All the way back to Boston the battle raged. From behind stone walls, fences, and trees colonists from the towns along the way fired at the retreating British soldiers. At sunset the weary British column reached Boston at last. Of the 700 soldiers who set out that morning 273 were killed, wounded, or captured. The war with the British had begun!

MAYOR PLEDGES AID TO SMALL BUSINESS

The following remarks were delivered by Mayor Kevin H. White, at the Business for Boston Conference, at the University of Massachusetts, Boston Campus:

Boston has always been home for small businesses — including my grandfather's business on Washington Street years ago. They provide more than merely an economic boon to this city. These businesses help to define a neighborhood. They are a vibrant part of each locale to which they belong. They represent faith in an area's stability. And their success is a good assurance of a community's vitality.

But it's not only our neighborhoods, it's the whole city's future that is tied to the success of smaller businesses. In fact, there's a very direct connection between Boston's businesses and the solution to our basic economic problems. For every $20,000 in new business captured by Boston firms, a new job is created. The question then is whether that kind of business potential exists in Boston — and the answer is yes — and that's why we're here today.

The private firms and government agencies represented here spend over a billion dollars a year in the process of doing business. I believe they ought to be doing more of that business with Boston suppliers.

If we can capture some of that billion dollar volume — now going mostly to the suburbs and beyond — it will be good for you and good for this city.

That's what this conference is for.

The response of our large enterprises and agencies has been overwhelming. Forty-five of Boston's major business, medical, educational, and governmental institutions are here today. The crowd in this room means that Boston's businessmen are interested in the venture.

When it comes to city spending, my administration is doing what it can to keep business in Boston. We're now drafting legislation that would let us give a 5 percent preference to local firms selling their goods to the city. That means that if a firm from Ohio or New Jersey outbid a local firm by a few percent, we could still grant the contract to a Boston company. We're doing what we can to keep our money close to home.

But, if there's going to be real economic progress in this town — and I believe it's already under way — it will happen because government and business recognize the need to cooperate.

A walk to the waterfront or through the Quincy Market shows the profit in this kind of cooperation. The private sector enjoys economic success — the city reaps the benefits of revitalization and renewal.

A city government can't control economic forces or dictate market conditions. But we can provide a catalyst — maybe some incentives — and a climate encouraging to natural growth and prosperity.

For the waterfront revival — we provided the land, the buildings, and help with the plans. Private industry matched our commitment with their own resources and talent and the results are there for everyone to see.

I hope the city is providing the same kind of catalyst today — by easing communication, by bringing disparate groups and people together, and by demonstrating our collective interest. The rest is up to you. Thanks for coming.

"TEE UP" TIME

The George Wright Golf Course gives the urban golfer all the advantages of a private club at far less expense. Opening date for the 1977 season is April 16.

Commissioner Meade is looking forward to the finest season ever for Boston golfers at the George Wright course. "The clubhouse has been renovated, and the greens and fairways are in excellent shape. The entire course is in great condition!"

V. HIGH COMMENDATIONS

Ladder Company 14 respond to Box 5282 for a fire at 12-14 Portsmouth Street, Brighton at 0400 hours, February 14, 1977. Upon arriving they were notified two people were at a window on the third floor and ready to jump.

Ladder Company 14 immediately raised a ladder to the window. Fire Fighters James W. Ranahan and Leo G. Bowen of Ladder Company 14 quickly climbed the ladder and assisted both persons to safety. They were then told another person was in the building.

Fire Fighter Ranahan entered the window despite the heavy smoke and fire, and without breathing equipment he conducted an exhausting search. He located an unconscious man and managed to carry him to the window where other fire fighters removed him to safety.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Fire Fighter Ranahan for this rescue under such hazardous conditions and which required so much effort he collapsed at the window and was taken to the hospital. His case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

Ladder Company 30 responded to Box 2386 for a fire at 154 Heath Street, Roxbury, on February 17, 1977. Upon arrival heavy smoke was showing from the second floor, and they were informed a child was trapped in the building. Lines operating in the building could not penetrate the room where the child was trapped.

Fire Fighter Paul R. Moore of Ladder Company 30 went over a ladder, entered the building, searched the room on his hands and knees, and finally located the child whom he passed through a window to a fire fighter who removed the child to the street. He returned for further search, and finding no one, he returned to the ladder, and while descending the ladder the room became fully ignited.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Fire Fighter Moore for this rescue which was performed at extreme personal risk, and his case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

VI. COMMENDATION

Fire Fighter James Fossa of Ladder Company 7 is hereby commended for observing a fire on his way to work, for entering the building, and assisting the occupants to the sidewalk before the arrival of apparatus on March 7, 1977. He remained at the scene and assisted in fire fighting operations.

SERVICE PROGRAMS FOR OLDER BOSTONIANS

FACT SHEET ON THE MAYOR'S OLDER BOSTONIANS (MOB) DISCOUNT PROGRAM

What is the MOB Discount Program?

The MOB Discount Program is a comprehensive price reduction system developed by the Commission on Affairs of the Elderly in cooperation with over 400 Boston retail merchants.

Who is eligible for the MOB Discount Program?

Boston residents, age sixty and over, are eligible for the program, and participate in it by joining the "Mayor's Older Bostonians," or MOB.

How is the MOB Discount Program organized?

Elderly persons may join the MOB by obtaining a MOB Id. card at any of the neighborhood Little City Halls, including the Back Bay/Beacon Hill Little City Hall, in Room 243, of the main City Hall. The Id. card must be signed by the person obtaining it.

At the time of applying for an Id. card, proof of age and residency is required. An MBTA card or driver's license is suggested. This program is in effect for elderly Boston residents only.

Upon receipt of an Id. card, the following additional items are presented to the MOB member:

- A telephone sticker with the Elderly Hotline number (722-4646) on it for the convenience of persons who may wish to make use of this service;
- A brochure which reviews the various programs made available to Boston's elderly by the City of Boston;
- A booklet of price discounts available to MOB members (and in some cases to elderly persons generally) through the cooperation of more than 400 retail merchants from throughout the city.

Upon presentation of a MOB card to a participating merchant, an elderly person is eligible for the discount described in the booklet as being available at that particular establishment.

For further information contact Elderly Hotline, 722-4646.

FACT SHEET ON THE TAXI DISCOUNT PROGRAM

What is the Taxi Discount Program?

The Taxi Discount Program is a service provided through an agreement between the City of Boston and the City of Boston Cab Association. It provides a 20 percent discount on the cab fares of program participants.

Who is eligible for the Taxi Discount Program?

Any Boston resident, age sixty-five and over, is eligible for the discount on fares in any Boston cab anywhere in the City of Boston.

How is the Taxi Discount Program organized?

The program is based on the sale of coupon books which contain $5 worth of taxi coupons purchased for $4. The coupon books may be purchased by elderly Boston residents at any of the neighborhood Little City Halls, including the Back Bay/

Beacon Hill Little City Hall, which is located in Room 243 of the main City Hall in Government Center. Coupon books may be purchased by check, cash, or money order.

At the time of purchase at the Little City Hall, proof of age and residency is required. An MBTA card or driver's license is suggested. This program is in effect for Boston residents only, who are age sixty-five or over.

Once the coupons are purchased, they may be used in full payment for cab fares in any Boston cab anywhere in the City of Boston. Within Boston, taxi coupons used by elderly persons are a cash equivalent, and must be honored by all Boston cab companies and drivers.

How is the Taxi Discount Program funded?

This coupon system in no way affects the wages earned by the drivers. Upon receipt by cab drivers, coupons are redeemable at the main offices of the City of Boston Cab Association in Park Square under arrangements made by the Association. The full cost of the program is borne by the City of Boston Cab Association.

FACT SHEET ON HOME CARE FOR THE ELDERLY IN BOSTON

What is Home Care?

Home Care is a term commonly applied to the system of basic supportive services for elderly, functionally disabled persons who, if provided with a range of basic social and medical services, can be maintained in a home environment. Home Care does not propose to replace nursing home or extended care facilities; rather, it seeks to complement these institutions by providing alternative services for those who may not require institutionalization or who may be inappropriately institutionalized. The basic range of Home Care services are:

Older Bostonians . . .

- (1) Case-finding, intake, information, and referral, and follow-up;
- (2) Homemaking, home health aid services;
- (3) Chore, escort, and minor emergency (crisis intervention) services;
- (4) Transportation for medical and non-medical reasons.

Who is eligible for Home Care?

In order to be eligible for services in the Home Care system a person must be age sixty or over, live in Boston, and meet minimal selection criteria, particularly as they relate to the ability of a person to care for himself. Sliding fee scales are established, suited for each client's ability to pay.

How is Home Care organized in Boston?

Home Care services are developed and administered by three non-profit Home Care Corporations, organized under chapter 180 of Massachusetts state law, to serve designated geographic areas of the city. Home Care seeks to have the broad community support of older persons in areas to be served. Each Home Care Corporation is governed by a Board of Directors which decides policy issues, directs the corporation's professional staff, and approves contractual arrangements. The Board of Directors consists of at least twelve members, over half of whom must be sixty years of age or over, representing the broadest spectrum of the area served by the corporation. The remainder of the board consists of professionals and other persons concerned with the needs of the elderly. Each Home Care Corporation also has a professional Advisory Committee to advise the board on program planning and development.

Home Care Corporations do not directly provide service, but rather enter into contractual arrangements with appropriate community provider agencies. The Home Care Corporation monitors and coordinates the provider agency activities as they relate to the implementation of the Home Care Program.

How is Home Care funded?

Each Home Care Corporation receives federal Title III funds appropriated by the Administration on Aging, of the Department of HEW, through the Massachusetts Department of Elder Affairs. In addition, each Home Care Corporation has received cash contributions from the City of Boston. Each Home Care Corporation is also required to raise in-kind funds, this contribution generally taking the form of space and equipment.

These federal, state, and local funds pay for administration, salaries, and overhead for each Home Care Corporation and its professional staff. Funds for services are provided by the Massachusetts Department of Elder Affairs.

Commencing in July of 1975 (FY 1976), all Title III funds for the City of Boston must pass through, and be approved by, the regional Area Agency on Aging, which in Region VI (City of Boston) is the Mayor's Commission on Affairs of the Elderly.

What are the roles of the State and the City in development of Home Care in Boston?

The Massachusetts Department of Elder Affairs has the responsibility for awarding financial grants for the development of Home Care services throughout the state of Massachusetts. The state formulates operational directives to which Home Care Corporations must adhere; reviews all contractual arrangements of the corporations; and provides technical assistance, training, and advocacy support.

In Boston, the state has entered into an agreement with the city government regarding programs affecting the city's elderly. According to this agreement, the City of Boston's Commission on Affairs of the Elderly has the principal responsibility for the planning, coordination, and development of programs affecting the elderly of the City of Boston. The state has agreed to sponsor and fund programs in Boston only with the Commission's approval. All proposals for Home Care and other services for the elderly in Boston must, therefore, first pass the Commission's review. In order to better carry out its responsibilities, the Commission has established an "Advisory Committee of the Elderly" for the purpose of advising the Commission on elderly programs, particularly Home Care programs. In the City of Boston, therefore, the successful planning and implementation of Home Care services has been the result of the mutual cooperation of the Department of Elder Affairs, the Mayor's Commission on Affairs of the Elderly, and the Advisory Committee of the Elderly.

CITY ANNOUNCES ART OF SHARING PROGRAM

Dick Hogan, director of Mayor White's Neighborhood Business District Program, announced the beginning of an innovative effort of neighborhood residents, city officials, business people, and local artists to beautify neighborhood business districts throughout the city.

Called the "Art of Sharing Program," the new venture will provide work for local artists, who will in turn design storefront murals, new and simplified signage, dramatic banners, colored awnings, sculptured store symbols, and newly painted trash receptacles for neighborhood shopping areas.

"We are very excited about this opportunity to celebrate the neighborhood business districts as symbols of vitality for the surrounding residential areas," Dick Hogan said. "We hope to give each a visual identity of its own that will reflect the neighborhood's special characteristics to turn each into a center of neighborhood activity."

Vice-Mayor Edward T. Sullivan, who has been working closely with neighborhood business organizations, praised the new venture. "In a time of economic austerity, programs like this not only brighten and clean up our neighborhood business areas, but reinforce the positive result of cooperation between residents, city officials, and local merchants," Mr. Sullivan said.

The Neighborhood Business District Program is an eighteen-month-old program developed by Mayor White to stabilize and revitalize commercial districts throughout Boston. A business specialist has been assigned to each neighborhood to assist local merchants in developing and strengthening their business districts through a variety of city-sponsored, improvement programs. City officials at all levels have been meeting with local boards of trade to determine what support services are required to increase the volume of business activity in each area.

Mark Faverman, visual design consultant to the program, is coordinating the various art and business projects. He has met on numerous occasions with neighborhood business people, civic groups, artists, and others to build support for the Art of Sharing Program.

In the North End, a competition for thirteen storefront murals on Salem Street is taking place. Neighborhood artists are submitting mural proposals which will be displayed in store windows and voted on by local residents. Winning murals will be painted on the storefront gratings in May.

In South Boston, local artists are undertaking a "Pride Can" project — painting some thirty new trash containers which will be located in front of stores on West Broadway and Dorchester Avenue.

Banners and sculptured signs are being designed for Kenmore Square as part of a total effort to upgrade the appearance of this heavily congested, downtown, shopping area.

Funding for these projects comes primarily from Community Development Revenue Sharing monies, with additional contributions from local boards of trade such as the Salem Street Merchants Association and the South Boston Businessmen's Association and from civic groups like the North End Waterfront Arts Council.

A matching formula has been worked out for each project and the city's share ranges from 20 to 75 percent of the total.

Outside corporations have begun to show interest in the program and this trend is being encouraged. The New England regional office of Rust-oleum Paint Company has donated the paint for the storefront mural project.

BUILDING DEMOLITION PART OF CITY'S CLEAN-UP EFFORT

As part of Boston's massive clean-up campaign, "Scrub the Hub," Mayor Kevin White ordered the city's Building Department to bring down a burned-out and abandoned storefront in Brighton Center.

Mayor White, on a walking tour of the Brighton commercial district during demolition activities, told merchants and residents alike that the city is committed to help citizens clean and improve the appearance of the city's neighborhoods.

The seven-week, city-wide, clean-up campaign was launched by Mayor White the first weekend in April in Boston Common. The cleanup is under way in Allston-Brighton, Charlestown, and East Boston and will continue with one week spent in each neighborhood area until May 15.

The building, located at the corner of Washington Street and Academy Hill Road in Brighton, was burned in a three-alarm fire six months ago. City efforts requiring the property owner to secure the building against vandals have been unsuccessful.

"I am pleased to respond to Brighton merchants' requests to raze this abandoned and potentially hazardous building," Mayor White said. "Brighton Center is a healthy financial district, with thriving stores and a well-organized merchant group. This building, condemned, and in city tax lien for many months, is an eyesore and a fire hazard in the community," the Mayor said.

"During the seven-week, clean-up effort the city is depending on the close cooperation of residents to help by improving privately owned vacant lots, yards, and building grounds and exteriors.

"If everyone does his share, then the concentrated cleaning efforts being carried out by the city's maintenance crews over this seven-week period will get Boston back in shape after the unusually harsh winter, and our regularly scheduled, cleaning efforts can be conducted successfully throughout the summer," the Mayor said.

Clean-up activities during Scrub the Hub in the neighborhood and downtown areas will focus on street cleaning, painting of highway lines, hydrants, and trash receptacles, and replacement of traffic and street signs. In addition, the city will be removing abandoned autos and filling potholes across the city.

NEW GUIDELINES FOR EMPLOYEES

The city's Personnel Board today outlined a series of employee procedures to improve work performance and supervision, crack down on absenteeism, and halt work irregularities.

The board, with this action, creates, for the first time, one centralized management monitoring system for all municipal employees.

Jack Murphy, deputy director of the city's Personnel Department, said the core of the new guidelines is the establishment of a monitoring system by department heads to enforce predetermined working hours for all city employees.

The employee guidelines ordered by the Board, and effective immediately, include the following directives:

— Department heads will be held responsible for developing a policy, to be filed with the Personnel Board, explaining employee work schedules and methods for monitoring attendance and performance of all personnel;

— Department heads or principal officers must approve in advance any deviations by employees from preestablished work schedules;

— Department heads are required to establish a consistent sign-in and sign-out procedure for personnel who are on non-office assignments;

"Unless explained and approved in writing by a department head, employees are expected to work eight hours each day from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M.," Mr. Murphy said. "Certainly a department head can approve employees working different hours, since many municipal employees are assigned different working shifts such as Police, Fire, and Hospital personnel who work staggered hours or are on special assignments.

"This is not meant to be a punitive system," Mr. Murphy said, "but is a management system designed to find and weed out those employees who are not productive and who are abusing their jobs, whether through bad attendance or poor performance.

"As a group, municipal employees are dedicated and hard-working and it is unfortunate that a small number of employees can impair the reputation of the rest."

Deputy Director Murphy said that in addition to new procedures designed by individual department heads to increase supervision of employees the city's Personnel Board has launched a permanent employee evaluation system to increase accountability in evaluating, promoting, and hiring city employees.

Under way for all appointed employees, since April 1, the new system requires department heads to evaluate each employee on a six-months basis based on a detailed evaluation form provided by the Personnel Board.

The form, drawn up with the assistance of the city's Office of Management and Budget, is designed to measure job performance, including attendance, work quality, attitude, and to be used to provide information for decisions regarding transfers, raises, and dismissals.

"The most important feature of the evaluation system is that it provides a structured opportunity for managers and their employees to discuss job performance, salary justification, and any grievances that may exist. It provides an excellent mechanism for managers to reward employees who are doing outstanding jobs and of holding unproductive employees accountable," Mr. Murphy said.

The first phase of departmental evaluations will be returned to the Personnel Board by May 1, 1977.

The city's eight-member Personnel Board was created by Mayor White in October, 1976, to design a fair and uniform personnel policy for all city employees. In addition to employee evaluation, the board is in the process of developing a job bank for use in hiring new employees; structuring a recruitment and training program; and publishing a handbook on employee benefits.

The board is also responsible for filling vacancies and expired terms on city boards and commissions.

HEAR YE: HEAR YE: THE TOWN CRIER

Three centuries ago in England, the town crier was a familiar sight along the streets of London and other English towns. His traditional attire included dark blue coat and cape with scarlet bands, plush knickers, three-cornered hat, silk stockings, buckled shoes, and his hand bell and lantern. His cry of "Hear ye! Hear ye!" echoed through the evening, bringing news and assurance to the people.

Originally, the town crier was a watchman. During the disorderly times of Henry VII, the first London watch was appointed to warn the townsmen when robbers were about the streets. But because the criers often joined in the plundering, instead of helping to bring the thieves to justice, they soon became a source of danger rather than protection.

During the reign of Queen Elizabeth the watch was resumed and became truly effective. There was no regular lighting on the streets of London, and the town criers with their lanterns became an improvised street-lighting system. The law required anyone on the streets after nine o'clock to carry a lantern so the watchmen could identify him; this also made him plainly visible to robbers, however.

In 1776, a plan was adopted that required each householder to hang out a lantern on "dark nights" — nights when the moon was receding from the full. At twilight, the crier would make his rounds and call out, "Lantern and a whole candlelight! Bring out your lights! Hear!"

When the clock struck ten, the crier would shout "Past ten o'clock" — and add his views on the weather. Soon he began to announce other news . . . the coming of the stage coach, events of the court sessions, and news of battles on the continent. Before long, announcements of traveling players — in a sense, advertising — was added to the nightly repertoire of the town crier.

For most of the townspeople, the crier's greetings were the only source of current news. Thus, becoming much more than a watchman, he was a policeman, reporter, street lighter, advertising medium, and time piece. But the town crier soon faded from London's streets and from other towns of the old world and the new world — replaced by man's ingenuity and modern methods of communication.

ROBERT J. VEY

Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White

It was inevitable that a person such as Bob Vey, who had accomplished so much in the public sector, would be taken away by the private sector.

In a way it is ironic that because of our inability to compete with the private sector, we are always in danger of losing executives who grow to be our most valuable.

I am grateful that for nine years I had in Bob Vey a man of the utmost loyalty and competence.

I hope to draw on his experience and counsel when he is no longer on the staff.

Our loss is the private sector's gain.

"ART CART" RILEY AWARD

During the 1977 summer, one central Boston community will receive an $8,500 award from the ICA for visually improving a neglected space. The "Art Cart/Riley Award" will involve artists, residents, and urban planners in a cooperative work experience guided by the needs of specific neighborhoods. The institute will provide technical assistance during the proposal-making and construction process through its public education facility, Station 16.

Issues related to urban ecology will be investigated by visual artists, urban planners, and architects as field consultants.

Mark Lassiter, coordinator of public education at the institute is program coordinator. He contends, "artists must synthesize the raw data of their life experience into personal statements of clarity and honesty. This approach when applied to an environment will encourage freedom from conformity."

Project consultants will solicit neighborhood opinion and facilitate the organization of proposals in six target communities. Proposed target communities for 1977 are: East Boston, Roxbury, Chinatown, Mission Hill, Dorchester, and Fenway.

Between May 24 and June 25, consultants will visit sites and compile data with the assistance of neighborhood representatives. The proposal submission deadline is July 1.

Beginning on April 16, the ICA will review applications composed by residents through its arts clearinghouse, Station 16. A resource committee, composed of local business persons having a demonstrated interest in neighborhood redevelopment and/or the arts, will be available for consultation. Additionally, these persons will provide supplementary material assistance to applications based on particular interest and need.

Construction dates for the selected project are tentatively set for July 18 through August 25.

Funds for constructing one "urban art work" are provided by the Riley Charitable Trust. Additional support is provided by the National Endowment for the Arts.

Potential sponsors of projects and curious neighborhood representatives are advised to contact the Institute of Contemporary Art. Guidelines and application blanks for the project will be available after April 18, at Station 16, 955 Boylston Street. For information by phone, call Mark Lassiter or Elizabeth Menk at 266-5153.

INSPECTION TIME AGAIN

Owners and operators of Massachusetts-registered, motor vehicles and trailers are reminded that the compulsory spring inspection has begun. They are advised to have all necessary repairs made prior to presenting the vehicle for inspection so that it will pass the first time and not be marked with a rejection sticker.

Before going for the inspection, check the registration number on your certificate with your plates to see if they are the same. If they do not match, go to a Registry Office to have this corrected. The vehicle identification number on the certificate must agree with the one on the vehicle. If they do not match, go to your insurance agency for this correction. This information must be accurate or the inspection will not be performed.

The inspection includes: brakes, lights, horn, exhaust system, steering gear, windshield, windshield wipers, number plates, rear window, tires, fenders, bumpers, external sheet metal, reflectors, splash guards, chock blocks, and pollution-control systems.

The inspection period will end on May 15, 1977, and the vehicle can not be operated after this date without the green inspection sticker on the windshield.

The fee for a motor vehicle inspection is $2. The fee for the trailer is 50 cents.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM EXTENDED HOURS

Beginning April 30, the Visitor Center extends its weekend visiting hours from 10 A.M. to 7 P.M. These special Saturday and Sunday hours will be in effect through June 19.

In addition, during the month of May, the Visitor Center will feature the best-loved activities in individual exhibit spaces each weekday afternoon. A complete list of activities will be available in the upcoming spring-summer issue of Museum News. Watch for it!

IV. FIRE ALARM BOX DISCONTINUED

V. HIGH COMMENDATIONS

Ladder Company 7 responded to Box 3164 for a fire at 82 Leonard Street, Dorchester, on March 7, 1977. On arrival heavy fire and smoke were issuing from the third floor.

Fire Lieut. James J. Ochs of Headquarters, detailed to Ladder 7, was informed a person was still in an apartment on the third floor. He immediately went to the third floor via the rear stairway, without a gasmask, crawled through the kitchen, the hallway, and into a bedroom where he found the victim lying inside the door. He dragged him out to the front hall where other members lifted the victim on to his back. He then carried him down the stairs to safety.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Lieut. Ochs for this rescue which was made during a fast-spreading fire and undoubtedly saved the man's life. His case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

District 6 arrived at Box 7217 on February 28, 1977, to find the first and second floors of a three-family, duplex house at 157-59 West Sixth Street, South Boston, fully involved in fire. They were informed a woman and child were trapped on the second floor.

Fire Fighter Peter F. Nee of Ladder 20 (detailed to District 6) immediately entered the building to look for them. He found the woman screaming and disoriented from the heat and smoke. As he was about to remove her to safety she told him where the child was. Taking the woman with him to prevent losing her, he found the child and attempted to evacuate via the rear fire escape but it was blocked by fire. He retraced his way back through the intense heat and smoke and brought them to safety.

This rescue was performed under extremely hazardous conditions and without the aid of breathing apparatus, and before the arrival of apparatus.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Fire Fighter Nee for this rescue which saved the mother and child. His swift and efficient performance reflected great credit on the department. His case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

VI. LETTER OF THANKS

"DEAR COMMISSIONER:

I would like to convey my gratitude to all men, police as well as firemen, who responded to the fire at 3 Cypress Road in Brighton, early Tuesday, March 22. Please thank all involved in safely transporting my son Bill and his wife Jean to the hospital.

I understand Fire Fighter Foley from Engine 34 gave Bill mouth-to-mouth resuscitation at the scene, and himself was hospitalized. Both Jean and Bill are still in serious condition; he is in the ICU being treated for severe smoke inhalation, and heavily sedated, so that he isn't even aware that I am here.

Depending on what develops in the next day or two, I may go home and return later. Therefore, I am writing this inadequate note now, so I won't neglect it in what may be a hectic week ahead.

May I ask you to please convey my heartfelt thanks to all whow were involved, in whatever capacity.

VIRGINIA H. TINTERA, 54 STONECREST ROAD,
RIDGEFIELD, CT. 06877."

FACT SHEET ON THE NUTRITION PROGRAM

What is the Nutrition Program?

The Nutrition Program is a hot meals project for people age sixty and over, living in the City of Boston, and in need of such services.

Who is eligible for the Nutrition Program?

In order to qualify for meals under this program an individual must be:

- sixty years of age or older; or
- unable to afford to eat adequately; or
- lacking in the skill or knowledge to prepare nourishing and well-balanced meals; or
- limited in mobility which may impair ability to shop and cook; or
- suffering from feelings of rejection and loneliness which obliterate the incentives necessary to prepare and eat a meal alone.

How is the Nutrition Program organized?

For the purpose of this program, the City of Boston has been divided by the Commission on Affairs of the Elderly into three major areas served by community social service agencies. These agencies receive federal grants through the Massachusetts Department of Elder Affairs to organize and operate the meals program in their section of the city. Each nutrition project has an Elderly Advisory Council. Approximately 1,300 elder persons participate in this program daily.

How is the Nutrition Program funded?

The Nutrition Program is federally funded under Title VII of the Older Americans Act, as amended in 1973. There is a suggested donation of 50 cents for meals. A small number of home-delivered meals are also a feature of the program.

RELOCATION OF POLICE UNITS

Boston police announced recently that the 120 members of the Tactical Patrol Force and the Mobile Operations Patrol will be transferred from the Fargo Building in South Boston to old District 1 Police Station in the North End. The department will save more than $46,000 in the relocation of the two units. Since the Traffic Division had been disbanded two months ago in an effort to bolster street patrols, two floors of the North Street Station have been left vacant.

Fifteen Greater Boston business firms are among early donors to the Giant Garage Sale at Boston's Museum of Science, April 30 and May 1.

Prospective donors are invited to call the Service League at 723-2500, extension 258.

JAMAICA PLAIN, ROSLINDALE CLEANUP

A week-long spring clean-up effort to repair hundreds of potholes; sweep miles of residential streets; and clean alleyways, vacant lots, parks, and playgrounds in Jamaica Plain and Roslindale, begins Monday, April 25, Mayor White announced today.

Clean-up activities will get under way with extensive street-cleaning operations, pothole repairs, removal of abandoned autos, and efforts to clean and remove debris from catch basins, parks, playgrounds, and vacant lots.

From Monday through Friday maintenance crews from four municipal departments — Public Works, Parks and Recreation, Traffic and Parking, and Real Property — will concentrate their efforts across both districts.

To aid the neighborhood in its cleanup, the city will provide dumpster boxes over the weekend of April 23-24, at locations designated by both Little City Halls.

Residents are asked to cooperate by not putting out excessive amounts of cellar or attic cleanouts on a single rubbish collection day. Dumpsters should be used over the weekend by residents who have heavier construction materials to get rid of.

Areas scheduled for street cleaning will be posted in advance with "warning" parking tickets urging car owners to move their vehicles. Police will also use a public address system in advance of street-cleaning vehicles to urge residents to move their cars.

Streets will be cleaned according to posted street-cleaning signs or on the day after rubbish collection. The even-numbered side of the street will be cleaned from 8 A.M. to 12 noon, and the odd-numbered side from noon to 4 P.M.

Extra meter maids and tow trucks will be on duty through the week to tag and tow vehicles which hinder the cleanup. In addition, the city's Building Department will step up boarding and demolition activities where necessary.

DRIVE POLITELY — MAKE WAVES

That's the slogan of a public service campaign conceived by the graduate students at Boston University School of Public Communications and launched in December, 1975.

Various civic, business, and professional organizations cooperated in the campaign, including AAA.

Maybe it's our imagination, but we think motorists are becoming more courteous. Now the B.U. students have come up with a new direction for their campaign. They are conducting a survey of the traffic problems of Boston and interviewing people as to what causes the problems and how they may be minimized or solved.

We wish them well in this worthwhile campaign.

DON'T GET BOOTED!

As part of a stepped-up effort to crack down on scofflaws and collect some $30 million in unpaid parking fines, city officials today announced that a pilot "booting" program is soon to begin in Boston.

The boot, sometimes called an "automobile immobilizer," is a device weighing about twenty pounds that can be clamped and locked on the front wheel of any car in less than two minutes.

Once the boot is locked on, the car cannot be driven away. It is effectively impounded pending full payment of outstanding parking fines.

"We are bringing the boot to Boston not only to crack down on scofflaws and collect revenues owed us, but also to cut down on what is currently rampant and flagrant abuse of parking regulations," Mayor White said.

"Illegal parking in Boston literally chokes transportation routes. It impedes efficient delivery of police and fire services and adds hours and costs to anything transported or delivered by truck. We are intent on controlling illegal parking by residents and commuters alike, and they will learn that we mean business," the Mayor concluded.

"If we could abolish illegal parking in Boston tomorrow, the efficiency of traffic flow would increase by 40 percent," said Emily Lloyd, the Mayor's transportation advisor, in a Back Bay press conference. "We think that's reason enough to crack down on parking violators.

"Among the most flagrant abusers of parking regulations are owners of vehicles with out-of-state registrations," Miss Lloyd said. "More than 20,000 of them have already been identified as eligible to be booted."

Miss Lloyd explained that the city will implement the pilot booting program with fifty boots, costing about $300 each.

A vehicle has to be charged with five or more unpaid parking tickets before it can be legally immobilized. A computer listing of vehicles eligible for booting has already been prepared. It gives the vehicle's license number, description, and most frequently tagged location.

"The boot has been used in Washington, D.C. since 1971, and with fantastic results," Miss Lloyd added. "The average booting yields $235, meaning that each boot pays for itself in just two applications."

The city estimates that its investment of $15,000 in fifty boots will yield $5 million in unpaid parking fines in the first year.

Once booted, a car is not ticketed further. Neatly printed instructions warn the driver not to attempt to move the car and inform him that all parking tickets must be paid before the car is "debooted."

The car will be left stationary for two days only. If fines remain unpaid after two days, the car will be towed and the driver required to pay an additional $12 towing charge and a daily storage charge of $3. Washington, D.C. authorities, however, have found that 80 percent of all booted cars pay up within two days.

In an effort to crack down still further on parking scofflaws and to underscore the seriousness of parking offenses, the city has filed legislation seeking to:

- increase the maximum parking fine from $15 to $50;
- increase the towing charge from $12 to $50 and the daily storage charge from $3 to $50;
- add a penalty equal to the original parking fine if the ticket is not paid within twenty-one days;
- prohibit automobile registration if motorist has failed to pay parking fines.

MAYOR FIGHTS TO ASSIST UNIONS INVOLVED IN HUD PROJECT

Mayor Kevin White charged recently that the Department of Housing and Urban Development is "undermining negotiations" to initiate a $40-million, housing rehabilitation program in Boston by making a special deal with the plumbers and electricians unions.

In order for Boston to get the federal funds, HUD initially said that seven construction unions must agree to work for 85 percent of the prevailing wage if some 1,150 vacant apartment units are to be rehabilitated.

The city and five of the seven trade unions endorsed the plan, but after three months of intensive negotiations the electricians and plumbers refused to accept the conditions of the grant.

On the evening of April 12, however, HUD officials met with leaders of the two unions and agreed they could work for 100 percent pay, the Mayor said.

"This move to reach a special agreement with the two uncooperative unions is totally irresponsible on the part of HUD officials," Mayor White said. "I will use all the powers I have to get equal treatment for the other five unions. If it is 100 percent pay for the electricians and plumbers, then it will be 100 percent pay for the plasterers, bricklayers, laborers, carpenters, and painters, as well."

"With some 500 new construction jobs at stake and the chance to provide badly needed housing and return vacant apartment houses to the tax rolls, we're happy to have HUD's money. But the methods they have used have caused total disharmony and I will not permit those private agreements to stand," the Mayor concluded.
